JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Nancy Wynne Chats About Many Philadelphians Who Spent Summer in the Adirondacks—Charlotte Cushman Club to Open New House

THIS cool weather and the passing of September 15 is bringing many persons home from the mountains. There is a regular little colony of people who go to the Adirondacks every summer and live in up-to-date camps there for two or three months. But when September 15 comes and the weather is not unbearably hot, home they come. Mrs. Arthur Emlen Newbold and various members of her family have been in the Adirondacks since the middle of July and they are returning home this week. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Thayer are also on the way down, Molly having come last week, so as to take part in the tennis at St. Martins.

Mr. and Mrs. Hermann Krumbhaar and the Linton Laudreths, who spent a number of weeks there, also are returning this week. Mrs. Archie Knowles, of Germantown, came home last week, as did the Horatio Gates Lloyds, Mr. and Mrs. Sharswood Brinton and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Horstmann. The Horstmanns are in their Chestnut Hill home now, and Mr. and Mrs. Frazier Harrison left the Adirondacks on the fifteenth for Chestnut Hill.

The Caspar Wisters are coming down this week and Malcolm Lloyds and the William Phillers too, so there will be very few, if any, members of the Philadelphia colony left, it seems to me.

HAVE you heard about the Charlotte Cushman Club's new home? I was so interested about it yesterday when I heard they had moved, and will give a house-warming on October 1, to celebrate their settlement in this new house. Last year the pretty little club-house at Twelfth and Locust street, which was stretched to take in two houses, had only room enough for seventeen guests, and as many as 600 had to be refused admission during that time.

You know the Charlotte Cushman Club was founded in this city in a house on Tenth street above Pine, in 1908, by a number of women interested in the comfort and welfare of young actresses staying in the city. Several years after its foundation, the club was moved to Twelfth and Locust streets that more could be accommodated.

And now the house 1010 Spruce street, well known to old Philadelphians as "Miss Sandgren's" boarding house, has been bought and the rooms can accommodate fifty-four. Isn't that splendid? The Mayor and Mrs. Moore are to be guests of honor at the reception on October 1 and the women managers of the club will receive.

THE rooms in the Cushman Club furnished by or named for Julia Marlowe, Annie Russell, Mrs. John Drew, Mrs. Louis Drew, Jenny Lynd, Lillian Russell, Fanny Davenport, Adele Ritchie, Mary Anderson and Viola Allen will be transferred to the new home. The house is to be open for inspection after tomorrow and I understand the managers are more than anxious to have it seen. The board of managers of the club includes Mrs. Samuel Chew, president; Mrs. Mortimer Brown, Mrs. Otis Skinner and Mrs. James Large, vice presidents; Mrs. Walter Waring Hopkinson, treasurer; Mrs. Beecher Finck, recording secretary, and Mr. Newton Potts, corresponding secretary. The directors are Mrs. Wayland Hoyt, Mrs. Robert Emott Hare, Mrs. James Elverson, Jr., Mrs. Edward Stotesbury, Mrs. J. Wilmer Biddle, Miss Frances Griscom, Miss Louise Wood, Mrs. Pope Yeatman, Mrs. Alba Johnson, Mrs. George Vales Baker, Mrs. William H. Greene, Mrs. Thomas J. Garland, Mrs. Charles F. Boehman, Mrs. George H. Lorimer and Mrs. Paul Haskill.

On the advisory board are the Rev. Floyd Tomkins, Daniel Frohman, Harrison Gray Fiske, John Drew, William D. Neilson, Francis Wilson, Rabbi Krauskopf, Monsignor Fisher, the Rev. Charles Wood, Clinton Rogers Woodruff, Charles P. Sinnickson, S. Davis Page, Otis Skinner and David Belasco.

I AM glad to be able to tell you that Polly Griscom is going to make her debut this winter. She is the daughter of Mr. Rodman Griscom, and her mother was Miss Annie Starr. Her death occurred more than a year ago, so Polly's coming out was not possible last year. If Polly is as well beloved as her mother, she will do well. Every one loved Mrs. Griscom, and the good she did was unlimited. She was a most devoted member of the Emergency Aid and did wonderful work during the war. Polly will be introduced at a tea to be given by her father on Tuesday, October 12, at Dolobran, his home in Haverford.

NANCY WYNNE.
