Wet and Irish Votes in Kentucky May Elect Republican Candidate

COX NOT SURE OF VICTORY

By CLINTON W. GILBERT respondent Evening Public Ledger Co. wille, Ky., Oct. 6.-Richard the Republican candidate for the ted States Sepate, will run ahead ator Harding in Kentucky, acrding to the general opinion. The 0,000 ahead of Harding. The Repubans think he may run 20,000 ahead. Twenty thousand will be enough to set him, for Cox will not be able to may for himself 20,000 of the 28,000 majority Wilson had in 1918. With the German vote pretty solidly going to Harding, 10,000 may be enough, for Cox's majority, if he does carry the state, will be small.

Senator Beckham, the Democratic president for the Senate has two great ince for the Senate, has two great nominee for the Senate, has two great weaknesses which Governor Cox has not. Beckham's name is anathema to the wets. And it is anathema to the Irish. Cox is regarded with favor by the wets, in spite of his recent utterances on the subject of prohibition enforcement in the West. And Cox has been steadily winning back a part of the Irish votes.

Wet Issue Figures Largely One hears more of the wet issue

It might be supposed that Beckham's loss of wet support would be compensated for by the support of the drys, for Kentucky, under local option, before the prohibition amendment went into effect, had 105 dry counties, con-taining a majority of the population. But these dry counties were the rural counties and were the strongly Demo-Ernst, the Republican candidate, is acceptable to the Republican drys. He is not openly wet. as incurable as the wet objection. He has taken as positive a stand upon the Irish question as he has upon the wet question. In San Francisco at the Democratic convention he was the leader of the opposition. Democratic convention he was the leader of the opposition to the plank which the Friends of Irish Freedom wanted put into the Democratic platform, and compassed its defeat.

A month ago the Friends of Irish Freedom addressed an open letter to the various Kentucky candidates for Congress and the Senate asking them to state their position in regard to the freeing of Ireland. Mr. Beckham did not hearitate, but replied within twenty. ecognition of the Irish republic unless ad until Ireland had actually achieved

He was against any intervention by the United States in behalf of Ireland. We was consistent with his position in Tashington and at San Francisco and titled his fate with the Irish voters of entucky.

Ernst never answered the Irishmen's etter. Again the Irish will not so much him as against Beckham. Other things are working against Beckham. The Republicans realize that they have a good chance to elect a Re-blican senator and are concentrating on doing so. Mr. Beckham is going DARLINGTON'S to be pretty badly cut, probably enough in a close election to lose him the state. The issues which are likely to defeat Beckham do not figure openly in the election. The one issue that is being discussed is the League of Nations. Ernst goes about the state making speeches every day all on this single issue. He makes a plain lawyer's statement of the case against the league as he sees it.

he sees it.

Mr. Beckham has been a loyal Wilson supporter in Washington and presents the Wilson side of the case.

One part of the state which is intensely anti-league is the eastern or mountain section, which is strongly Republican. The mountaineer never accepted the war. He sees in the league more war and more drafts.

this part of the country. But it chiefly figures in the Senate race and not so much in the national contest. That is likely to be true everywhere. The voters having come to the realization that if any one is to mitigate the severities of the Velstead act it will be Congress and not the executive.

But the wet issue is especially sharpened in Kentucky by the fact Senator Beckham has been for years the leader of the dry forces in the Democratic party of his state.

His nomination is almost as obnoxlous to the wets as would be the nomination of a leader of the Anti-Salous to the wets as would be the nomination of a leader of the Anti-Salous has been arranged. Does every man want ? more than one woman

How much suffering and unhappiness has been caused by the idea existing among young men that they may conduct themselves AS THEY PLEASE? As many sweethearts AS THEY CAN GET. Soothing their conscience with the old balm that the young man is EXPECTED to sow his wild oats.

But once this poison of self-indulgence gets into the blood is it ever going to be wiped out?

Will they be able to settle down and marry and cleave and stick to ONE WOMAN. In some cases they may, but it is apt to be a difficult job.

In most cases the poison once instilled will burn them, body and
