KIDNAPPING TALE STARTS VAIN HUNT

West Philadelphia Lieutenant Can't Find Bandits, Victim or Informant

REPORTED BY TELEPHONE

Lieutenant Montgomery, of the Fifty-fifth and Pine streets station, spent most of the night in an automobile trying to verify a telephone story of the blackjacking and kidnapping of a full grown man.

Shortly after 2 o'clock he was roused by the sergeant of the station house. who told him an excited person was on the telephone with the slugging and kidnapping story.

Lieutenant Montgomery talked to the Then the alarmist hung up. Lieutenant Montgomery pressed into service an automobile loaned to him by a resident nearby to help run down the bandits who have been working in the dis-the northerst corner and after slugging for leading rotes in Bremen, where to an automobile, in which a man were sitting, on the opposite side of the street. Then the machine speed away.

Lieutemant Montgomery spent hours searching for the kidnapping machine without success. He also has been un-

John Long, thirty-seven years old, of 2334 North Mascher street, a patrolman of the Second and Christian streets station, accidentally shot off the index finger of his left hand last night.

He was visiting at the home of his cousin, Harry Arndt, at 133 East Lip-pincott street. The men were examining a revolver when it exploded. Long was taken to the Episcopal Hospital.
