ONONO 1 11 ONO NONONONONONO INCHES FROM

The Golden-Plated Rule

By Lillian Paschal Day

A Cure for Theft

He is a wonder with employes. Has sympathy and understanding. He gets into their very souls. He gets into their very solis.

Lets 'em have parties at his home.
His wife treats them like her own.
They're one big family together.
So this thing that happened hurt.
He caught his forelady stealing.
She'd ring the cash register short.
He's a regular deputy sheriff.
Power to arrest, badge and all. Power to arrest, badge and all. Has to—so many shoplifters. They average eight a week.
But one of his 'family' whew!
He waited for her that evening. He waited for her that evening.
His voice was sad, yet stern.
"Miss Blank, what have you done?
Come clean, girl!" And she did.
Such is the power of the man.
She didn't weep nor protest.
Never even attempted evasion.
Just told how it happened.
She'd been doing it only a week.
Things were high, she needed the mor
It amounted to fifteen dollars.
He took her to police headquarters.
They went in the back way. hey went in the back way. was dark, no one saw little side room they talked. didn't beg nor whimper. fust sat paralyzed with dread.

DREAMLAND

CRAFTY MR. CROW

By DADDY

Parades in the Alp

CHAPTER III

He told her a story about himself, How he was made an honest man. He ended, "Will you pay this back?"

How he was made an honest man.
He ended, "Will you pay this back?"
She caught her breath.
"You mean I'm to have a chance?"
He nodded. She couldn't believe
"You won't put me in jail?
Will I keep my job?"
"Just that." he replied.
"I will lend you the money.
You may pay me a dollar a week."
"Nobody's to know?" she whispered.
"I won't be disgraced?"
"No. I'm staking a lot on you.
It's up to you to make good."
Then she broke down.
She raised a tear-drenched face.
"I'll die before I fail you!"
It took ber fifteen weeks to pay.
Then he gave it all back to her.
Took it out of his own pay.
The slate was wiped clean.
She would die for him and his.
His wife is the only one who knows.
They still invite her to the house.
I'll say they're good golden rulers.
The story he told of his boyrood?
Another boy got him to steal.
I'll tell you about it tomorrow.

Isn't it odd?

Isn't it odd? The upright can help the stumbling. But they don't always do it.

birds were not regular Birdland birds
—they were English sparrows. And the English sparrows, led by Perky Sparrow, were chirping a song:

"Cheep! Cheep! Vote in a heap
For Caw-caw Crow! ADVENTURES

"Cheep! Cheep! Vote in a heap
For Caw-caw Crow!
Cheep! Cheep! Vote in a heap
For Caw-caw Crow!

Again Judge Owl groaned. "That finishes my chances for being elected Headwatchman of Birdland. There are too many votes against me."

Peggy and Billy were filled with dismay, but they did not lose courage.

"We will get votes, too," cried Peggy.
"Fly, fly swiftest of all my birds, General Swallow, Mrs. Purple Swallow, Homer Pigeon, Carrie Pigeon! Fly to the east, fly to the west, fly to the north, fly to the south! Bring here all the birds you can find to vote for Judge Owl for Head Watchman of Birdland."

Away flew the messengers and what happened then will be told tomorrow. help Judge Owl, who wants to be elected Head Watchman. Caw-case frow is running against Judge Owl. Feggy gets the birds to promise to rote for the judge. TRUNG across the sky was a wavy CTRUNG across the sky was a wavy black line. At first glance it looked like a pencil mark in the air. Then, as Pegsy looked again, she saw it was a living line—a line made up of hundreds and thousands of crows.

The crows were not flying as crows usually fly, all in bunches and groups, but they were in single file, like a parade. As they flew they sang a song that stilled the chatter of the birds who were gathered in their council hall to yot for Judge Owl for head watchman of Birdland. This was the song of the crows.

