In South Dakota the situation is

In South Dakota the situation different. The primary laws there have forced the Nonpartisan League out into the open as a separate party. The league members can no longer fight in the Republican primaries for the control of the Republican party. The result is that the league of South Dakota is supporting Christiansen, the Farmer-Labor candidate, for President, I Lulke the league of the Control of the Republican party. Unlike the league in other states it sent a delegation to the third party convention in Chicago and affiliated with the movement started there.

The league in South Dakota is not as strong as it is in North Dakota and Minnesota. It is said to have about 25,000 members; allowing for sons, daughters and wives of members, perhaps this means 50,000 votes. It is thought that a large proportion of these votes were formerly Republican. If they can be all delivered to the Christiansen ticket. South Dakota will probcrats have a chance to carry South Da-kota, but it will probably be difficult for the league to throw its full strength in South Dakota to Christiansen.
