

LEGIONS TO KEEP ARMISTICE DAY

Philadelphia Posts and Others Will Ask Public to Join Celebration

GEARTY BAND GETS HONOR

Armistice Day will be celebrated by most American Legion posts in Philadelphia and by posts throughout the United States.

Department Commander David J. Davis said today every effort is being made for a general observance of the day.

Many posts will distribute Victory medals. Although the War Department has established offices for distribution of these medals, relatively few men have taken advantage of the facilities.

Among the Philadelphia posts which have already planned Armistice Day celebrations are Toga Post No. 119; William T. Slietline Post, Harbert Warner Post and Walter M. Gearty Post. The public will be asked to join in the patriotic affairs, at which there will be appropriate speeches, singing and entertainment.

Fred W. Galbraith, national commander, has asked that every legionnaire wear a blood-red poppy, the Legion flower, on this day. This symbolizes the sacrifice of blood of thousands of American dead and wounded.

Commander Davis has set out to double the state Legion membership of 55,000 in the remaining nine months of his administration. By action of the national convention, new members may be enrolled now and, by payment of national dues of $1.25, become full-paid members until December 31, 1921.

The band of Walter M. Gearty Post made its debut last night, playing big time. It was chosen to play for the Harding-Coolidge rally at the Academy of Music. The band is composed of forty men, many of whom were veterans. The post has more overseas veterans than any other in the city. The veterans wore their new uniforms last night, the most spectacular part of which are the red coats. They wore also their Victory medals.

Captain Walter M. Gearty Post, No. 315, has sent out invitations to a reception and dance in honor of David J. Davis, commander of the American Legion, Department of Pennsylvania, members of the Legion now will be held in combination with a reunion of the veterans of the 100th Infantry, Twenty-eighth Division, and of the veterans of the Civil, Spanish-American and world wars.

Toga Post, No. 319, will celebrate Armistice Day, November 11, with an informal reception and dance at the Nicotown Boys' Club at Eighteenth street and Hunting Park avenue.

The feature of the evening will be the presentation of the Victory Medals to the ex-service men of the community, and to the next of kin of those who gave up their lives during the war, or who have passed away since the end of hostilities.

WOUNDED SOLDIER SOUGHT BY FRIENDS

Post Commander Has Been Missing Since Sept. 6—Think Mind Is Affected

SERVED IN ARGONNE DRIVE

Harry Albany Conner, commander of Post No. 251, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and wounded veteran of the Argonne drive, is believed to be wandering helplessly about the city a derelict because of mental incapacity due to his wounds.

Conner disappeared September 6 from his home at 3424 Wallace street, and no trace of him has been found since, although the police veterans' association has taken up the search in an effort to bring the former soldier back to his friends.

Conner served with the 315th Field Hospital, attached to the Eighteenth Division and was gassed twice and wounded in the Argonne drive. He is thirty-four years old, 5 feet 7 1/2 inches in height, weighs between 140 and 145 pounds, has black hair, thinning on top and blue-gray eyes. It is believed he has a scar on the top of his head from a scalp wound.

Any information concerning Conner, or his whereabouts, is requested by James Milne, Jr., adjutant of Post No. 251, Veterans of Foreign Wars, 523 Hadison avenue, Camden, N. J., or Benjamin P. Thomas, chaplain of Post No. 251, V. F. W., 308 North Thirty-seventh street, Philadelphia.

MOVING DAY JINX ACTIVE

Family Got Lost, Horse Ran Away and Two Were Hurt

Howard Miller and his family were forced to move yesterday from their home near Twenty-second and Hunting-down streets. The only house they could find was in Flourtown, near Chestnut Hill.

Miller put his wife and two children on his dray wagon, which had been loaded with part of his household belongings and started for Flourtown. He was misdirected and reached Jenkintown, five miles off the road to Flourtown. When the moving party reached Walnut street hill, the horse ran away and the wagon containing the Miller family and most of their belongings was overturned.

Miller and his three-months-old son, Howard, escaped injury. His wife and six-year-old son, Harry, were cut and bruised and were treated at the Abington Hospital. Jenkintown citizens came to the rescue of the family and helped them reach Flourtown with their furniture.
