HONEYMOON AUTO HURTS 2 IN CRASH

Atlantic City Couple Near End of 1700-Mile Trip When Machine Hits Tree

RECEPTION AWAITED THEM

Joseph Gillen, an Atlantic City real estate broker, and his bride of two weeks were injured last night near the end of their 1700-mile boneymoon trip

Gillen's car struck a rut in the Wey-mouth swamp, seven miles from Ham-monton and about twenty-five miles from their home. The machine swerved into a ditch and crashed into a tree. Mrs. Gillen, formerly Miss Anna M. Dennelly, of Atlantic City, was cut severely about the face and body by glass from the broken windshield. Gillen's jaw struck the steering wheel. He was unconscious from shock.

Immediately after the wedding, August 16, in St. Nicholas's Church, Atlantic City, the bridal couple left for Maine on their honeymoon. Relatives had prepared a reception for their return last night.

Gillen had stopped his machine in a narrow road in the Weymouth swamp in order to make some slight repairs to the swain.
