What William Penn Paid the Indians for the Land He Purchased in What Is Now the State of Pennsylvania

On this two hundred and seventy-sixth anniversary of the birthday of the man who founded Philadelphia and the State of Pennsylvania, it is interesting to note what William Penn paid to the aborigines for the land upon which this city now stands.

THIS INDENTURE WITNESSETH, That we, Packanah, Jackhan, Sickals, Partquesott, Jervis, Essepank, Felktroy, Hekellappan Eonus, Machloha Mettheonge, Wissa Powey, Indian Kings, Sachemakers, right owners of all lands, from Quing Quingus, called Duck Creek, unto Upland, called Chester Creek, all along the west side of the Delaware River, and so between the said creeks backwards as far as a man can ride in two days with a horse, for and in consideration of these following goods to us in hand paid, and secured to be paid by William Penn, Proprietor and Governor of the Province of Pennsylvania, and territories thereof, viz., twenty guns, twenty fathoms matchcoat, twenty fathoms strong water, twenty blankets, twenty kettles, twenty pounds of powder, one hundred bars of lead, forty tomahawks, one hundred knives, forty pair of stockings, one barrel of beer, twenty pounds red lead, one hundred fathoms of wampum, thirty glass bottles, thirty pewter spoons, one hundred owl blades, three hundred tobacco pipes, one hundred hands of tobacco, twenty tobacco tongs, twenty steels, three hundred flints, thirty pair of scissors, thirty combs, sixty looking-glasses, two hundred needles, one skipple of salt, thirty pounds of sugar, five gallons of molasses, twenty tobacco boxes, one hundred jews-harps, twenty hoes, thirty gimlets, thirty wooden screw boxes, one hundred strings of beads, do hereby acknowledge, etc. Given under our hands, etc., at New Castle, second day of the eighth month, 1685.

The above is a true copy from a copy taken from the original by Ephraim Morton, now living in Washington County, Pennsylvania, formerly a clerk in the land office, which copy he gave to Mr. Hutton, and from which the above was taken in Little York, this seventh of December, 1813.

Evidently Father Penn controlled more than two hundred years ago a business establishment with a large assortment of merchandise on hand.

How surprised he would be if instead of standing on the top of City Hall he should take a few steps along Market and Juniper and Chestnut and Thirteenth, and come inside and take one of our hydraulic elevators and step off on each floor and see the quantity of merchandise that covers the forty-five acres of floors and galleries under this one roof!

500 Beautiful Hanging Mirrors Join the Furniture Movement at a Price Lowering of 30 Per Cent

It is hardly likely that there has ever been as great a Mirror Sale as this in Philadelphia.

Certainly the collection of mirrors comprised in it is very fine and remarkable. There is a magnificent choice in several beautiful and much-favored styles, notably Adam, Italian Renaissance, Colonial, English, Gothic, Chinese-Chippendale motifs and many charming and unconventional types, some with hand-painted panels and remarkable floral designs done in wrought iron. There are mirrors in this Sale priced all the way from $7 to $490, and, as scarcely any two are alike, you can imagine the variety.

The few here listed are typical of the collection, but they give only a very limited idea of the range of choice. All are marked 30 per cent less than regular prices.

Men's Clothing Fashions for the Coming Season

Fashions in men's suits and overcoats are just a little finer, we think, than they have ever been before.

There is a dignity about their lines this year with a lessened tendency toward the extreme features of the past.

Fabrics are back to pre-war quality and patterns are as rich and beautiful as we have ever shown in men's clothing.

The new Winter overcoats are in rough and smooth woollens in browns, grays, greens and heather mixtures, and they are striking in their combinations.

The coats are in single and double breasted box lines and in double-breasted town and country ulster models. Some have new treatments in sleeves or belts. All have belted backs, some with the belts all around.

In the medium-weight rain-proofed coats, 48 inches long, are brown and gray tweeds in light shades.

Here is a summary of the price ranges in suits and overcoats for men and young men:

Suits, $40 to $90.

Fall overcoats, $45 to $75.

Winter overcoats, $47 to $90.

Raincoats, $30 to $60.

$3, Two Meals and a Motor Ride to Do the Family Wash

A daily paper recently published a story from one of its out-of-town correspondents to the effect that because of the exorbitant demands of landladies in his town there has been a big demand for both hand and electric washing machines.

The Easy Electric Vacuum Washer will work quicker and better than any washer woman and at the present cost of labor it will not be very long before it pays for itself.

It is different from every other washing machine because it operates on the suction principle. Two vacuum cups inside the tub move up and down sixty times a minute forcing the soapy water through the mesh of the garments and the suction carries out any foreign substance or dirt. It doesn't in the least injure the daintiest fabrics.

The Easy Vacuum electric washer may be bought for $160 for the zinc or $175 for the copper type.

Saruk Rugs, Finest of Persian Weaves, in Rich Choice at 50 Per Cent Less Than Ruling Prices

There is an old saying to the effect that "a true tale speeds best being plainly told."

We might tell the story of this wonderful lot of Saruk carpets in a less direct and commercial way, in a way more in harmony with their beauty and charm, but we could not tell it in a truer way.

Everybody who knows anything of Oriental rugs knows that Saruks are among the most superb weaves produced in that country.

And everybody who knows anything of the value of Saruk rugs in the market today is bound to be interested by the list of Saruk pieces and their prices printed here. It is probably safe to say that they are the lowest-priced lot of fine rugs in America and that in at least five years there have been no such rugs offered anywhere in this country at the prices.
