BIG SQUADS REPORT FOR INDOOR TEAMS

More Than Three Hundred Sign Up for Penn Boxing and Basketball Teams—Greenawalt Lost to Grid Team for Season

That boxing and basketball are in for a good season at Pennsylvania this year was evidenced last night by the reporting of over three hundred candidates for the two sports. The number of candidates was about equally divided.

George Decker, the coach of the mittmen, held a rally late yesterday afternoon that was attended by several hundred students. Exhibition bouts with the members of last year's team, lectures by enthusiasts for candidates brought by Decker for candidates brought the biggest number of aspirants to sign up in years.

With Tom O'Malley, intercollegiate champion at 135 pounds; Johnny Braslin, 155 pounds; Al Mackenzie, 125; Burkert, 115; and Besel, 170, all veterans and Tom Cowell, the freshman football star; Leo De Kora and Sloman, new men, Coach Decker was an excellent nucleus for a good all-around team.

O'Malley was defeated last year, while Mackenzie and Besel did great work throughout the season. The manager, Ben Ward, of the boxing team, attended the meeting of the intercollegiate boxing committee in New York on Friday last along with ten colleagues and announced that ten colleges had signified their intention of having teams this year. All joined the association. Yale, strange to say, as yet has no team, but it is expected that the Eli will be represented before the season officially opens.

Several colleges expressed the opinion that they would join the organization.

Meet State First The first meet on the Penn schedule will probably be with State College in that city sometime in December. Bouts with the Army, Navy, Springfield College, Cornell, Boston and Massachusetts Institutes of Technology have been arranged. The schedule is the most ambitious one yet arranged.

While Coach Decker was exhorting the candidates for the boxing team in the wrestling room, Coach Eddie McNichol was telling the large squad of basketball candidates in Weightman Hall of his rules for the game. The big squad will be separated into experienced and inexperienced squads before the week is out, so that every candidate will get an equal opportunity of displaying his ability.

Some veterans who reported last night included Captain Danny McNichol, Walter Huntzinger, Rosie Roseman, Milton Zucker and Billy Boyle. Bill Graves, the variety center last season, who is playing end on the football team, signed up, along with Pos Miller, Sullivan and Greenawalt, all freshmen last year, who are playing on the variety gridiron team. Vogel and Al Mouradian, two former Central High School stars, also signed up. Mouradian was not in college last year. He is expected to make a strong bid for the post vacated by the graduation of Mike Sweeney. While at high school and as a member of the I.H.T. freshman team, Mouradian was a high-scoring forward and should fit in well with the present staff of veterans.

Greenawalt Lost Dr. Arthur Light, the physician to the football team, announced yesterday that Walter Greenawalt, the lanky York High School lad, would be lost to the gridiron team for the remainder of the season. During the third period of last Saturday's game Greenawalt was thrown heavily to the earth and tore a ligament in his knee.

The Penn team at present as a whole is in very poor shape as a result of injuries. Joe Straus hobbled around Franklin Field yesterday with a pair of crutches, injured ankle being swollen so badly that walking without aid was an impossibility. Straus says that he will be in Saturday's game.

Herman Harvey is suffering from a bad heel and knee, that will keep him inactive until Thursday. He will play against State Saturday, however. Bud Hooper, Wagner, Thurman and Esterwag, all of whom were injured on Saturday, were not hurt as seriously as was at first supposed, and were out in togs yesterday afternoon. They did not participate in any of the team's home ever. Pos Miller, whose Chas. Hoss is causing him all kinds of trouble, called the signals for the second team in their scrimmage drill against the scrubs, but he did not enter actively in the drill.

According to Dr. Light, Penn will have the services of Mike Whitehill in the backfield and Carl Thomas in the line when the whistle blows to start next Saturday's crucial contest. Whitehill is almost entirely recovered from the injuries he suffered in the Lafayette game, while Thomas arm has entirely healed. It was expected to arrive this afternoon, will permit the former Central High School lad to enter the scrimmage drills.

Ray Wallace, the big end, will also be available on Saturday, and if the cripples respond to treatment as they are expected, the Red and Blue will not be so weakened as it was at first thought before Saturday's defeat.

The seconds scored a five-touchdown-to-nothing victory over the second scrub team yesterday afternoon. Calder and McNally scored two apiece while the Straus accounted for the other one. The seconds showed considerable offensive ability, ripping big holes in the scrub line and throwing long passes with skill. "Tip" Tips, the Texas, was the only player who started Saturday's contest to participate in the drill yesterday.

It was reported around the campus yesterday that Leech, the brilliant V. M. I. halfback; Bunting another halfback; Mason, in end and Seaman, a line man, would come to Penn next fall. The southerners were pleased with the treatment they received in this city and announced, according to the report, that next fall would find all four in the Wharton School. As V. M. I. is not in the Carnegie list of accredited degree schools the quartet would be eligible for the Penn team after a year's residence.

Penn students last night on Saturday's contest, Penn covered at odds of 30 to 40, while several thousand dollars went from other Virginia cities was covered at the same odds.

"The defeat Saturday will be the makings of a record for the next five games," said Joe Straus yesterday afternoon. The Texas, who bore the brunt of the offense against the variety center last season, who is playing end on the football team, signed up, along with Pos Miller, Sullivan and Greenawalt, all freshmen last year, who are playing on the variety gridiron team.

MRS. VANDERBECK IS GOLF VICTOR

Defeats Mrs. Elliott in First Round for Country Club Championship at Bala

Mrs. Clarence H. Vanderbeck, the champion, advanced to the second round match play at Bala today for the women's golf championship of the Philadelphia Country Club by defeating Mrs. J. De Elliott 5 and 4.

