

N. J. RIFLE TEAM NOW BEING PICKED

Only Two Shooters Certain of Taking Part in National Contest This Month

NORTON IS ACTING AS COACH

Special Dispatch to Evening Public Ledger—Sea Girt, Aug. 11.—Crack shots of the New Jersey National Guard are trying out here for the team which is to represent this state at the national rifle matches at Camp Perry, O., this month. Brigadier General Bird W. Spencer, inspector general of rifle practice for New Jersey, has had more than a score here, putting them through a strenuous course of preliminary firing. Results of the first few days of practice are being tabulated for use in selecting the state team.

To date there are only two shooters certain of being included on the team. They are Captain Morton W. Huttenloch, of the Machine Gun Troop of the First Cavalry, and Lieutenant Clifford Powell, of Mount Holly, a battalion adjutant of the new Third Infantry. Lieutenant Howard Atkins, of the Machine Gun Troop, who won the governor's medal here a week ago, can have a place on the team if he can make the trip to Camp Perry. He is trying to arrange his business affairs so he can help the Jerseymen. His inclusion in the team is considered by General Spencer to be almost imperative, as he is one of the finest shots in the state.

Major Joseph Norton, commanding the Patterson battalion of the Sixth Infantry, has been selected to captain the team and is here coaching the candidates. The selection of the team this year is difficult because most of the organizations of the new National Guard are made up of new men. In this respect the recent qualification shooting by the men is proving a big aid to General Spencer, but there is much work to be done in the eliminations before the best teamwork can be effected and the steadiest aggregation of riflemen picked.

The military season at the state encampment reservation here, which it was supposed had terminated on Sunday with the departure of the South Jersey Infantry units and the First Squadron of Cavalry, is to be extended several weeks through the encampment here of the Fifty-seventh United States Infantry and possibly the Forty-fifth United States Infantry also.

Primarily, the object of their coming is to give the men the benefit of practice on the rifle ranges. Many brilliant afternoon ceremonies will feature the stay of the regulars while here. The Fifty-seventh Infantry, having 1000 men under command of Colonel Baker, is expected here Friday.

The Value of Uniform Gasoline

In the distillation of gasoline, expert Atlantic Chemists have worked out a definite high standard of quality.

For quick combustion in a cold motor, gasoline must be highly volatile. For instant pick-up and quick get-away, volatility is the prime factor. Yet it is in the combination of the highly volatile with the less volatile but powerful elements of gasoline that true power lies. Power that carries you easily over the hills.

Atlantic Scientists have produced the perfect combination of dynamic power and high volatility in Atlantic Gasoline. Your motor starts like a flash. Hills on high are easy with Atlantic.

It has range. Hot days, chilly days, or change in altitude will not affect it. Set your carburetor for the season—and don't touch it.

Standardized Atlantic means that it is always the same—always uniform. You will get the same perfect performance from every gallon you buy. Make it a point to drive for the Red Pump where the sign says
