

DELICIOUS DELICACIES GATHERED BY WANDERER

Swiss Eggs, Italian Pastas and Italian Cream Fritters Are Dainty Additions to American Menus

By MRS. M. A. WILSON

COMING to this corner this week are some delicious dishes gathered by a famous old gentleman who, when the wanderlust seizes him, quietly packs his pack and his forth to that particular spot he has been dreaming about.

Butter individual ramekins well and sprinkle with fine bread crumbs. Now place in each ramekin one large tablespoon of cream, add a pinch of salt and a sprinkle again with crumbs.

Ma cherie, but you have again taken me back to those wonderful kitchens in the Swiss foothills, and, ah! but I loved to linger there, for the scenery and sports were most attractive; but my fancy soon tired, and as I recollect I am sure I spent that early spring in the garden of honeymoon dreams at Lake Como, so let us go back to the diary and see if my thoughts are correct.

These fritters are delicate and most delicious morsels. Place in a saucepan one cup of milk, three-quarters cup of flour, stir to dissolve the flour and then bring to a boil and cook slowly for three minutes, adding four tablespoons sugar.

Italian Pasta Grease a large saucepan and add two quarts of water. One-half cup of finely chopped onions. One-half cup of finely chopped green peppers.

Menu Contest Honor List

Eleanor Junton, 1501 N. Twenty-third Street

Table with 2 columns: Item and Price. Includes Meat, Butter, Beans, etc.

Mrs. L. M. Elwings, Darby, Pa.

Table with 2 columns: Item and Price. Includes Stewed Lamb, Mashed Potatoes, etc.

Mrs. George Keiser, Hamburg, Pa.

Table with 2 columns: Item and Price. Includes Annapolis Meat Loaf, Tomato Sauce, etc.

THE OSTRICH PLUME

The ostrich feather has come to its own for the fall season at least. Curled or uncured, tufted or in tips, long and willowy, as you will; but if you haven't a hat with ostrich in some form, your wardrobe will not be quite complete.

Two Minutes of Optimism

By HERMAN J. STICH

Think High

"Think success," Harriman used to say, "and you can succeed." The root of success is the success attitude.

Our ideals are one shot you'll bring about what you think about. We cannot touch them. But like the seafaring man on the desert of waters, we choose them as our guides, and following them we reach our destination.

CARELESS HEARTS

By HAZEL DEVO BATTLE

A Womanly Woman?

After an amicable divorce, the result of three years of marriage which has bored them, Diana and Julian Long are free to seek out partners.

Adventures with a Purse

THE slip-over kimono sleeve blouse has recently been very much in evidence in all styles and materials.

The Woman's Exchange

Very Glad to Have Helped

Dear Madam—Please accept my thanks for the answer to my question in regard to information concerning Washington. Also thank "M. L. W." for her suggestion. I am sure it will be a great help to one with little time to spend there.

Writes to Washington

Dear Madam—Can you tell me if I am entitled to a widow's pension? My deceased husband was a veteran in the Civil War for nine months, and I have his honorable discharge. If so, how do I proceed to get it?

HUMAN CURIOS

The Siamese Twins

Strangely enough, though known to this day as the "Siamese" twins, Chang and Eng were the children of a Chinese man, born about May, 1811. The twins joined together by a cartilaginous band which could not be cut for fear of causing their death, were both feeble at birth, though Chang afterward thrived while Eng continued delicate.

The Question Corner

- 1. When the light above the bureau is high that it throws a shadow over the lower part of the face, how can a clear reflection in the mirror be gained?
2. What is "Plumage Audubon"?
3. How can shoes be kept stationary so that they will not muss or mash other articles in a suitcase?

WHAT'S WHAT

By HELEN DECIE

It rains of thought were permitted to run like express trains, what time and tempo might be saved, what valuable conclusions might be reached.

Boys Made Remarks

Dear Cynthia—You have helped me before, so I am coming to you for advice again. Some time ago my girl friend and I were very nice, and we always enjoyed their company very much.

Making More Money

The Girl Who Wouldn't Give Up

"But didn't you see that advertisement was placed under the month's section of the 'Help Wanted' announcements? Who in the world ever heard of a woman selling plumbing supplies?

Tomorrow—Sensing a Public Need

Did You Ever Weed a Berry Patch?

One gardener of my acquaintance varied the program by using a mulch of coal ashes instead of straw. The ashes kept down the weeds and the potatoes grew better because of its effect on the soil.

