

JUS' A GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Nancy Wynne Tells of Society Folk Who Have Gone Into Moving Pictures—She Sees Miss Peggy Thayer in a Pretty Frock

DID you know that Nat Davis has gone into the movies? At least, so they say. I heard it the other day and I think it's awfully interesting, don't you? You know he does some splendid swimming stunts in Molly Thayer's scenario, about which we are all getting more and more excited as the time for seeing it slowly creeps nearer. Well, Nat is one of the heroes therein, and as the one he bird told me about it, it appears he did so well he's gone out to California and is going in for it regularly. It's remarkable how many people you know are doing it these days. I remember the excitement some years ago when Mrs. Steve Morris, who died since then, went into the movies, and had a beautiful woman she was and how and how she died.

Then Isabel Page went West last winter with her mother and has been in California ever since, working in the film. Isabel is so pretty and such a lady she will give the right impressions whenever she appears. It goes without saying that she is a success in that line. Now in New York Margaret Ann and Mrs. Edward Spiveyham Page, of Chester road, are going to Europe, where they will spend a number of his class-friends and a few days at the battlefields of France.

Speaking of the movies makes me think of Peggy Thayer, who is one of Molly's heroines. I happened to see her yesterday going into one of the trust companies, and she looked very charming in an accordion plaited skirt of fine serge and a blue silk sweater of the same shade. Her hat was of burnt orange horsehair, entirely untrimmed. The brim was rolled back of the face and widened on the sides.

DID you know that Mrs. Bradford Knight has bought the house at 2208 Rittenhouse street, where she has lived for many years at 1917 Rittenhouse? I hear that Kitty is getting along nicely, though she is suffering, of course, from the stiffness and pain in one leg to have her broken leg in one place.

They are cousins of the marrieds of Jenkinson, who used to live on Chestnut Hill. Helen Borda married Tom Borda and Matilda Borda married one of the Cross men. There are Edith and Eugenia and several Borda girls.

They is to be given a dance at the Aorn in November if all goes well with the broken limb. I hope it will not be very long. It depends largely on the kind of break. I remember last winter Gwen Martin fell in January and was lame and only able to walk with a cane in April and May. But then she broke hers in two or three places.

MARY LLOYD NORRIS'S dance is to be on November 19 at the Bellevue-Stratford. It is the ninth, and she is going to be a very pretty affair and most of the debutantes will be the guests.

The Ledyard Heckschers' party on October 9 is a dinner dance for the friends. And Jane Hopburn will be one of those to start the ball rolling by being introduced on the first date known so far. Perhaps others will be introduced on the first date in the first and her debut will be made on the afternoon of October 2 at her Villanova home, from 4 until 7 o'clock.

WE ARE living and learning as time goes by, but believe me, it will take time. Two women were talking about voting the other day and one said to the other: "For whom will you vote?" And the other replied: "I have always been for a republican form of government." And later when a man who had heard the story, shaking with joy over it, told it to another woman, she said: "I have always been for a republican form of government." And later when a man who had heard the story, shaking with joy over it, told it to another woman, she said: "I have always been for a republican form of government."