THE DAILY NOVELETTE

A DOUBLE RUNAWAY

but they were in single file, like a sparade. As they flew they sang a song parade. As they flew they sang a song parade drew that stilled the chatter of the birds who flex they sang a song parade drew there are of the crows.

A DOUBLE RUNAWAY

By HAZEL GRAY WOOD

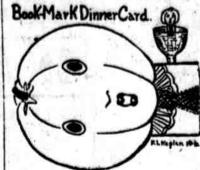

Mrs. George Hartley related comfortably on the lazy-seat of the Waterwing and, while drawing a certain subconstably on the lazy-seat of the Waterwing and, while drawing a certain subconstably on the lazy-seat of the Waterwing and, while drawing a certain subconstably on the lazy-seat of the Waterwing and, while drawing a certain subconstably on the lazy-seat of the Waterwing and, while drawing a certain subconstably on the lazy-seat of the Waterwing and, while drawing a certain subconstably on the lazy-seat of the Waterwing and, while drawing a certain subconstably on the lazy-seat of the Waterwing and, while drawing a certain subconstably on the lazy-seat of the Waterwing and, while drawing a certain subconstably on the lazy-seat of the Waterwing and, while drawing a certain subconstably on the lazy-seat of the Waterwing and, while drawing a certain subconstably on the lazy-seat of the Waterwing and, while drawing a certain subconstably on the lazy-seat of the Waterwing and, while drawing a certain subconstably on the lazy-seat of the Waterwing and, while drawing a certain subconstably on the lazy-seat of the Waterwing and, while drawing a certain subconstably on the lazy-seat of the Waterwing and, while drawing a certain subconstably on the lazy-seat of the Waterwing and, while drawing a certain subconstant while from the attention with the weeken to the weeken and the star part the weeken started when the weeken young Bob Whitford turned toward her daug By HAZEL GRAY WOOD ley.

"Any chance of a boat passing?" asked We'll vote for Caw-caw Crow! We'll vote for Caw-caw Crow for watch-Bob. "Lord, no," exclaimed Jim.

Why Pay Forty, Forty-five or

Fifty Cents Per Pound

Things You'll Love to Make

What can be prettier or more appropriate to mark each guest's place at the Halloween or Thankagiving party table than this combination book-mark dinner card? Trace the pumpkin face on stiff paper. (Bristol board.) Make the lower card part as long as you dealer; not too long to prevent it from fitting the glass upon which it is to be placed. Cut on the dotted lines around the tie. Color the eyes, nose and mouth in black; the face in pumpkin yellow; the tie red, blue or green. Write the guest's name on the lower part. Place the card on the edge of the glass. These cards not only serve their purpose at the party, but will be taken home and used as a book-mark.

Bob walked a few hundred yards back through the underbrush along the river bank with Jim, finding the going all that the latter had inferred. Finally Jim suggested that Bob had better be turning back before he got lost.

"What!" laughed Bob, "with the river for a guide?"

"I'm the one that's responsible," the guide asserted himself. "I don't want you should go no further."

"Very well." acquiesced Bob good naturedly, and sat down on a fallen pine. For a few minutes after Jim's departure he considered the peculiarity of his guide's thus far-and-no-further attitude. Then, moved by a sudden impulse, he undressed, plunged into the water and swam downstream to a point where he could see beyond the bend of the river. His suspicions were justified. A half-mile away Jim was speeding toward the landing in a small skiff with an outboard motor.

"Wheat the hades." remarked Bob, and away Jim was speeding toward the landing in a small skiff with an outboard motor.

"What the hades." remarked Bob, and swam back to his clothes.

"Returning to the Waterwing, he reported simply. "Jim's right The going is rotten." But he threw a quick glance at Mrs. Hartley, knitting placidly.

"There's plenty of food in the boat," said that lady. "We'll just have to make a picnic of it until Jim gets back." And from her, the others took their cue for the time being.

