

HARDING'S TOUR SLIGHTLY MARRED

Prominence Given Discredited Leaders May Cost Him Votes in Missouri

RACE ISSUE POPS UP

By CLINTON W. GILBERT

As previously quoted appears the following: "How could the government of the United States go before the Congress and pretend that it had assisted in insuring the peace of the world if it believed that the settlement agreed upon here contained unstable or dangerous elements?"

"If the world should be troubled again, if the conditions which we all regard as fundamental are challenged, the guarantee which will give you will pledge that the United States will send its army and fleet across the ocean. Is it surprising, under such conditions, that it should desire to reach a solution of the various problems which seem to it satisfactory?"

The text of President Wilson's address as supplied to the White House by Mr. Carlson, follows: "Mr. President, I should be very sorry to see this meeting adjourn with permanent impressions such as it is possible have been created by some of the remarks that our friends have made."

"It should be very sorry to have the impression that we are trying to play the great power role in these great matters, or assume, because of any undue influence in these matters, and therefore I want to call your attention to one aspect of these questions which has been left unquestioned by the world."

"Would Eliminate Disturbances "We are trying a make a peaceful settlement, that is to say, to eliminate those elements of disturbance, so far as possible, which may interfere with the peace of the world. We are trying to make an equitable distribution of territories according to the race, the ethnographical character of the people inhabiting those territories."

"And back of that lies this fundamental important fact that when the decisions are made, the allied and associated powers guarantee to maintain them. It is perfectly evident, upon a moment's reflection, that the chief burden of their maintenance will fall upon the great powers. The chief burden of the war fell upon the greater powers, and if it had not been for their action—their military action—we would not be here to settle these questions."

"And, therefore, we must not close our eyes to the fact that in the last analysis the military and naval strength of the great powers will be the final guarantors of the peace of the world. "In those circumstances it is unreasonable and unjust that not as dictators, but as friends of the great powers, we should be asked to guarantee territorial settlements which we do not believe to be right, and which the great powers, if they are disturbed, will remove, which we believe will disturb the peace of the world?"

"Should Safeguard Minorities "Take the rights of minorities. Nothing, I venture to say, is more likely to disturb the peace of the world than the treatment which might in certain circumstances be meted out to minorities. And, therefore, if the great powers are to guarantee the peace of the world in any sense, it is unjust that they should be satisfied that the proper and necessary guarantees are given."

"Answers Premier Bratiano "In those circumstances it is reasonable and just to ask that the settlement be made in such a way that the United States will send her armies and her navies to see that the settlement is maintained, and that the friends of Rumania and Serbia are not deceived."

"I beg that our friends will take that view of it, because I see no escape from that view of it."

"In those circumstances it is reasonable and just to ask that the settlement be made in such a way that the United States will send her armies and her navies to see that the settlement is maintained, and that the friends of Rumania and Serbia are not deceived."

"I beg that our friends will take that view of it, because I see no escape from that view of it."

"In those circumstances it is reasonable and just to ask that the settlement be made in such a way that the United States will send her armies and her navies to see that the settlement is maintained, and that the friends of Rumania and Serbia are not deceived."

"I beg that our friends will take that view of it, because I see no escape from that view of it."

"In those circumstances it is reasonable and just to ask that the settlement be made in such a way that the United States will send her armies and her navies to see that the settlement is maintained, and that the friends of Rumania and Serbia are not deceived."

"I beg that our friends will take that view of it, because I see no escape from that view of it."

"In those circumstances it is reasonable and just to ask that the settlement be made in such a way that the United States will send her armies and her navies to see that the settlement is maintained, and that the friends of Rumania and Serbia are not deceived."

"I beg that our friends will take that view of it, because I see no escape from that view of it."

LEAGUE CASE UP TO JURY, SAYS COX

Nominee Asserts Taft Has Reputed Harding Plan for World Association

FOUR CURATIVES FOR WAR

By the Associated Press

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 11.—The League of Nations "case is about ready for the jury," Governor Cox declared here today in an address launching his Illinois campaign.

