

2 MEN SURPRISED RANSACKING HOUSE

Resident Holds One While Other
Escapes After Exciting Chase
by Crowding

BURGLAR TOOLS ARE FOUND

Raymond Sittin returned from work late yesterday afternoon and surprised two men who were ransacking the dining room of his home at 3324 Huntingdon street.

Sittin seized both men by the collars of their coats and succeeded in dragging them to the front door of his home. Then he shouted for help.

One of the men struggled from Sittin's grasp and escaped. The other man was held until patrolmen arrived, and took him to the Twenty-sixth and York streets station. He said he is John Westerfield, of Huntingdon street near Twenty-fourth.

A score of pedestrians saw the other robber escape from Sittin's clutches. They pursued him on Huntingdon street to Ridge avenue and southeast on Ridge avenue. The crowd increased as the chase proceeded, but the robber disappeared down a side street. Members of Sittin's family were away yesterday afternoon. The robbers entered his house by jimmying a rear window.

The police say they found burglar's tools in Westerfield's pockets. He will be given a hearing today before Magistrate Oswald.

Girl, 11, Ends Life by Gas

Reading, Pa., Oct. 15.—Dependent since attack of influenza two years ago, Miss Minerva F. Leshier, a stenographer, twenty-five years old, ended her life last evening by inhaling illuminating gas at her home. She was found in the bathroom by her mother and died while being taken to a hospital.

LARGEST OLD BOOK STORE IN AMERICA

If Leary's kept a visitors' book, names of the most famous people who ever visited Philadelphia would be found registered therein. And we have many "regulars"—men and women who dropped in once to find a certain book, but who continue to come because they found satisfaction and quiet enjoyment.

The Hare and the Tortoise

In advertising, as in finance, there is an occasional Ponzi.

In a popular play of a few years ago—"It Pays to Advertise," the youthful and exuberant hero marketed a soap—"13—unlucky for dirt," with overwhelming success.

The soap cost 3 cents, and after the second act, sold for $1.00 in tremendous quantities.

This dramatic profit came, of course, from a whirlwind campaign of publicity, and so the thesis that it pays to advertise was proved and everybody lived happily forever after.

People like to dream of striking the popular chord one terrific wallop and cashing in millions, but it isn't being done.

The public is lethargic, stupid, forgetful, and advertising success must be planned in terms of years of time and the continued, persistent, never-ending application of power.

Advertising space in the Butterick Publications is for sale through accredited advertising agencies.

TO THE REPUBLICAN WOMEN VOTERS OF PENNSYLVANIA

Do not be misled by specious arguments to induce you to split your ticket this fall. Every subterfuge is being used and will be used to persuade you that you should show your independence by splitting your ticket and voting for certain Democratic candidates.

Do not be deceived. A split ticket always helps the minority party, which is the Democratic party. You will not find a Democrat urging Democratic women to be non-partisan. These arguments are always reserved by them for Republican women to mislead them. There is no such thing as a non-partisan ticket. You are either for or against the Republican party and Republican principles.

You are either for Harding or you are against him, and if you are for him you can't afford to tie his hands by giving him a Democratic Congress. A vote for a Democrat is a vote against the great principles for which the Republicans are fighting this fall.

The Republicans stand for a free America, free from European entanglements, free from being required to send their sons across the water to take part in wars in foreign countries.

They stand for a manly, independent America in its foreign policy and for the protection of American homes, American ideals and American business in its home policy.

When you hear one talking about being non-partisan, set him or her down as being a Democrat and be on your guard.
MRS. BARCLAY H. WARBURTON,
Chairman Republican Women's Committee of Pennsylvania.

These Clothing Prices Are Lower Because We Make Them Lower

The public expect lower prices, and in many lines they are lower—simply because, in many instances, we sacrifice our profit to help bring down the cost of living right now.
