

PROTECTIVE TARIFF LAUDED BY HARDING

Senator Contrasts Democratic 'Phrase-Making' and G. O. P. 'Performance' in Address

BEGINS TWO-DAY SWING

By the Associated Press. Jackson, O., Oct. 20.—Democratic 'phrase-making' and Republican 'performance' were contrasted by Senator Harding in a speech here today lauding the protective tariff policy as an example of Republican accomplishment.

Speaks at Barbecue. The Republican nominee, making a speech at a political barbecue, gave particular attention to the iron and steel industry as it has developed in this section of Ohio. This industry, throughout the country, he said, has given an illustration of "the success which attends the combination of the hands and brains of workers whose interests are so bound together in a common cause that upon the part of all there will be profound realization of the need for mutual consideration."

Impulse for Men to Labor. "With all the natural resources and the good fortune of geographical position, the growth and progress of our people's existence of the 600 or more companies which are making iron and steel in the United States is based upon the impulse given men to labor."

"I would like to see the standards of living among foreign nations raised up to our standards of living, but I do not intend to see our prosperity and our standards of living lowered to meet the competition of foreign countries' markets."

Sympathetic as I may be with our brethren in foreign nations, we stand for a proper policy of American protection, flexible, subject to readjustments, fair to our consumers and yet protecting American investments and the interests and standard of living of those American laborers who do their part by giving us 100 per cent efficiency in their productive effort.

ASSERTS OWN TRAP CAUGHT GOV. COX

Harding Aide Says French Journalist Was Denied Audience With Nominee

SEES DEMOCRATIC TRICK

Marion, O., Oct. 20.—An unsuccessful attempt by Governor Cox "to trap Senator Harding" was charged in a statement issued from Harding headquarters here last night in response to suggestions by the Democratic nominee that Mr. Harding had conferred with Maurice De Kobra, a French journalist, regarding the French attitude toward the League of Nations.

The statement, issued over the signature of Judson C. Weliver, headquarters director of publicity, said that Senator Harding never had heard of De Kobra until yesterday, though the latter had made an unsuccessful effort to see him in Indianapolis last Friday. It was asserted further that De Kobra, who said he had been trading with the Cox party, "was evidently expected by Governor Cox to secure an interview with Senator Harding and to say certain things to him."

New York, Oct. 20.—(By A. P.)—Maurice De Kobra, correspondent of a French newspaper, denied last night that he had approached Senator Harding in reference to a proposal that America lead in the formation of a new association of nations.

"I interviewed Governor Cox on his views on the league and many other questions in this country, of course, I wanted to get Senator Harding's views. When I called on Senator Harding, however, I found he was surrounded by a strong guard. They would not let me near him, although I tried several times to get him to grant me an interview. His guard seemed to fear that he might make a favorable impression on the French people. Certainly I never made representations to anybody that I was here to speak for the French Government on any international question."

FRENCH WRITER SENT PROPOSAL TO SENATOR

Chicago, Oct. 20.—(By A. P.)—The letter from France received by Senator Joseph I. France, of Maryland, proposing a change in the organization of the present League of Nations, was from a woman and not a man, the senator said today. The proposal dealt chiefly with desirable amendments to an international convention of friends of peace," he said.

"There was nothing official about it," Senator France declared, referring to the overture made him on the probability of America joining with France and other countries in forming an association of nations to prevent war. "She is a member of an organization which is working quietly among the members of her nation in order to form a body in connection with the United States, which will give subject nations a definite chance for self-government, as soon as they have proved themselves capable of it. There was nothing official in connection with the communication."

COX BOMBARDED WITH QUESTIONS

Democratic Nominee Answers Rapid-Fire Queries on League, Liquor and Irish

AGAIN ASSAILS LODGE

By the Associated Press. Providence, R. I., Oct. 20.—Probably the liveliest bombardment of questions during his campaign was experienced by Governor Cox here today during an address to several thousand persons in the public square. Holding what he called a town meeting, the Democratic presidential candidate was pelted with questions upon the league and the liquor and the Irish questions.

A woman asked him his views regarding maintenance of the Volstead law. He asked whether she had not the same question to Senator Harding, and then reiterated that the senator had voted "thirty-two times wet and two times dry," and owned brewery stock. He declared again that he opposed prohibition legislation "in conflict with the constitution as interpreted by the Supreme Court of the United States," and that he had closed Ohio saloons on Sundays, the governor said he had been elected governor three times, adding:

No Money From Liquor Interests. "And the liquor interests never contributed a nickel to my campaigns, then or now."

His statement that he favored presentation of the Irish question to the league was cheered, and when he declared for "self-determination" a man asked: "Does that apply to Ulster?" "Ulster is a part of Ireland," was the governor's quick response.

Attacking Senator Harding's position upon the Irish question, Governor Cox added:

"During the last two weeks Republican speakers have been urged not to mention his name."

"Charges that Senator Harding had taken numerous positions upon the league were reiterated by Governor Cox. "Would you accept the Lodge reservations?" was another question. "They were never seriously suggested," the candidate replied. "If they had been Senator Lodge would have declared for them in the Republican platform."

Four Hisses from Audience. Before the league became a political question, Governor Cox said, Senator Lodge had "induced it unreservedly." Repeating his charge that Senator

Lodge later formed the "basest and most infamous conspiracy" against the league, the governor declared that the Republican leader was "the most despised man in America," and loud hisses from the audience followed.

"I've been getting that for ten weeks," the governor commented. Republicans favoring the league and supporting Senator Harding are "conducting a joint debate with themselves," Governor Cox said, citing statements by former President Taft that league opponents were "firing at President Wilson."

A parade through the business section preceded the governor's address here from a stand in front of the federal building. It was the candidate's only Rhode Island speech.
