Such a Furniture Sale as This Could Only Come From Having the Right Goods at the Safest Low Prices

It Is Perfectly Fair and Natural for Customers to ask the question, often spoken to our salesmen and their chiefs,

"Do you think Furniture will be any lower soon?"

There can be but one honest answer to this question and it is this — that our kind of furniture is scarcer and the good cabinetmakers are fewer than before the war; and, still further, the price of furniture-making timber "on the stump" is higher.

Going over the facts plainly in our May and June campaign to knock down all prices, all our furniture was included at 20 per cent off usual prices.

That Notable Campaign Ended and every piece of furniture went back to normal prices.

The August Sale Came On

As has been our usual custom, some of our regular stock of furniture was marked down 10 per cent for the August Sale, or more, in a few cases.

Then, again, our buyers went out to the factories and bought up good lots, up to our grade, at 20 per cent off and 25 and 30 off, which we priced according to costs and so marked the present figures upon which we are now selling our usual full quantities.

You see, we know the makers of our goods, and we can safely insure—

1. Quality of material.
2. Quality of workmanship.
3. Reasonableness of prices.

Therefore we believe that we have the bottom prices on our goods, say for the next twelve months, save and except in cases of bankruptcy, when goods are thrown upon the market to settle an estate.

Please take notice we are not in a hurry to sell our present collection of high-grade cabinetmakers' pieces, and while we feel we can guarantee the prices for the quality, we are sure we cannot now replace anything we sell at present prices.

We are freely recommending patrons and the public to not buy any furniture in a hurry, as there has been much stuff thrown on the market put together for urgent advertising of August sales.

We do not believe we have a piece of uncertain furniture on our three floors.

A Miscellaneous Group of Women's Summer Dresses Prices $5 to $50

Three racks are loaded down with odds and ends of the season—ginghams, voiles, novelty cottons and so on, mostly muscad, but all well worth looking over. In fact, some women buy them by twos and threes.

One rack is marked $5.
One is marked $10.
The third has dresses at $18.75 to $50.

(First Floor, Central)

Every White Cotton Skirt for Young Women Is $3

You couldn't begin to find these pretty styles for anything like this price earlier in the season.

And the reductions come in good time for young women on their way to the shore or mountains, where sweaters are in order, and a plentiful supply of white tub skirts will be needed to go with them.

Mostly gabardines and tricotines, 26 to 30 inch waist measure.

(Second Floor, Chestnut)

School Days Are Near and Clothes Should Be Marked

Cash's woven names are so inexpensive and so easy to sew on that nearly everybody uses them. An order takes four weeks. Rush orders of ten days are charged 50c extra.

Names on black or white tape in colors, $1 for three dozen. $1.50 for six dozen and $2.25 for twelve dozen.

Initials, two letters, 60c a gross. Three letters, $1.50 a gross. Four letters, $2 a gross, and 5 letters, $2.25 a gross.

"When it comes to furniture the Wanamaker Store surely has the goods." That is the way most people who know much about furniture and furniture sales express it.

This is no new thing as regards the Wanamaker Furniture Sale. It is the regular thing, only in this August, 1920, Sale it seems to stand out more clearly and unmistakably than ever.

The Wanamaker Furniture Sale is one of Philadelphia's greatneses, and it is the only Sale that has become something of a national institution. All of which is very well, and something one might reasonably be proud of, but in the building up of it our chief thought and purpose has never been to make something bigger and greater and more wonderful than anything else of the kind in the country, but to make a sale to which you and everybody else could come with confidence of finding in it the furniture you wished for at the safest low prices.

No matter what kind of furniture you are looking for, provided it is very good and worthy in design and construction, you cannot fail to find it in the Wanamaker Sale at the safest low price, no matter how many other places you might search in vain for it.

That is why so many people who have tried the thing out say that "when it comes to furniture the Wanamaker Store surely has the goods!"

For Women Who Wear All-Black

The Little Salon of Mourning Apparel has just received several styles of crepe de chine afternoon dresses entirely black, and priced at $36 to $75.

Black faille and moire silk hand bags are also here among the accessories of dresses and are priced at $7.50 upward.

(Third Floor, Central)

35 Women's Silk Coats Down to $75 Each

Coats, wraps and capes, to speak precisely—the graceful garments which meet so many different needs. They are of radium silk, of taffeta, of satin and tricolette, and the majority of them are black, a few being blue and taupe. A few have brushed wool collars.

The present price—$75—means a substantial saving on the original prices.

(First Floor, Central)

Knife-Pleated Serge Skirts, All-Wool, Special at $9.75

Really, it seems too good to be true, but the skirts are here to prove it!

The serge is a nice, sturdy quality that will stand lots of hard wear, and the knife pleating is deep enough to hang well, and it goes all around the skirt. There is a separate belt with button and buttonhole. They come in navy blue and black, and that means that they will look well with any kind of a Fall coat.

(East Aisle)

500 Lingerie Waists Going at $2.25

Little surplus lots from various manufacturers — a few of this and few of the other. The materials are organdies, batistes and voiles; with long and short sleeves, roll and sailor collars or no collars at all; all of them, of course, are white.

(West Aisle)

Persian Patterned Kimonos

Cotton challis, made with coat fronts and kimono backs, and all of Persian patterned material, in pink, rose, blue and lavender effects. Price $1.85.

(Third Floor, Central)

Women's Union Suits at 50c Are Half Price

2400 light-weight ribbed-cotton suits in low neck and sleeveless style with lace, shell or tight knees. Sizes 36 and 38.

All first quality.
