

COBBS CREEK PARK OPPOSES TROLLEY

Members of Association Visit Mayor and Protest Against Line on Boulevard

ORDINANCE WAS PASSED

Members of the Cobbs Creek Park Home Association today protested to Mayor Moore against the proposed trolley line on Cobbs Creek boulevard.

An ordinance permitting the Rapid Transit Co. to lay tracks on the boulevard was passed by Council July 27. It has not been signed by the Mayor.

The delegation of residents was headed by George F. Seiffert, president of the association. He laid the protest before the Mayor, and was seconded by Councilmen Bevelin and Burch, the only

Council members who voted against the ordinance. A petition of protest signed by residents of the section gave four reasons why a trolley line on the boulevard was undesirable. The petition claimed the line would needlessly curtail a splendid highway, would interfere with the heavy vehicular traffic there and would cause depreciation of realty values. It was also argued that residents of that section have ample transportation facilities now. In conclusion the petition stated: "We do not oppose this plan through mere caprice or through any desire to hinder the development of the transportation system, but solely because we earnestly believe that great harm will be done to West Philadelphia, the greatest home section in the world."

BANKROLL RESCUED

A bankroll containing $250 was rescued from the Delaware river last night after its owner and another man, whose names are unknown, had leaped from a burning motorboat anchored off Wolf street. After the men jumped overboard one discovered his money was missing. He saw the roll bobbing in the water and grabbed it. The motorboat, owned by Otto Myers, 47 Emly street, valued at $700, was destroyed.

FRENCH PLAN OF 'SKINNING' HIT BY BEAUTY SPECIALISTS

Dermatologists Say Such Operations Are Only Temporary. "Victim" Must Never Laugh or Cry

Beauty specialists here are against the French plan of "skinning" women whose faces are full of wrinkles and restoring their beauty.

Admitting that "beauty is only skin deep," beauty doctors say the any relief caused by removing surplus skin is merely temporary.

"Naturally when the skin is drawn tightly over the face and the surplus skin cut off, the face regains its youthful smoothness and possibly beauty," said one dermatologist, on Chestnut street.

"But, the 'victim' of such an operation must relinquish all thoughts of being natural, or revert to a type worse than before the operation.

"Smiles must be abolished, as must all tears and crying, or the wrinkles reappear worse than ever."

Illusioned victim after a few smiles or cries.

The comment of the specialists here was provoked by a dispatch from Paris telling how a forty-nine-year-old woman there had regained her twenty-five-year-old beauty by such an operation.

Tiny sutures were cut behind each ear and in her scalp, the skin drawn tight over her face and the surplus epidermis cut off. The operation was successful.

The only scars left by the operation are in such positions that they are easily concealed by the hair.

Put Out Fire in Auto Fuel Station Fire, threatened an automobile fuel station at 1519 North Twenty-sixth street today, but quick work by volunteer firemen saved the gasoline and oil stored there. The damage was slight. Albert Berger is proprietor of the place.

HIGHER FARE ASKED BY SUBURBAN LINES

Rates on Allentown Route and on Philadelphia and Western May Be Raised

A general increase in fares all along their lines is asked by the Philadelphia and Western Railway Co. and the Lehigh Valley Transit Co. in a joint passenger tariff filed with the Public Service Commission yesterday.

The rates are to become effective August 20. In the tariff one-way and special car rates are named in both directions between Sixty-ninth street station in the city on the Philadelphia and Western Railway by way of Norristown and stations on the Philadelphia division of the Lehigh Valley Transit Co.

A general advance of four cents per passenger is asked for all points between Sixty-ninth street and Allentown for a one-way passenger making a single trip. Thus a passenger to Allentown will pay $1.04 instead of $1.02. Riders to Hatfield will be taxed 88 cents instead of 82 cents. Lansdale passengers will have to pay 70 cents against the 70 they now pay. Trips to Perkasie, Quakertown, Sellersville, Souderton and Telford, which formerly cost $1.05, $1.22, $1.02, 91 cents and 94 cents, respectively, will in future cost $1.00, $1.20, $1.00, 95 cents and 98 cents.

There is also a considerable jump in the price of chartering a special car. A one-way tariff for a special car to Allentown, for instance, which now costs $116.64 will shortly cost $110.52, while a round trip will jump from $174.96 to $170.24. A similar increase of $4.32 will be added to the fares from all other stations.

