Nancy Wynne Tells of Many Future Belles Born This Month-She Hears and Sees Various Things. Harry's Indignation

BE THAT as it may, there have been some happenings in the social world during the last month. All kinds of little strangers have made their bows in our midst—future belles and beaux of some eighteen or nineteen years bence. There's Betty Scott Clark's beby, who was born in July, and is to be named Edith Graham Scott, after her very attractive graudmother. Mrs. Hatchison Scott. MARRY had been told by mother to the table that evening, especially at the beginning, because the clergyman was to come and he would probably say grace instead of daddy. Well, Harry was Heights. fery good and came quietly to his seat, but to his astonishment when mother and daddy came in with the visitor they all sat down and the visitor went right on talking. This was more than Harry could stand; he never had sat down table without hearing grace said his whole three years, so, suddenly flaing from his seat, he approached the rerend gentleman and said in severe tones: "Stop your talking and say your prayers."