Senator Harding, his Republican opponent, Governor Cox said, has given what appears to be an "ultimatum" against the league, and the American electorate, the Democratic nominee said, has an unequalled opportunity of "making a contribution to the civilized world."

Following up his publication of correspondence between President Wilson and former President Taft, in which the latter appeared as the President's adviser in the league drafting, Governor Cox quoted Mr. Taft in an effort to show that the former President had repudiated Senator Harding's plan for a new world association. The governor said that the former President, Chairman Hays, of the Republican National Committee, was behind a "conspiracy of silence" to stifle the Democratic campaign in the Republican press and otherwise.

Despite his three days of whirlwind campaigning, in which he made more than forty speeches in Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri and Oklahoma, Senator Harding was up early yesterday and smilingly greeted a crowd of well-wishers, coming out to the rear platform at nearly every station and leaving his car in St. Louis for a public reception for a great crowd which gathered at the Union Station platform.

The mayor of Nevada, who was in the crowd about the nominee's car at that station and he reminded Mr. Harding that it was the old home of the late Senator Stone, who was a Democratic chairman of the foreign relations committee.

"I am very glad that you reminded me of that," said the candidate in a short talk to the crowd. "While I differed with the late Senator Stone in his opinion, he was one of the men I ever knew, and I was very proud to count him one of my very dear personal friends."

Another, on April 12, signed by Mr. Taft and A. Lawrence Lowell, read: "Friends of the country are seriously alarmed at the report that no amendment will be made more specifically safeguarding Monroe Doctrine. At full meeting of executive committee of League to Enforce Peace, with thirty members from eighteen states present, unanimous opinion that without such amendment Republican senators will certainly defeat ratification of treaty because public opinion will sustain them. With such amendment treaty will be promptly ratified."

The White House memorandum, made public by Governor Cox, said that the league's reservation of domestic questions was made "as suggested by Mr. Taft and almost in his own words. All other suggestions were adopted from quotations from the league covenant."

In making public the correspondence, Governor Cox said that the time and arrived "to bring before the American jury the recorded evidence that the league is the composite thought of the leading statesmen."

The White House memorandum, containing the cables exchanged between President Wilson and Mr. Taft, stated that in "every instance" the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion, and that "every suggestion of Mr. Taft was followed literally."

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

HARDING ARRIVES HOME FROM TOUR

Special Train Makes Up Five Hours, Giving Nominee Time to Prepare for Tennessee

MAY CANCEL EASTERN TRIP

By the Associated Press

Marion, O., Oct. 11.—Senator Harding returned to Marion today from his last eastern speaking trip and began a busy program of work at his office, clearing away odds and ends of campaign business preparatory to leaving tomorrow to speak in Tennessee.

In the last part of his trip here from Oklahoma City the senator's special train was put on a fast schedule, and it reached Marion five hours sooner than was originally planned. The change, it was said, was to give the nominee more time at his desk here before he leaves for the South.

It was the short stop and a lay-over of three-quarters of an hour in St. Louis, the Harding train was routed for a continuous run from Oklahoma City, Okla., where he spoke Saturday night, to Marion, where he will arrive this afternoon. He will leave again twenty-four hours later for a swing through the political border states.

With his political advisers on the train the candidate discussed again to-day a question of an eastern speaking trip in late October. An address at Buffalo on October 21 already has been announced, but it was indicated that the whole plan to go into the East might be given up.

Despite his three days of whirlwind campaigning, in which he made more than forty speeches in Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri and Oklahoma, Senator Harding was up early yesterday and smilingly greeted a crowd of well-wishers, coming out to the rear platform at nearly every station and leaving his car in St. Louis for a public reception for a great crowd which gathered at the Union Station platform.

