POST GETS RIFLES

Prince-Forbes, No. 7, Can Now Conduct Funerals in Proper Military Manner

Prince-Forbes Post No. 7, the secand to have been organized by the J serican Legion in this city, and the ourth in point of present membership. spounced at its meeting last night at the Kingsessing Recreation Center, Forty-ninth street and Chester avenue, that the state of Pennsylvania has pro-vided rifles for use at military funerals of 717 Woodland avenue, and Carl S. and that hereafter comrades will receive this honor.

The rifles were furnished by W. L. Hicks, superintendent of state armans, Harrisburg, who also provided the belts. The arrangement was effected by William A. Klaus, the post adjutant, and Istdor Baylson, the commander. It is a compliment to this post that it has succeeded in equipping itself for conducting military funerals, since the War Department has failed to furnish to the Legion posts the requisite rifles, although it promised to do so.

This post conducted its first military funeral Wednesday since the receipt of eral Wednesday since the receipt of funeral Wednesday since the receipt of the rifles. It was the funeral of George L. Harris, Jr., who died in Coblenz, Germany, January 19, 1919. He be-longed to the Thirty-second Division, and resided at 2510 South Felton street. The comrade was buried at Mt. Moriah Cometery. Ten comrades of the Legion were in attendance, and an American Legion marker was placed upon his grave. A. L. Taxis, chaplain of Post No. 7, conducted the service.

With a paid-up membership of 422.

The "Reds" Are On

The gallant struggle of the Poles to save their capital from capture has at last been crowned with success, and the Bolshevist reverse bids fair to become a rout, according to an arresting article in this week's number of THE LITERARY DIGEST, dated August 28th, on this spectacular turning of the tide of war. The Minneapolis Journal is quoted as saying that "the Bolshevik menace to western civilization, if any, is now political," while an Eastern paper is sure that "Bolshevism has shot its bolt." The Newark Evening News asserts that the "lowering of Bolshevism's prestige will naturally be followed by reaction within Russia," and the New York World declares that "it was not merely a battle that Poland won in front of Warsaw, but the right to assume a position of equality at the peace table."

Mercer enclosed cars for all around use

ALL the world knows Mercer's reputation on the A open road.

Only Mercer owners realize its exceptional merits for city use.

Mercer enclosed cars have the combination of charming lines and comfort which is only possible when the body designer has a low chassis and an ample wheel base to build on.

Their low centre of gravity is also a powerful element of safety; likewise the unusual range of driver's vision permitted by their windshield and forward window design, and the superb brake action which assures against traffic collisions in the tight places.

Their windows lower out of sight whenever fresh air is in demand.

They are rarely economical among cars of first quality.

Hare's Motors engineers design their products for every condition of use. All around excellence is their only standard.
