VOTING RESIDENCE OF VARE HIT AGAIN

Policemen, Who Find House Vacant, Ask to Have Senator's Name Stricken Off

HEARING TO BE HELD TODAY

A petition to strike the name of Sen stor Edwin H. Vare from the voting that of the fifteenth division of the Thirty-ninth ward will be heard by the registration commissioners at 2 o'clock his afternoon.

It is believed the commissioners will Semiss the petition which is based on the assertion that the senator does not live in the division.

live in the division.

The petition was signed by policemen who made a canvass of the division and cound the house from which the senator registered vacant. The house in question is at 2221 South Broad street. That is not the building in which the senator had a wash basin concealed when he was last required to go before the commissioners to prove he actually was a resident of the Thirty-ninth ward, which as every one knows, is, as the which, as every one knows, is, as the aying goes, "Ed Vare's ward."
The house which the senator now claims as his residence was taken over by him after he settled his first difficulty. How long he lived there is un-known but he does not live there now as a reporter and the policemen ascer-tained yesterday.

when a police canvass was under-taken in the First and Thirty-ninth wards Policeman Quinn reported to his superiors at the Thirty-seventh dis-trict station that the Vare house was vacant.

Acting Captain Noon was surprised.

He decided to take no chance on a mistake, so he sent Sergeant Charles Simmers and Policeman Quittle to make an independent investigation. The sergeant and Quittle made two trips to the house and found it vacant.

The sergeant was definite in his statement to reporters yesterday that the ment to reporters yesterday that the house was vacant and that, evidently, thad been vacant some time.

Reporters went to the house in the ifternoon and found it closed. Apparantly it had been stripped of its furnish-

When Senator Vare was questioned about the petition lest night he replied:
That's all right, I'll be on hand when "That's all right, I'll be on hand when the bell rings. Of course the house is closed. I'm out in the country now, but I was living there when I registered."

The commissioners will have a hearing on "strike-off" petitions today, including the Vare case. More than 500 petitions have been filed from the First and Thirty-ninth wards.

VALUATION IS DELAYED An indication that the P. R. T. Co. has decided to accept the seven-cent fare order of the Public Service Commission was given in City Hall today by Coleman J. Joyce, attorney for the by Coleman J. Joyce, attorney of company.

Appearing at a continued valuation hearing before Commissioners Clement and Benn. Mr. Joyce asked for an official interpretation of the recent fare order relating to the issuance of free transfers and three-cent exchanges.

"My interpretation." he said, "is that a passenger paying a seven cent that a passenger paying a seven cent cash fare is entitled either to a free transfer or a three-cent exchange. I also presume that a passenger present-ing a coupon ticket, bought in strips of four for twenty-five cents, is entitled to transfer or an exchange.

Asks for Interpretation "I would like to have an interpreta-tion from the commission covering that matter. In the meantime I will pro-ceed with the preparation of the tariff, presuming that my interpretation is correct."

Commissioner Clement said he would refer the request to his colleagues.
Richard Horton, traffic engineer for the P. R. T., later was asked if Mr. Joyce's statement that he would proceed with preparation of the tariff meant the company had accepted the seven-cent fare. The new tariff must be filed on or before October 29. The new fares become effective November 1.

"Not necessarily," Mr. Horton replied. "Before a tariff is accepted it must be filed."

The others injured were, Miss Helen Price, nineteen years old, 1910 Glenwood avenue, cuts of the cheek and hand and a bruised right eye; James Babnell, twenty-four years old, 1914 Newkirk street, cuts of the cheek and right eye; Charles McKeown, twenty-six years old, 2525 West Gordon street, fractured arm and cuts and bruises of the body. "As I understand it the company is proceeding to prepare its appraisal figures on only one basis," he said. He later explained the basis he meant was that of replacement at present costs.

Not True, Says Joyce "That is not true." replied Mr. Joyce. "The company will make its appraisal from the standpoint of original cost of construction, historical development, and probable earning ca-
