

LEGION WILL VISIT SICK IN HOSPITALS

Yeomenette Post Headed by Margaret Thomas Adopts Belgian Orphan

CARE FOR CHILD A YEAR

Dr. William E. Raken, chairman of the committee on disabled soldiers and medical aid of the American Legion, announced today that he will co-operate with the Americanism commission in organizing local committees to visit legionnaires in hospitals and care for them after their discharge from these institutions.

Official announcement on the part of the Americanism commission of the American Legion that it is instituting a nation-wide movement to care for the 17,000 service men in hospitals was made from national headquarters.

Immediately Doctor Raken arranged to take up with Dr. Fairfax Irwin, director of the public health service in this district, the question of location of hospitals in and about Philadelphia so that committees might be organized to visit disabled comrades.

Many of the posts in the city already have formed visiting committees, whose duty it is to call on disabled comrades who are in hospitals.

Post 7, at its meeting July 22, unanimously voted to furnish a set of prizes to be given at the American Legion field day events, September 18.

William J. Lupton, commander of the George A. Turner Post 146, will represent the post at the field day at Franklin Field as a bugler. He was at one time the chief bugler in the navy and was sergeant bugler of the 315th Infantry during the war.

A Belgian orphan has been adopted by the Yeomen (F) Post 50, of which Margaret C. Thomas is commander. This post will take from its treasury enough money to provide for a Belgian child for a year and has set an example for the other posts throughout the country.

The Philadelphia county committee will hold its regular monthly meeting in the Chamber of Commerce assembly room, Broad and Juniper streets, at 8 o'clock tonight, at which time important business will be transacted.

SCOFF AT PAPER SUITS

Clothing Dealers Do Not Fear Invasion of British Fad

Clothing dealers in this city characterized as fantastic, uneconomical and impractical the proposition of importing paper suits for men to fight the high cost of living.

These suits are being worn in England, it is reported, and are sold, according to dealers there, at from forty-six cents to $1.95 a suit. They are imported from Germany and, taking advantage of the present rate of exchange, it is said to be possible to buy them at ridiculously low figures. At the very best they would only be good for summer, clothing men here say. While they are made of a tough fiber paper, at the first appearance of damp weather their life would be very short, it is declared. They were used as a war measure in Germany, because no other goods were available and dealers predict that their use here would be extremely unlikely.

MASONS TO CELEBRATE

Supper and Entertainment Tonight at North Broad Street Home

Guests of the Masonic Home of Pennsylvania, 3333 North Broad street, will hold their annual celebration this evening in honor of the first two presidents of the institution, the late General Louis Wagner and George W. Kendrick, Jr.

Mayor Moore and other city and county officials, including Receiver of Taxes W. Freeland Kendrick, president of the home, will make brief addresses at a supper scheduled to begin at 6 o'clock.

The Lu Lu Temple Band will give a concert on the lawn in front of the home from 7:30 o'clock until 11 o'clock. Seats will be provided for the public. Children from the Elkins Masonic Orphanage will be special guests.

NEGROES MAY RE-ENLIST

Negroes who served in the army during the war now have an opportunity to re-enlist. A telegram has just been received from the War Department, according to officials of the army recruiting office at 101 South Sixth street, authorizing recruiting officers to enroll men with "excellent" or "very good" character on their discharges. These men may apply at any army recruiting station for re-enlistment. They will be assigned to the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Infantry Regiments, now stationed in the South. This is the first time there have been vacancies in these regiments.