But as night came on, they grew silent, especially the vivacious Madeline True, the watermelon spray hoods assured them of shelter if the rain which Jim had predicted materialized. But there were midges and mosquitoes and, annoyingly insistent, an off-key chorus of frogs. For once, Madeline was not the life of the party, and it was Eleanor's suggestion that they all "turn in even if there wasn't room to turn over," which made the hit of the evening.

The women had the cockpit with its cushions, while Bob made shift with the steersman's cubby-hole forward. Somewhere around 2 n. m. a staccato drumming on the hoods' stretched khaki canvas announced the arrival of the rain.

Came morning, damp, dismal. Somewhere the rain had leaked in and soaked the bread, so that breakfast was not all it might have been.

And Bob, who, thinking over the affair.

the bread, so that breakfast was not al! it might have been.
And Bob, who, thinking over the affair from start to finish in the still watches of the night, had heartily condemned his hostess for deliberately planning a situation wherein her daughter would shine in comparison with her daughter's possible rival, was forced to concede a grudging admiration of her perspicacity.
For cousin Madeline had lost her vitacity, More than that, she was grumpy—and murssed. Her hair, lacking its usual nightly attentions, clung in sticky, uncurling wisps to her head, while Eleanor, gamely succumbing to circumstances, had braided her abundant locks into a sirlish pigtail down her back.

And it was Eleanor who, taking pity girlish pigtail down her back.

And it was Eleanor who, taking pity on Bob's apparent boredom, routed out some fishhooks from the tool box and improvised a line by unraveling some emergency steering gear.

They tried it first from the boat; then, growing careless of the drizzle, ventured to the bank. They didn't have much luck—fishing. But Jim, shooting around the point in the outboard, grinned broadly as he saw his employer's daughter reclining comfortably in Bob's arms. Fortunately, he couldn't overhear their conversation.

asked
"Our "Mother!" exploded Eleanor. "It's just

Judse Owl groaned. "There are votes shough there to elect a president," he said.

But Billy gave a glad shout. "Here come birds that are not crows nor blackbirds. They will surely vote for Judge Owl against Caw-caw Crow!" He polaned to the cast from which was coming a line just as long as the blackbird line, and longer than the crow line, but it was a hinner line, showing that it was made up of many, many small birds.

Swiftly the long thin line raced through the sky and as it came nearer and nearer, the hopes of Peggy, Billy and Judge Owl, rose higher and higher. Then suddenly the hopes burst, just as a soap bubble does when it is, blown too hard. The hopes burst because the

ASCO

ASCO

WANAMAKER'S

DOWN STAIRS STORE

WANAMAKER'S

Let Every Household Anticipate the Needs of Winter in This Sale of Our Entire Stock of Beddings and Table Damasks at a Reduction of 25 Per Cent

In Wanamaker's Down Stairs Store

Many households have been making old things do double service. while prices have been high on things they really need. Now prices are coming down and they are coming down when they will do the most good, right at the beginning of Winter.

We don't know of a better thing for the households of Philadelphia than a sale like this.

Here are thousands of dollars' worth of seasonable merchandise of Wanamaker standard grades, taken from our own stocks and shelves and lowered in price exactly one-fourth.

This will bring to your home the things you need for Winter comfort -warm blankets, soft, thick comfortables, fresh sheets and spreads and a great deal of sturdy cotton damask, towels and so on, all at a saving of one-fourth.

A list of the new prices follows:

Double-Bed Blankets

White wool-mixed blankets, $6.75 to $10.50. Wool-mixed plaids, $7.50. White, gray and tan cotton blankets, $3.75

All-wool plaid blankets, $11.25 to $18.75.

Single-Bed Blankets

White wool-mixed blankets, $6.35 and $7.50. White all-wool blankets, $15. White wool-mixed crib blankets, $2.25 and

Wool Comforts

Wool-filled comforts covered with figured sateens and silks, $7.50 to $17.

Cotton Comforts

A Fur Stole Is Such a

Convenient Form of Warmth

$100 and $110.