Travelers on the Philadelphia and Western lines to Bryn Mawr, Villanova and Norristown will also find pocketbooks hit by the new tariffs. Increases are being asked for one-way, ten, forty-six and sixty trip tickets as well as fifty-trip yearly tickets.

Single trips to Bryn Mawr, Villanova and Norristown, which now cost fifteen, nineteen and thirty-seven cents, respectively, will, under the new tariff, cost seventeen, twenty-one and forty-one cents. Ten-trip tickets between these points will go up. The new fare to Bryn Mawr will be $1.18 instead of $1.05, Villanova $1.55 over $1.40, and Norristown $2.38 instead of $2.70. There will be similar increases on other forms of tickets. Thus a forty-six trip ticket to Bryn Mawr will soon cost $2.58 instead of $2.30, a sixty-trip ticket to the same point $5.20 instead of $5, while a fifty-trip yearly ticket to this destination will be $3.30 instead of $3.

Think Man Wood Alcohol Victim Joseph Gripp, thirty-eight years old, who is believed to be a longshoreman and whose address is not known to the police, was found unconscious today on Second and Catharine streets. Pennsylvania Hospital physicians believe he is suffering from wool alcohol poisoning.

Seen in the Chestnut St. Shops

The fame of Chestnut Street and its wonderful shops has traveled far, and one of the more recent signs of its progress is the opening of a number of fine second-floor shops, which carry merchandise of a very high quality. Most of these shops are conveniently located in the very center of the shopping district, so it is possible to do one's shopping in a very short space of time if one includes the second-floor shops in one's program.

HAVE you ever shopped with the aid of a catalogue? It is a fascinating pastime and one that is much in favor at our summer resorts. Some ladies of my acquaintance are anticipating their fall purchases with the aid of one of Bailey, Banks & Biddle Company's Gift Books. One who is a firm believer in the adage that procrastination is the thief of time, has chosen her Christmas gifts from the catalogue during her sojourn in the mountains. It is a most interesting little volume, its pages being devoted to illustrations and descriptions of jewelry, silver, crystal, china, clocks, leather goods and all the lovely and unusual things to be found at Bailey, Banks & Biddle Company will send the Gift Book to your summer address upon request.

MANY people are taking advantage of the week-end shipments of fruit which Henry E. Hallowell & Son, Broad Street below Chestnut, are sending to summer resorts, for once one has tasted fruits of such superb quality as these he will be satisfied with nothing else. It is such a delight to receive one of these baskets, brimming full of luscious fruits. Among the fruits which you may order now are large, delicious Georgia Elberta Peaches, big, juicy Bartlett Pears; Cantaloupes from northern California; luscious Honey Dew Melons, Hot-house Grapes, Alligator Pears from Florida and large, red Wickson Plums. Hallowell's guarantee perfect delivery of their fruits to any point within 1000 miles of Philadelphia, and delivery is made very quickly.

SOME of us groan when the cook departs or declares that she does not intend to accompany us to our summer home, but the more resourceful of us invest in electrical appliances and bid her farewell with a smile. Among the most useful electrical devices are the table toasters upon which you can cook several things at the same time. For breakfast you may have soft-boiled eggs and toast or bacon and eggs and toast; for dinner, asparagus on toast or beefsteak, toast and fried potatoes. An electric waffle iron is another useful utensil, for it insures crisp, hot waffles, and you must have an electric percolator if you want coffee that is exactly right. You will find these utensils at the store of J. Franklin Miller, 1612 Chestnut Street.

Mawson & DeMany 1215 Chestnut Street Annual Fur Sale

Reliable Furs for the 1920-1921 Season at Unexpected Savings of 20 to 45 Per Cent!

The frenzied buying among nearly all classes of merchants during the Wholesale Fur Auction Sales last Spring sent prices skyrocketing at the time. Everybody knows this, and everybody predicted simply terrifically high prices for the Fur Buyer this Fall.

But we held off! We would not buy! All our experiences, even in the face of such phenomenally unusual conditions, told us that Skin-buying like this was Speculation rather than Investment. But the drop came—came swiftly and suddenly, as such things do—and then we bought, bought heavily and wisely.

Briefly, then, we manufactured these Big-Value Skins, and now can display the magnificent Fur stocks that are here for you—with the middleman's profit eliminated—and showing Savings of 20 to 45 per cent.
