

LEGION PLANNING HEROES' FUNERALS

Philadelphia County Committee Wants Details From Army and Navy Provided

National headquarters of the American Legion will be requested to take up with the war and navy departments at Washington the question of furnishing funeral details so that military honors may be provided for the hero dead whose bodies will be returned from France for interment in Philadelphia.

This action was embodied in a resolution adopted by unanimous vote last night at the meeting of the county committee of the Legion, in the Chamber of Commerce assembly room, Widener Building. It was presented by Joseph S. Breen, chairman of a special committee to arrange for military funerals for world war veterans.

Chairman Breen explained that it has been impossible to obtain necessary funeral details from the Frankford Arsenal or the Navy Yard.

"This matter is one of the utmost urgency," he explained, "since in the fall there may be as many as twenty funerals in a single day in this city. The nearest military post is Camp Dix, and the war department ought to be implored to provide proper details so that the dead veterans may receive the honor due them."

That interment contests will be assured at the Legion field day on Franklin Field, September 18, was the report of Edward E. Koellstedt, State Executive Post No. 142, to the county committee. He stated that entrance blanks had been forwarded to Boston, Buffalo, New York, Trenton, Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Washington. There will be twenty-three contests on the program.

Dr. William E. Raken, commander of Toga Post No. 319, has arranged with the Public Health Service to obtain the names and locations of disabled service men in local hospitals, so that they may be visited by comrades in the vicinity. At the next county meeting he will present a list of the veterans here, and will urge posts to send visiting committees to call on them and aid in making their hospital stay as pleasant as possible.

SUNDAY BASEBALL QUESTION STIRS UP NATIONAL PARK

Pros Have 600 at Meeting, While 30 Is the Best Antis Can Do. Legal Action Expected Within Week

National Park, N. J., is all excited again! This time it is Sunday baseball which is agitating the minds of the townspeople. Last night the Pros and the Antis lined up in separate meetings.

The Pros held their meeting in the town dance hall, where the police force of National Park was holding a dance to raise funds; the Antis held theirs in the Methodist Episcopal church.

The Pros had an attendance of 600. The Antis had thirty men and women in attendance.

The Pros had three members of council; so did the Antis, but the Sunday baseball enthusiasts got the edge by the attendance of Mayor Edgar Waters.

The Pros listened to speeches and let it go at that; the Antis got busy, appointed a committee, and agreed to take legal action within the week.

All was peace and music at the dance hall meeting, but the Antis threw three people out for not agreeing with their ideas.

No decision was rendered, but, to an outsider, it looked like a draw.

The meeting of those in favor of Sunday baseball was presided over by Borough Marshal Harry Weldon. Speeches were made by Mayor Waters and by Councilmen Jackson and Diets.

All three officials declared that they would support Sunday ball provided it was the desire of the majority of the inhabitants of National Park.

The meeting of the Antis resulted from a game of ball played last Sunday—the first since Council passed in favor of Sunday ball last June—and was presided over by the Rev. Charles P. Southwick, pastor of the church. Councilmen Allen, Ulrich and May attended. They were all absent when the Council passed the Sunday baseball legislation act, but they all declared themselves as opposed to playing the game on the Sabbath.

After several speeches, the Rev. Southwick called the roll of those in attendance on the question of their opinions. All except three signified that they were all absent when the Council passed the Sunday baseball legislation act, but they all declared themselves as opposed to playing the game on the Sabbath.

The next order of procedure was the raising of $100 to conduct a campaign, the appointment of a committee con-

The bids follow: Bath Iron Works, Bath, Me., $6,950,000; Todd Dry Dock and Construction Corporation, Tacoma, Wash., $3,935,000; Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation, Alexandria, Va., $2,403,000; Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, Quincy, Mass., at $3,875,000; Union Construction Co., Oakland, Calif., $4,901,000; Downey Shipbuilding Co., Arlington, N. An announcement by the Navy Department says the Heywood will be "essentially a duplicate of the Henderson with such changes as were considered desirable as a result of war experience."