New Tub Silk Blouses

4 Models at $4.90

are the most satisfactory for long service. Women know how well white habutai tubs and wears. Among these blouses you will find a long roll collar of a two-in-one collar with a finely tucked front;

a box-pleated style with a two-in-one collar; and a square-neck style

Pin-Striped Crepe de Chine Blouses, $5.90

At $15

At $16.50

deer take embroidery for their adornment.

Two wool jersey frocks in brown, navy or rein-

Navy blue fine twill serge frocks are attractively

The silk is good quality and the styles are the simple ones which

With its help a suit, a dress or a light coat can often be worn comfort-

Stoles of seal-dyed coney are $50,

Stoles of nutria are $125 and $150.

Handsome stoles of fitch are $100.

Little animal boas are in great variety, ranging in price from a natural opossum boa of one skin at $15 to a stone marten boa of two skins at $100

In between, there are stoles of mink, kolinsky and fitch, one skin each or two skins. Also, natural racoon boas

Covered with pretty figured materials at $2.10 to $7.50.

Crib comforts, cotton filled, $2.65 and $3. Jacquard blankets in block and figured designs are $4.90 to $9.35. Indian blankets are $6.35.

Sheets and Pillow Cases Seamless sheets, 81x90 inches, $1.70 to $2.25.

Other sizes are priced accordingly. Pillow cases are 25c to 50c each. Embroidered and scalloped pillow cases, 45x 36 inches, nicely boxed, are $1.85 a pair.

For the Table

Cotton table damask, 75c to $1.90 a yard. Cotton table cloths, $3.75 to $4.50. Alf-linen table cloths, 70x70 inches, $5.50. Bleached cotton napkins, $2.75 to $5.50 a

Hemmed cotton napkins, 18x18 inches, 19c

The Sale of

Rag Rugs

course, the background was laid was young. But romance of today is not lacking in the mill where these were made. It is situated in a little valley among the hills of Pennsylvania and the rugs are made on hand looms and hood homes.

$1.50 and $23.

dark colors.

borders.

strong and sturdy.

some of them in the neighbor-

The quality of the rags and the

The greatest variety is between

Hit-or-miss Colonial rag rugs.

Gingham rag rugs in light and

Plain-color rag rugs with fancy

Mixed rugs in pastel shades.

There are sizes and colors for the hall, the bedroom, the living room, the kitchen, the inclosed

Extra-heavy rag rugs.

warp used are exceptional and therefore, the rugs are unusually

There is quite a bit of romance in the story of these rugs and, of Lace-trimmed cotton centerpieces, 65c to $3. 13-piece all-white cotton luncheon sets, 85c.

All-linen 13-piece luncheon embroidered, $4.50 to $5.50.

Lace-trimmed cotton bureau scarfs, $1 to $3. All-linen bureau scarfs, scalloped and embroidered, $1.85 to $2.60.

Bed Spreads

Crochet bed spreads, $1.50 to $4.50. Satin-finish bed spreads, $4.50 to $7.50. Dimity bed spreads, $2.65, $2.85 and $3. Dimity bed sets, $4.50, $4.90 and $5.65. Satin-finish bed sets, $5.65, $10.90 and $11.25.

Turkish towels, 20c to 85c each. All-linen dish towels, hemmed, 35c to 45c in Cotton huck towels (some are part linen), 11c to 45c each.

A Most Important Sale of Seasonable Weights in Hosiery and Underwear

For Women, Children and Men now and their new prices make possible savings of 25 to 50 per cent. Every article is from our own stocks and of Wanamaker quality.

For Women

25c, for bodice top vests of ribbed white cotton,

25c, for combinations of white cotton, made with necks, narrow shoulder straps and lace trimmed knees. In size 36 only.

$1 a garment for ribbed merino vests with high necks and short sleeves or Dutch necks and elbow sleeves. Or for ankle-length tights of the same quality. Regular and extra sizes.

