Cleveland, O., Oct. 13.—Rube Marquard, Brooklyn's left-handed pitcher, was found guilty of ticket scalping in connection with the world series before City Judge Silbert and was fined $1 and costs. Just as soon as President Ebbets of the Brooklyn club heard of the result of Marquard's case he announced that Rube would never pitch for the Dodgers

Marquard was arrested at the Hotel Winton on Saturday by Detective Sou-Winton on Saturday by Detective Soukoup, who swore out an affidavit that Marquard had offered to sell six tickets for the world series games in Cleveland for $350. At the end of the trial Judge Silbert snid: "I am satisfied that Marquard has violated the law and the spirit of the law, but I believe he has been punished enough by being written up more than any presidential candidate, and feel that this has been a lesson to him."

Mr. Ebbets stated that he would not stand in the way of Marquard receiving his money. The National Commission may take a different view of it. Marquard's act, however, has barred him from the Brooklyn Baseball Club, and it is expected that the other club owners will take the same attitude toward the Brooklyn pitcher.

The loss of Eby and Maxam was a severe blow to the students and Coach Robertson when the news became gen eral yesterday afternoon. Both mer were well liked and extremely popular with the student body. Before the opening of school Eby and Maxam worked out on Franklin Field and gave every indication that they would re-turn to the University.

The loss of these two stars marks the third deflection in the ranks of the trackmen at Pennsylvania. Only last week Jimmy Patterson, the former A. A. U. sprint champion, packed up and left the University for Colgate. With him went a scrub football player who later returned saying that he wasn't satisfied with the surroundings. Scholastic difficulties were the reason advanced for l'atterson's leaving, but so far this has not been given as the cause of the move by Eby and Maxam. While the rumors of the loss of Eby and Maxam were floating across the campus the varsity and scrubs were indulging in another titanic struggle with the former the victors, five touch with the former the victors, five touchdowns to none. The varsity was a

spite of this they showed a marked
