

HOME AGAIN. Man O' War, the famous racehorse owned by Samuel D. Riddle, of Glen Riddle, arrived from Windsor early yesterday. He had spent a few days in Canada and while there was able to defeat Sir Barton, the widely talked of Canadian steed. Mrs. Riddle took our photographer out to the stables to photograph the hero horse, and while she gazed at Man O' War the camera clicked.

WANTS TO BE FRIENDLY. President Alvaro Obregon, of the Mexican republic, on a recent trip to southern United States. He is shown at Fort Bliss, Texas, with the mayor of El Paso.

THE SMALLEST AUTOMOBILE. Miss Uia Sharon, a New York actress, appears in the car on Fifth avenue. It is an electric.

SURE ECCENTRIC. This costume is being worn by a chorus girl in a show being played in London. It's the work of Paul Poiret, a Paris designer.

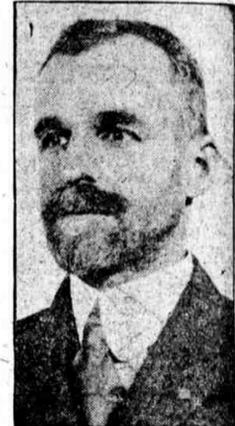

WILL PILOT TEAM. Miss E. Cheston, of Chestnut Hill, who is the captain of the hockey players.

IN ACTION. Miss Elizabeth Wiener completing the swing following a drive that resulted in a goal.

THE START. This is the way a hockey game starts. Opposing players hold sticks against the hockey ball until play is called.

W. BRADFORD WILLIAMS discusses war's effect on Philadelphia's industry in an interview on the editorial page.

OPPONENTS IN FINALS TODAY. They won their matches in the semifinals of the Berthelyn women's golf cup match, over the Huntingdon Valley course yesterday.

Miss Alexa Stirling, national champion (left) and Mrs. W. A. Gavin. It is not the first time these two women have met in final matches.

RALPH I. LEVERING, of Roxborough, who recently was elected moderator of the Philadelphia Baptist Association.

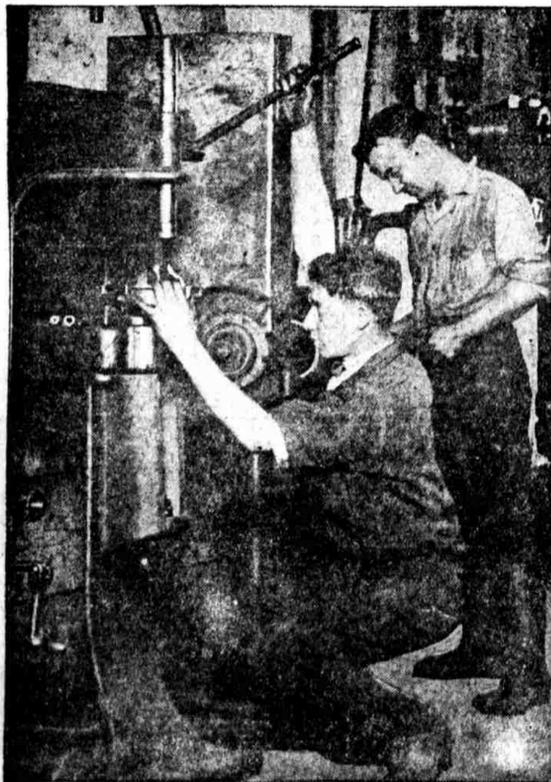

RADNOR DEFEATS LANSDOWNE. These high school teams played a wonderful game yesterday afternoon. It was Radnor's ball in the action play shown above. At the right is Captain Ferry, of the Radnor team.

Ferry's gains did much to assist in the score made.

OUR CITY'S WORKERS AND WHAT THEY DO

ROMEO GALLANTI, 1069 Donnie street, and Frank Todd, 2115 North Lawrence street, operating drill presses at the shop of the Broadway Cycle Company, 627 Market street.

AT DEL MONTE. Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., formerly Miss Rachel Littleton, on her honeymoon, in California.

WILL TACKLE PENN TODAY. Several of the players on the up-state football team are over six feet. Left to right, Bob Carney, end, six feet two inches; Joe Lebacka, half-back, six feet one inch, and James Deibel, tackle, six feet three inches.

THE BEAUTY CORNER

MISS TESSIE TESSLER 3038 West Susquehanna avenue Philadelphia