$1.50 for ribbed white cotton combination suits in ankle length with either high necks and short sleeves or Dutch necks and elbow sleeves.

35c, three pair for $1, for mercerized black cotton hose with mock seams. First quality.

85c for "seconds" of full fashioned silk stockings with mercerized cotton tops and soles; in black, white and cordovan.

$1.10 for full fashioned silk hose in black or cordovan; mercerized tops and soles.

$1.65 for a heavier quality of full fashioned silk hose with lisle tops, soles and toes. In black, white, navy, cordovan and Russian calf.

For Children

$1.25 for girls' combination suits of fine ribbed merino in a medium weight. They are in ankle length and have high necks and long sleeves. Sizes 2 to 12 years. (Central.)

25c a pair for boys' school hose of fine ribbed black cotton, plain or mercerized. Most of these are first quality, though there are some "seconds" of high grade stockings among them. Sizes 71/2 to 91/2. (In the Juvenile Shop, Gallery, Market.)

For Men

$1.50 for athletic union suits of white or colored cotton or of woven stripe white madras.

20c for mercerized cotton half hose in light or medium weight; in black or cordovan. "Seconds. 25c for cashmere half hose in medium and heavy weights in black or Oxford. "Seconds." 30c for mercerized cotton half hose in black or navy; reinforced feet. First quality. 40c for black and cordovan silk half hose with cotton tops and feet. "Seconds."

75c for first quality seamless half hose with reinforced feet; black, navy, cordovan and gray. These have cotton tops and soles.

(Gaffery, Market)

Plenty of Pretty Velvet Hats at $3.85

Yes, at $3.85-think of itnice velvets, some panne, in black, purple, a lovely Copenhagen or lighter blue, taupe, navy and brown! The smaller shapes with brims that roll softly upward are particularly becoming. Tucking or shirring is used on the brims of a few models, while other hats have largeheadeed pins or, again brims faced with beaver-cloth to make them interesting.

porch and the bathroom For Women and Young Women There Are New and Delightful Autumn Frocks

-Many at Special Prices The prices are moderate and there is a pleasantly varied collection of frocks for business, street, afternoon or evening wear. The most fashionable materials are

Serge Wool Jersey Charmeuse

Mignonette $21.75 to $25 for smart tricotine, serge or gabardine frocks em-broidered with wool, with leather or beads for

A navy blue frock embroidered with silk is $25. Silk mignonette frocks for afternoon wear are embroidered with bronze or black

Lovely Dance and Evening Frocks One-third Less Than Regular

And lustrous charmeuse frocks with the sleeves, skirts and bodices embroidered with blue silk and of chiffons, taffetas, crepes and the like are in delightful colorings at $16.50, $35, $39, $50 to $72.

Scrim Curtains

50 Fine Sample Coats at $21.75 for Girls of 10 to 14

Lustrous velour in navy, brown, reindeer, tan and Pekin and navy serge, goldtone or silvertone are the materials. They are in the season's good styles with blouse backs, box-pleated or novel effects, all nicely lined and warmly interlined. This is certainly the time to get the girl a Winter coat!

for Coffee, when you can buy "Asco" Blend, "the best ever poured from a coffee pot, for

ASCO

ASCO

"Asco" Blend

"The first cup convinces

The thousands of coffee enthusiasts, who "sweat Asco Blend, were agreeably surprised at our recent reduction of 6c per lb. in

This was merely another actual proof of what our Producer-to-Consumer-Plan can do, is doing, every day in the year, to cut down your table costs.

"Asco" Blend is, now more than ever, the best coffee at any price."

"Asco" Stores conveniently located all over Philadelphia and in the principal cities and towns throughout Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland.

beaded or braided.

tiny black beads are pretty.

at $1.75

a Pair

Each curtain is 34 inches wide, which makes a pair 68

inches wide and 214 yards long. The curtains are of white or ecru scrim with hemstitched borders and little lace