SIMON BLOCH LEAVES $13,000 TO CHARITIES

Bequeaths Interest in Store to Two Sons—Ellison Cooper Wills $16,000 to Library

Simon L. Bloch, one of the founders of N. Snellenberg & Co., whose will was probated today, left $13,000 to charities.

Of this amount $5,000 went to the Jewish Hospital Association, $2,500 to the Jewish Foster Home, $2,500 to the Jewish Sanatorium at Englewood, $1,000 to the Reformed Congregation Keneeth Israel, $1,000 to the Orphan's Guardians of Philadelphia, $1,000 to the Neighborhood Center, Fifth and Bainbridge streets.

The estate is valued at "over $240,000." His interest in the Snellenberg firm is fixed at $240,000, and this he transfers to his sons, Bernard and Arthur, providing they pay each of the two sisters $20,000. The residue of the estate is to be divided equally among the four children, two sons and two daughters.

Ellison M. Cooper, of 215 North Seventeenth street, who was secretary of the Penn Reduction Co., set aside $16,000 for the maintenance of the E. M. Cooper Library at Wilmington, Essex county, New York, in his will, probated today. The residue of his estate, valued at over $100,000, is divided in private bequests.

The will of Mary E. Christy, 2205 North Sixteenth street, who left $14,500, bequeaths $1,000 to each of the following charities: Presbyterian Orphanage, board of ministerial relief of the Presbyterian Church, Presbyterian League for Aged Couples and Vestian College.

Other wills probated were those of Peter E. Coleman, 112 East Duval street, $14,500; Mary E. Micoek, 4148 Paul street, $20,000. The following inventories of personal estates were filed: Joseph Scholes, $455,972.85; Sarah M. Seull, $215,463.00; Savilla E. Dutton, $9815.55; M. Andrew Haines, $22,754.20; Wilhelmina Fisher, $15,136.50.

BOY KILLED, 7 HURT IN STREET MISHAPS

Two Youths Riding Bicycle Are Badly Injured When Hit by Auto

THREE CUT BY FLYING GLASS

A boy was killed and seven persons were injured in street accidents late yesterday afternoon and last night. Injuries received in an automobile accident on August 31 caused the death of a young woman.

One of a procession of motorists being driven from here to Cleveland ran down twelve-year-old Bothwell Fluchure, of Fairview avenue, Crestmont, and he died in the Abington Hospital, a few minutes after being admitted, from a fractured skull and internal injuries. The boy was on his way home from school when the car struck him at Willow Grove road, near Rubicon avenue, C. D. McConkey, of Cleveland, driver, was arrested and held in $1,000 bail.

Mrs. Rosalie Gooding, twenty-four years old, of York, Pa., who was injured in an automobile accident on August 31, died late yesterday afternoon at the Frankford Hospital.

At the time of the accident Mrs. Gooding was riding in a car owned and driven by Leander Rosenzweig, twenty-eight years old, 804 North Second street. Going north on Bensalem pike, near the county line, the machine struck an abutment of a bridge and plunged thirty-five feet to the ground below. The machine was set afire and Mrs. Gooding was badly burned.

Two boys riding on one bicycle were badly hurt when struck by an automobile at Warnock street and Girard avenue. They are Floyd Mitchell, sixteen years old, 1840 North Watts street,

LEGION GIVES CARNIVAL

Proceeds Will Go Toward Home for Wunderlich Post, No. 65

The Albert Clinton Wunderlich American Legion Post, No. 65, tonight begins a carnival which will continue until Saturday night.

Headed by George W. Stutzell, Jr., the committee have arranged a program to attract people from the neighboring communities. On Saturday afternoon Comrade Daniel A. Dougherty, former lieutenant in the aviation corps, will perform stunts with the latest type of flying machine.

In the evening an automobile will be given away, and on other evenings other valuable presents will be awarded. The proceeds of the carnival will go toward the purchase of a new home.

A hand composed of overseas veterans will be on hand to keep things stepping along lively, and an effort is under way to have a survivor of the ill-fated 8-5 submarine address the gathering.

Bent Bones That Were Bent by Pointed Shoes. Straight Bones That Grew Straight in Educator Shoes. You always find this protecting mark on an Educator. HELD AS BIGAMIST. Wife No. 2 Confronts Prisoner at Abington Police Station. "I wasn't as anxious to marry her as she was to marry me," was the exclamation of Charles Justice, also known as John Cameron, when confronted with the wife No. 2 in the Abington police station. Justice, a bigamist, was held in a warrant sworn out by her.

Housewives—Here's Rest!

ON your feet all day—hurrying busily from room to room—my, how tired and "achy" your feet are by night! Know what causes the trouble? It's not your feet, it's the shoes you're wearing.

Scores of housewives come to us with the same complaint. We suggest they try Educator Shoes. The best proof that Educators satisfy is that the same women come back and ask for another pair of Educators.

Here's the reason: The Educator is shaped to fit feet naturally, with plenty of room to "let the feet grow as they should"—free from corns, bunions, callouses, and ingrowing nails. They're neat and good-looking, too, not freakish. Let us fit your feet with a pair of Educators. You'll decide then to get them for the whole family.

STEINWAY PIANOS. Newer Standards. That Steinway & Sons could steadily better their pianos, year by year, through the four generations of this family's predominance in the piano industry, and their instrument's eminence in the aesthetic atmosphere of the music world, is a wonderful tribute to Steinway genius. Today Steinway pianos are better than ever before, despite interminable handicaps in production and trade. Always the master instrument, past, present, future—the prevailing choice of those who must depend upon the instrument for the demonstration of their art; the cherished fireside companion of a hundred thousand homes; the final necessity of teacher and conservatory. Hear the Steinways of 1920—beautiful examples in stock now. "Steinways of Today" is a book that every piano-music lover should read. Copies will be sent free on request. Steinway pianos may be bought on monthly payments. N. Stetson & Co., 1111 Chestnut St.

PEARLS IN GIRL'S EARS. No Beads Are Extracted—Believed Lodged in Organs for Years. Mary Ford, fourteen years old, of 220 Master street, complained in June of pain in her right ear. Dr. John Ed. Loftus, at the Misericordia Hospital, made an attempt to remove the beads, but the girl should undergo an operation. While the girl was under ether he extracted a pearl from her ear. Last week she returned to the hospital with a pain in her left ear, and a physician discovered a second pearl. The girl's father is puzzled as to how the beads became lodged in the ear. It is believed that the pearls have been in the girl's ears since she was a child and her father is inclined to the theory that they were placed there by other children at play. The girl's hearing is unaffected.

ACCOUNTANTS TO ELECT. Officers will be elected for the coming year at the annual meeting of the Public Accountants' Association of Philadelphia, which will meet at the Chamber of Commerce, in the Widener Building, Atlantic City, tomorrow. The organization will go to Atlantic City tomorrow to represent the Association of Cost Accountants at the conference of the Association of Cost Accountants. The conference will be held in the city, both Blockley and Bryn Mawr, and will last for four days.