The mayor of Nevada, who was in the crowd about the nominee's car at that station and he reminded Mr. Harding that it was the old home of the late Senator Stone, who was a Democratic chairman of the foreign relations committee.

"I am very glad that you reminded me of that," said the candidate in a short talk to the crowd. "While I differed with the late Senator Stone in his opinion, he was one of the men I ever knew, and I was very proud to count him one of my very dear personal friends."

Another, on April 12, signed by Mr. Taft and A. Lawrence Lowell, read: "Friends of the country are seriously alarmed at the report that no amendment will be made more specifically safeguarding Monroe Doctrine. At full meeting of executive committee of League to Enforce Peace, with thirty members from eighteen states present, unanimous opinion that without such amendment Republican senators will certainly defeat ratification of treaty because public opinion will sustain them. With such amendment treaty will be promptly ratified."

The White House memorandum, made public by Governor Cox, said that the league's reservation of domestic questions was made "as suggested by Mr. Taft and almost in his own words. All other suggestions were adopted from quotations from the league covenant."

In making public the correspondence, Governor Cox said that the time and arrived "to bring before the American jury the recorded evidence that the league is the composite thought of the leading statesmen."

The White House memorandum, containing the cables exchanged between President Wilson and Mr. Taft, stated that in "every instance" the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion, and that "every suggestion of Mr. Taft was followed literally."

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

LEAGUE CASE UP TO JURY, SAYS COX

Nominee Asserts Taft Has Reputed Harding Plan for World Association

FOUR CURATIVES FOR WAR

By the Associated Press

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 11.—The League of Nations "case is about ready for the jury," Governor Cox declared here today in an address launching his Illinois campaign.

Senator Harding, his Republican opponent, Governor Cox said, has given what appears to be an "ultimatum" against the league, and the American electorate, the Democratic nominee said, has an unequalled opportunity of "making a contribution to the civilized world."

Following up his publication of correspondence between President Wilson and former President Taft, in which the latter appeared as the President's adviser in the league drafting, Governor Cox quoted Mr. Taft in an effort to show that the former President had repudiated Senator Harding's plan for a new world association. The governor said that the former President, Chairman Hays, of the Republican National Committee, was behind a "conspiracy of silence" to stifle the Democratic campaign in the Republican press and otherwise.

Despite his three days of whirlwind campaigning, in which he made more than forty speeches in Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri and Oklahoma, Senator Harding was up early yesterday and smilingly greeted a crowd of well-wishers, coming out to the rear platform at nearly every station and leaving his car in St. Louis for a public reception for a great crowd which gathered at the Union Station platform.

The mayor of Nevada, who was in the crowd about the nominee's car at that station and he reminded Mr. Harding that it was the old home of the late Senator Stone, who was a Democratic chairman of the foreign relations committee.

"I am very glad that you reminded me of that," said the candidate in a short talk to the crowd. "While I differed with the late Senator Stone in his opinion, he was one of the men I ever knew, and I was very proud to count him one of my very dear personal friends."

Another, on April 12, signed by Mr. Taft and A. Lawrence Lowell, read: "Friends of the country are seriously alarmed at the report that no amendment will be made more specifically safeguarding Monroe Doctrine. At full meeting of executive committee of League to Enforce Peace, with thirty members from eighteen states present, unanimous opinion that without such amendment Republican senators will certainly defeat ratification of treaty because public opinion will sustain them. With such amendment treaty will be promptly ratified."

The White House memorandum, made public by Governor Cox, said that the league's reservation of domestic questions was made "as suggested by Mr. Taft and almost in his own words. All other suggestions were adopted from quotations from the league covenant."

In making public the correspondence, Governor Cox said that the time and arrived "to bring before the American jury the recorded evidence that the league is the composite thought of the leading statesmen."

The White House memorandum, containing the cables exchanged between President Wilson and Mr. Taft, stated that in "every instance" the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion, and that "every suggestion of Mr. Taft was followed literally."