It is a mark of distinction to use imported Pompeian Olive Oil

Jaeger's Woolware

For Over Labor Day Sport things to wear on your outing: Sweaters, scarfs, golf hose, stockings, motor robes, caps and other needfuls for Summer's last holiday.

Dr. Jaeger's Co., 1516 CHESTNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA

Please Tell Me What to Do

By CYNTHIA

Agree With "Two Gentlemen"

Dear Cynthia—I read the article written by "Just Flo," and I agree with "Two Gentlemen." I agree with them because they don't say anything out of the way, but the truth. The girls of today are all most like actresses.

Glad You Like Column

Dear Cynthia—I want to express my appreciation to the Evening Public Ledger for the story, "Miss Norris, called 'Sisters,' recently published. I enjoyed it thoroughly, as I do your column and the 'marble column' without EVERING PUBLIC LEDGER, no matter where, public or how I get it.

Marriage Laws in Some States

Dear Cynthia—Being a silent reader of your valuable column for a long while I find that, like many more of your correspondents, I shall have to break my silence to ask of you one small favor: to wit:

Writes to "James C."

Dear Cynthia—I was intensely interested in the letter which appeared in your column in the Evening Public Ledger under the heading of a "Sympathetic Westerner" and signed by "James C."

A Pearl Without Price

Dear Cynthia—My trouble is that I lack winning personality, as people say. I have a brother two years my senior. He has friends who are also of his age. They are all very nice boys, but what I want to say is that there are one or two really nice, but they care little for me. They think they are my superior.

The Formal Grace of Perfect Composition

Autumn Furnishing Number

Doesn't it give you a feeling of rightness, somehow? This rare old piece set against the deep-cream panel that silhouettes every delicate curve—that enhances every lustrous tone in the age-dimmed wood!

SEPTEMBER HOUSE & GARDEN on sale now!

Buy It At Your News Stand Today!

House & Garden, Name, Street, New York City

A MAN'S SISTER CAN BRING DEEP TRAGEDY TO HIS WIFE

If She Is the Kind That Is Jealous or Meddlesome or Anxious to Make Trouble—She Tells Tales—Sometimes Not True Ones

JEALOUSY was given as the cause of a brutal murder committed recently.

The man who did it gave his wife so little on which to run her household and feed her children that she was forced to go out and work.

AND it is so often a man's sister who causes trouble for his wife.

There seems to be an understood feeling between some men's sisters and their wives as soon as the marriage takes place.

Perhaps it is a kind of jealousy that cannot be expressed in any way but that the sister seems to think "You consider yourself pretty smart marrying him, don't you? Well, you needn't be putting on him before me, around, because I knew him before you were born."

Sometimes it springs from a misplaced desire to protect her brother from unhappiness of any kind.

When the murder is committed, or the separation is arranged, or the misery becomes an established fact, is she satisfied with her work? I wonder if she never feels remorse, or realizes how much of the blame for the tragedy lies at her door.

knowing how to sew, etc. I can do all these things, and I am sure of your opinion in this case?

OLD-FASHIONED. Cynthia is afraid you are too perfect, my dear. It is the first time she has ever said "I speak neither too much nor too little." If this is not an exaggeration, some day a man will have a wife whose words cannot be counted by any thing in this world. So patient; what right will come along some time soon.

Dear Cynthia—My trouble is that I lack winning personality, as people say. I have a brother two years my senior. He has friends who are also of his age. They are all very nice boys, but what I want to say is that there are one or two really nice, but they care little for me. They think they are my superior.

Even at a party I get disgusted sometimes. I never think of myself; I always try to join the crowd, but I am soon left out. When it comes time to go home no one even thinks of accompanying me home. Why is it I can't understand what can be the reason? Do I lack personality or vanity? I'm neither good-looking nor bad-looking. I don't speak too much nor too little; in brief, I know just how to take care of myself. Could that be the reason? I think that the boys nowadays want the girls to be their playmates; otherwise they don't care for them. I have heard quite a number of people say that the boys nowadays, when they want to marry, look for the old-fashioned girl who could make him a good wife by cooking him a good meal.

The Sugar Saver among cereal foods Grape-Nuts

No added sweetening needed. You'll like the appealing flavor of this sugar-saving food.

SOLD BY GROCERS EVERYWHERE!

Condé Nast, Publisher; Richardson Wright, Editor; Horvath Campbell, Art Director