

25 TEACHERS QUIT FOR BETTER JOBS

Physical Education Division Faces Crisis in Continued Loss of Instructors

HAD PLANNED EXPANSION

The decision of physical education teachers of the public schools to leave a serious shortage of instructors with the opening of the public schools near at hand. According to William A. Stecher, he will lose five assistant instructors from his present force at a time when he can afford it.

"Although I have lost recently twenty-five instructors," said Mr. Stecher. "This is more than one-half my complete force. The state department of education has taken some of the highest salaries from the list that other cities are bidding for them, and in most cases getting them, simply because we cannot pay high enough salaries to hold them."

"We can train others to fill their places, but it must be remembered that this takes time and the efficiency of the physical education machine is impaired by the vacancies."

"These changes have come at a time when we are planning to extend our activities and trying to get a longer time for physical education in the schools. We have decided to have a man and woman instructor at every playground in the fall to put the work there on a more organized and compulsory basis."

HOME BREW 'INARTISTIC'

Imbiber Wins Freedom by New Version of an Old Story

"What was the matter with you last night?" Magistrate Price asked Frederick Palmer, of Tioga street near Seventeenth, when the latter was arraigned this morning at Twenty-second street and Hunting Park avenue.

"Judge," said the man, "I was inartistically drunk."

"Yes, whatever that is," said the magistrate. "What were you drinking?"

The man replied he had been drinking "homebrew." He was discharged in spite of the fact that he gained the magistrate's displeasure by announcing he intended to vote for Cox for President.

STORES AT SHIPYARDS

Articles of Wearing Apparel and Food Sold at Cost

Employees of the New York Shipyard, Camden, are now buying stockings at less than cost price, or a saving of from 50 to 100 per cent, due to another move of the Industrial Service Department of the plant to cut down the cost of living for the men. A prominent hosiery firm had a large order canceled several months ago and a month ago the firm asked permission of the shipyard firm to sell the stockings to the shipyard workers at the plant at less than cost. The company had the stockings examined and found they were as specified, so the men's socks are selling at twenty-two cents, children's stockings at twenty-five cents and women's silk hose at $1. Only the shipyard workers can buy them.

The shipyard firm does not make a cent out of the sales. Six months ago a store was opened in the north yard to sell canned goods and groceries to the employees at wholesale price to cut down the cost of living. Groceries and coffee are now being sold at the north yard and a store will be opened in the north yard shortly.

Girl Says She Wounded Thief

County detectives of Camden are looking for the wounded man who is said to have tried to break into the home of W. A. Rhoades at Clementon Heights, Camden county, early yesterday morning. A daughter of Rhoades insists she wounded the man while he was trying to force an entrance to the dwelling. She says a companion dragged the wounded man away.

Lovely Autumn Millinery

Telling of the New Fashions in Hundreds of Trimmed Hats, $8.00 to $15.00

SOFT HATS—Paris, along with the rest of the fashionable world, tried them and liked them, and found them becoming, and as loath as we to give up these flattering crushes of velvets and duvetines, that soften the features, and give that air of youth and unstudied grace that artists love to dwell upon.

Narrow ribbons, often metalized; wings that "fly low"; wispy, feathery fancies, embroideries and ornamental pins—these are their chief trimmings. The large Hat sketched is of velvet and mauline, $9.00; the smaller one of duvetine and panne, is $12.00. Two of hundreds equally charming.

Trimmed Ready-to-Wear Hats, from $3.95 to $8.95

These are Hats of a higher order than usually come under the heading of Ready-to-wear Hats. They have had their origin in very high-class models, and they show it in their soft, supple shapes, their deft touches of gold or silver or bronze, in their distinctive embroideries, and their odd pins and ornaments. Of velvets and fabrics, in black and colors—some most coquettishly-fashioned.

Girls' Smart Berets from $2.50 to $4.95

Including a new shipment, just arrived, of these graceful "Tams," desirable for school and all outdoor wear, at $3.75. Navy, red and white in the collection.

Cloth Dresses, $25.00 to $42.50
Tricotines and serges, in navy blue, developed on Moyer-Age lines, many with low-set tunics, attractively plaited or bordered with heavy em-broideries. The Redingote is prominent, in some instances worn over a satin underskirt. One elaborately plaited model is of a combination of satin and serge. Some show the fashionable vestees in contrasting colors. The model sketched is made to reveal a vest of Copenhagen blue duvetine.

Savings of 20 to 45 Per Cent in Our Annual Fur Sale

Extraordinary Values for Tomorrow—Friday!

Tomorrow we announce Values that are a climax to the Wonderful Values that we are offering in this Annual Sale of Furs:

The Shortages of Furs are every day becoming more and more stringent. The continued strike in the Fur trades is retarding production to an enormous extent, and the inevitable result of this will be to eventually shoot up the prices again, should the strike continue.

You can now buy your Fall and Winter Furs at Reductions of 20 to 45 per cent. These Reductions are doubly welcome, for they indicate much greater savings—this because we exercised keen merchandising judgment last Spring, and, when buying was at its height, refused to buy! We did buy—but not before the decided drop in prices came. When we had secured splendid quantities of skins, we manufactured them ourselves in the most approved Fur styles of the season.