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

HARDING ARRIVES HOME FROM TOUR

Special Train Makes Up Five Hours, Giving Nominee Time to Prepare for Tennessee

MAY CANCEL EASTERN TRIP

By the Associated Press

Marion, O., Oct. 11.—Senator Harding returned to Marion today from his last eastern speaking trip and began a busy program of work at his office, clearing away odds and ends of campaign business preparatory to leaving tomorrow to speak in Tennessee.

In the last part of his trip here from Oklahoma City the senator's special train was put on a fast schedule, and it reached Marion five hours sooner than was originally planned. The change, it was said, was to give the nominee more time at his desk here before he leaves for the South.

It was the short stop and a lay-over of three-quarters of an hour in St. Louis, the Harding train was routed for a continuous run from Oklahoma City, Okla., where he spoke Saturday night, to Marion, where he will arrive this afternoon. He will leave again twenty-four hours later for a swing through the political border states.

With his political advisers on the train the candidate discussed again to-day a question of an eastern speaking trip in late October. An address at Buffalo on October 21 already has been announced, but it was indicated that the whole plan to go into the East might be given up.

Despite his three days of whirlwind campaigning, in which he made more than forty speeches in Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri and Oklahoma, Senator Harding was up early yesterday and smilingly greeted a crowd of well-wishers, coming out to the rear platform at nearly every station and leaving his car in St. Louis for a public reception for a great crowd which gathered at the Union Station platform.

The mayor of Nevada, who was in the crowd about the nominee's car at that station and he reminded Mr. Harding that it was the old home of the late Senator Stone, who was a Democratic chairman of the foreign relations committee.

"I am very glad that you reminded me of that," said the candidate in a short talk to the crowd. "While I differed with the late Senator Stone in his opinion, he was one of the men I ever knew, and I was very proud to count him one of my very dear personal friends."

Another, on April 12, signed by Mr. Taft and A. Lawrence Lowell, read: "Friends of the country are seriously alarmed at the report that no amendment will be made more specifically safeguarding Monroe Doctrine. At full meeting of executive committee of League to Enforce Peace, with thirty members from eighteen states present, unanimous opinion that without such amendment Republican senators will certainly defeat ratification of treaty because public opinion will sustain them. With such amendment treaty will be promptly ratified."

The White House memorandum, made public by Governor Cox, said that the league's reservation of domestic questions was made "as suggested by Mr. Taft and almost in his own words. All other suggestions were adopted from quotations from the league covenant."

In making public the correspondence, Governor Cox said that the time and arrived "to bring before the American jury the recorded evidence that the league is the composite thought of the leading statesmen."

The White House memorandum, containing the cables exchanged between President Wilson and Mr. Taft, stated that in "every instance" the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion, and that "every suggestion of Mr. Taft was followed literally."

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance. The correspondence indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestion was followed literally, and that the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestion in every instance.

STORM FAMILY IS RIGHT

Eleven Children by Former Marriage in Domestic Quarrel

HURT IN GAMING ROW

William Staws, twenty-nine years old, 2636 South Lemmering street, was stabbed in the abdomen by a negro after the two disagreed in a crap game today. Staws chased his assailant for a square, after being stabbed. He then collapsed.

Staws and the negro argued about a quarter, the police say. Staws was taken to the Roosevelt Hospital, where he is in a critical condition. The stabbing occurred at the Willow street wharf.

Storm frequently beat Storm's children by his first wife, Mrs. Storm countered that her husband often whipped her four children by her first husband. The twelfth child, an infant, apparently did not figure in the domestic difficulties.

"This is a case for Solomon to decide," remarked a Magistrate Price, who sat in the Twenty-second street and Hunting Park avenue station. "If I send you to prison," he said, addressing Storm, "your wife and the twelve children may not be enough to eat. I will compromise by holding you in $300 bail to keep the peace."

Storm announced his intention of appealing to the domestic relations court (or relief).

