

MANY PRETTY GIRLS TO AID POLICE SALE

"Beauties" to Vie With "Four-Minute Men" in Selling Tickets to Carnival

WILL CANVASS THEATRES

One hundred pretty girls, whose pictures have appeared in the "Beauty Corner" of the EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER, will vie with seven former "four-minute men," who helped put across the Liberty and Victory loans, in selling tickets for the police carnival.

The girls volunteered to do their best in selling tickets and when they found the "four-minute men" also had offered their services, the "beauties" immediately challenged them to a competition to see which group could sell the most tickets.

The rivalry will be good natured, but none the less keen. The girls will find themselves up against a stiff proposition, for the "four-minute men" say that their eloquence will more than make up for the preponderance of beauty in favor of the girls when they sell tickets.

Theatres and motion picture houses will be canvassed tonight in a big attempt to bring the total of sales up to what it was in former years. Announcement of the plan was made last night at a meeting of the carnival committee in the Mayor's reception room. The carnival is scheduled for this Saturday in Shibe Park.

The sale of tickets this year is lagging far behind that of last season, and the canvassing of the city's playhouses is by way of making one final effort to place the drive "over the top." Of the $365,000 worth of tickets to be disposed of but $6480 worth had been sold last night while at this time last year $600,000 had been realized. The cause of this deficiency is an order issued by Director of Public Safety James T. Corley prohibiting policemen to canvass the city in selling tickets. That order was met with satisfaction by both public and police, but it has become evident some other means of soliciting the people's patronage must be placed in operation. It was because of that fact the aid of the former four-minute men and the young women was enlisted. During the intermission at the theatres the men will speak on behalf of the drive, while the girls will work among the audience. The workers are divided into teams of one speaker and several girls each.

FINDS RUNAWAY BOYS

Three Are Caught at Eleventh and Arch Streets by Patrolman

Three small boys, two white and one colored, were found in tears at the corner of Eleventh and Arch streets at midnight last night by Patrolman Graham, of the Eleventh and Winter streets station. Eleventh and Arch was the end of a triple runaway from home, on which the boys had decided earlier in the day.

The three were Albert Banell, fourteen years old, of 1921 Bainbridge street; Albert Donovan, ten, of 231 North Schell street; and Peter Huhla, twelve, of 406 North Parish street. They were taken to the House of Detention to await the action of their parents.

SUBWAY USERS DELAYED

Broken Trolley Pole Ties Up Traffic for Half Hour

A broken trolley pole caused a half-hour tie-up in subway-surface traffic this morning, causing hundreds of passengers to be late for work.

The tie-up occurred at Twenty-ninth and Market streets, just west of the Schuylkill river trolley bridge, at 8 o'clock. Rather than attempt to move the stalled car through the subway the P. R. T. transportation engineers diverted subway traffic over Market street.

BARTOL WILL CASE SETTLED BY HEIRS

Franklin Institute to Receive at Least $1,500,000—Daughters Get Remainder

WILL PLAN RESEARCH WORK

Franklin Institute and the two daughters of Henry Welchman Bartol, millionaire clubman, have reached an agreement over the disposition of the late sugar king's estate, valued at nearly $3,000,000.

The daughters are Baroness Katherine de Monelos and Mrs. Lucy Cheney Farr, of Wilkes-Barre. They consented the will of their father on the ground that he was under insane delusions in "cutting them off without a cent."

Maurice Bower Saul, attorney for the daughters, admitted a settlement had been agreed upon. He declined to say how much the daughters will receive under the agreement.

From representatives of the Franklin Institute it was learned that its board of managers expects to receive nearly $1,500,000. This would leave at least $500,000 for each of the daughters.

The board of managers of Franklin Institute will meet next Wednesday to discuss plans for the Electrical Research Institute, whose foundation is provided for in the Bartol will.

Mr. Bartol died December 19, 1918, at the Union League. He left an American and a French will and codicil. His ashes were placed in West-Laurel Hill Cemetery, beside those of his father.