ASCO STORES CO. AMERICAN YOUR OPPORTUNITY lies in our advantageous connection with the food markets of the world. Striking proof— Big, Meaty, Selected EGGS doz 62c "Eggs you can be SURE of" Every egg sold over our counters is strictly guaranteed to be sweet and wholesome. Eat more eggs—they're all nourishment. Van Camp's Tomato Vegetable or Chicken SOUP 10c Sweet Sugar Corn can 11c Choice Quality Tomatoes 10c med can Calif. Lima Beans lb 12 1/2c Save Your Money! "Asco" Coffee lb 29c "Asco" Rolled Oats pkg 11c Calif. Prunes lb 24c-28c Cream Mints 25c Fancy Yellow ONIONS lb 2 1/2c Best Head Rice lb 16c Fancy Sweet Potatoes 3 lbs 13c Neko Brand California Sardines 19c New Pack Peas 14c-20c-23c can "Louella" Butter lb 73c "Asco" Blend Teas lb 45c Richland Butter lb 67c Acorn Evaporated Milk, big can 13c "Asco" Oleomargarine lb 36c Cakes & Crackers Fresh from the Ovens Trenton Crackers, lb 18c Best Soda Crackers, lb 17c Oysterettes, pkg 8c Spiced Wafers, lb 26c Graham Crackers, lb 26c Butter Thin Biscuits, lb 32c "Asco" Pretzels, lb pkg 25c Fresh Saltines, lb 26c Pantry Cookies, lb 32c Goodrich Tomato SOUP 6c PURE Grape Juice 29c Table Needs Money-Saving Prices Calif. Seed Raisins, pk 28c Fresh Pack Currants, pk 25c Baker's Coconut, can 15c American Maid Catsup 17c "Asco" Dried Beef, pkg 15c "Asco" Sliced Bacon, pkg 25c Calif. Sliced Peaches, can 28c Pure Olive Oil, can 40-70c Ex. Fine Calif. Cherries 28c The Perfect Loaf Victor BREAD (The Good Big Loaf) 9c These Prices in All Our 172 Sanitary Meat Markets Prime Chuck or Pot Roasts, lb 22c Lean Soup Meat 14c Large Marrow Bone 5c Clean Sweet Suet 10c Tender Stewing Beef 18c Fresh Hamburg Steak 25c GENUINE MUTTON Breast 8c Neck 12c Shoulders 16c Loin Chops lb 35c Rack Chops, lb 25c Rib Chops, lb 20c Legs, lb 28c Delicious Country Scrapple—Pure Pork Sausage Finest Sour Krout at 10c Stores conveniently located all over Philadelphia and in the principal cities and towns of Penna., New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland

Wilson Gives Out Reply to Spencer

Continued from Page One by Secretary Tammity with this comment: "This letter speaks for itself." Senator Spencer, in his reply to President Wilson's telegram of October 5, said the senatorial action which he attributed to the President, "was made upon the floor of the Senate on February 2, 1920, by Senator Keim and so far as I have learned, has never been denied until now." In his speech of February 2, Senator Reed quoted from a copyrighted syndicated article by Frank H. Simonds, which purported to give the text of the President's address at the eighth plenary session and which Senator Johnson, of California, caused to be inserted into the Congressional Record on December 4, 1919. Along with Mr. Carlson's transcript, the White House issued in parallel columns "for comparison" the version of the President's speech as given in Mr. Simonds's article as it appears in the Congressional Record on the opposite column from the official version of the President's words.

Gloomy Homes

cause unrest in the family. The girls and boys prefer to visit their friends whose homes are more attractive. You personally feel better in a properly lighted room. Get rid of your old-fashioned gloomy lighting fixtures. The Horn & Brannen Mfg. Co. 427-133 North Broad Street A Short Walk Along Automobile Row

Standard Oil Company of Pennsylvania. The Horn & Brannen Mfg. Co. 427-133 North Broad Street A Short Walk Along Automobile Row