Easy to Erect SHEETROCK WALL BOARD

A uniform sheet of heavy gypsum rock, takes any decorative treatment. It can be papered, painted or paneled. Here is what you wanted—walls and ceilings that stay put, regardless of climatic conditions.

SHEETROCK is fireproof. An insulator of heat makes the building cool in summer, warm in winter. For new construction, alterations and repairs cost is actually less than that of frail, unsatisfactory wall boards.

Ten years without a corn

Countless people boast that record now. Years ago they started using Blue-jay. Never since has a corn pained twice. And never has a corn stayed a week.

You can quickly prove that corns are needless. Millions have already done it. Think what it means. No more paring, no more pain, no more unsightly pads. Dainty shoes without unhappy hours.

Apply a touch of liquid Blue-jay or a Blue-jay plaster. The corn pain will end. And soon the whole corn will loosen and come out. The action is gentle but sure. Blue-jay is the scientific method, created by this world-famed laboratory. It is not like the methods which are harsh and crude. Try Blue-jay on one corn. Buy it tonight from your druggist. Live the rest of your life without corns.

"The workmanship on a Cadillac is simply perfect. There is no other word for it. It is far and away superior to anything I have seen elsewhere. The infinite pains taken over the infinitely small jobs are most impressive."

From an interview with the distinguished English designer, Mr. Lawrence H. Pomeroy, published in The Motor, the English National Motor Journal, August 4, 1920.

We have never spoken as strongly of the Cadillac as does this generous English critic.

Respecting the patriotic pride of England, France and Italy in their own splendid products, we have never made invidious claims of Cadillac superiority.

But, as we have said before, the group of men whose life is bound up in the betterment of the Cadillac, would be less than human if they did not experience a deep satisfaction at such tributes from European sources.

Surely, it is no slight thing for these men to be told, or for Cadillac owners to hear, that America's great car is also proclaimed the great car of the world!

We feel that there is no impropriety in publishing the facts, since England has so generously disclosed them.

We feel that every man, woman and child in the more than one hundred thousand homes in which the Cadillac is a household institution, will derive an added pride in their ownership, of which we have no right to deprive them.

It would be hypocritical for us to pretend that we believe that the English engineer who is quoted above has overstated the case in his reference to Cadillac workmanship.

"Infinite pains taken over the infinitely small jobs"—in these words he has given a true and graphic picture of the rigid rules that govern Cadillac manufacture.

Spurred on by the overwhelming tributes paid to Cadillac performance by foreign observers and American military men in the world war, Cadillac craftsmen have redoubled, during the past two years, the unflagging zeal that actuated them during the preceding fifteen years.

The Cadillac has been honored by being pronounced the greatest car extant of any size or any price, at home or abroad.

We accept the heavy responsibility which this world leadership implies, and pledge ourselves that we will endeavor to the utmost to continue to deserve it.

Let us end mistakes in shaving

Hot towels and finger-rubbing no longer necessary

LET us all know the present day facts on shaving. There is no need to use hot towels to soften the beard. Nor to rub the beard. Nor to submit our face to a lather that dries quickly on the face and irritates the skin.

Once such things were considered a necessary evil in shaving. But they are without reason today. For science has found a better way of preparing the beard for the razor. An easier way. And a quicker way. It lies in the use of Palmolive Shaving Cream. And to show what a big difference it makes in shaving, we are sending a trial tube free to every man who requests it.

Quick action
The secret of softening the beard is in emulsifying the oil that coats every hair of the beard. And Palmolive lather instantly emulsifies that oil. Then the beard—a horny substance—quickly absorbs water. This makes the hair easy to cut. With the ordinary cream or soap you have to supply hot towels or rub the beard before it can be thoroughly moistened.

Lasting lather
Palmolive lather stays moist and foamy on the face for 10 minutes. You don't have to relather as you do with the ordinary cream.

This lather is also a lotion. It contains palm and olive oils. Thus your skin is soothed and refreshed in shaving. You need no other lotion.

A new kind of a shave
You'll change your whole conception of shaving when you use Palmolive. And this we urge you to do at once. A trial tube will be sent free. There is no charge of any kind, not even for postage. So be sure to take advantage of this opportunity. Mail the coupon now.