A surprising feature of today's matches was the close tussle Miss Maria De Kosenko, a comparative newcomer to golf, was giving Miss Mildred Caverry.

The latter was put up at the fifteenth. Mrs. Caleb F. Fox went off late in the morning against Mrs. Walter H. Johnson, over whom she was the favorite. In case of a victory for Mrs. Fox, she will play Mrs. Vanderbeck tomorrow.

Mrs. Vanderbeck was out in 44 today, the same as her record on the course yesterday, and she started back 44455, which was too fast a pace for Straus accounted for the other one. The seconds showed considerable offensive ability, ripping big holes in the scrub line and throwing long passes with skill.

The second eight Miss Florence McNeely defeated Mrs. Burton Price 9 and 8 in a one-sided match.

GERMANTOWNERS WIN Scholastic Eleven Opens Second Season on Grid, Defeating Metro

The original Germantown Scholastic football team broke into independent ranks for its second season by decisively defeating the Metro Club, of Manayunk, by the score of 42 to 7.

Germantown's backfield performed in perfect union with Kearney, Condy, Houston and Smith penetrating Metro's defense at every attack. Cowdrey, former Southern High School player, was used to run the ball and equal success was encountered, although it was his fumble which resulted in Metro's lone touchdown.

Stress recovering and running 50 yards to the goal line. One of the features of Germantown's attack was its forward passing. Both Kearney and Cowdrey slid accurate passes into waiting arms, and each threw for long distances. Metro's defense was inadequate to test the scholastics, whose own line remained adamant.

Eddie Bennis, old Penn star, has given Germantown several concentrated doses of gridiron lore.

NATIVITY VS. HILLDALE Meet in First Game of Baseball Series Tomorrow

The Nativity and Hilldale baseball teams will meet in the first of a three-game championship series tomorrow afternoon on the grounds of the Richmond Club at Ontario and Miller streets.

The second contest will be played the following day at the home of the colored champions at Fifth and Main streets. The date of the final clash, if necessary, will be determined after Thursday's battle.

Big Game for Vinceme One of the most important football games on the books for the coming Saturday is that between Manager Bill McDonald's team of the Vinceme Club and Bob Crawford's Conshohocken eleven.

The game will be played at Conshohocken. This contest will bring about the two best semi-professional elevens of the East. Vinceme is easily the best attraction outside of the college ranks for that reason. Conshohocken fans will witness for the first time this fall a team of former college men.

Tó Confer With Johnson St. Louis, Oct. 26.—Phil Ball, owner of the all-Philadelphia, will leave today for Chicago to confer with President Ben Johnson of the American League, concerning the proposed reorganization of the National League of Baseball.

Mr. Ball said he is still unprepared to make a statement concerning the movement. He is one of the five American League executives who have not yet indicated the plan.

BILLY POWELL Captain of the Lower Merion High School football team

FOOTBALL BOOMS AT LOWER MERION

Be Fine Leader for Sub-urban Eleven

Last year football at Lower Merion High School took a mighty drop, but this year it has taken an even greater rise. This is due to several things—two in particular.

First, Billy Powell, the son of Mr. Charles S. Powell, who gave a cup for the Lower Merion-Radnor game several years ago, is captain of the team; second, Lower Merion has received some excellent coaching from Dr. J. C. Peden.

Dr. Peden has an excellent record in football. He played end for Penn in 1912-13. Later he was assistant coach at North Carolina University. During the war he coached a team of marines, and later an eleven in Hawaii.

Captain Powell has a fine record, having made the team when a freshman. Although he is very fast, he does his best work at going through the line. Kilpatrick, Lower Merion's fullback, is also a heavy line buster.

The loss of Haws has made Lichty, Lower Merion's fastest man. Quinn also is speedy and combines with this an ability to "glow."

Lower Merion's center, Boose, is a very good defensive man. The two guards, Hart and Scull, are good at opening holes. The two tackles, Fra and Brown, are always on the job.

The team has an abundance of good ends, some of the best being McCreey, Vaneman, Gaffney, Peterson, Medill and Benson.

The two best substitute backs are Derham and Stillwagon. The season so far has been a success. The team having defeated Tredyffrin, Abington and Media. It has been defeated by Central, but considering Central's weight, the record is excellent.

Lower Merion will meet Cheltenham, Landowne, Narberth and Radnor, in the order named.

Clearly Wins by K. O. Route Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 26.—Tommy Cleary, of Philadelphia, won a technical knockout over Willie Callahan, of Lancaster, last night, and earned a boxing world title. Cleary's boxing was a combination of Artie Root and Andy Chaney, here November 8. Cleary's boxing won him the decision. He punched the local boy so badly that he later was forced to quit in the sixth round of a ten-round bout. Johnny Walker lost to Tommy Cleary when he was forced into fighting as a result of a broken wrist.

EXPECT ROTHSTEIN TO TESTIFY TODAY

Joe Gedeon, Second Baseman of St. Louis Americans, Also Expected to Give Evidence

Chicago, Oct. 26.—The special Cook county baseball grand jury will reconvene this morning, with two witnesses who have not yet appeared before the jurors scheduled to give testimony, which officials in the state's attorney's office last night said "undoubtedly would throw considerable light on the scandal in the 1919 world series and might prove of a sensational character."

Joe Gedeon, second baseman of the St. Louis American League club, and Arnold Rothstein, of New York, are the men who are expected to testify.

Gedeon arrived yesterday from his home in Sacramento in response to a call from Ben Johnson, president of the American League, to give the jury any information he may have. He was immediately taken to the home of an assistant attorney for the state and not allowed to see any one. The state's attorney's office said Gedeon was not officially in custody, but was being held in privacy of his own free will. It was announced that the St. Louis player would not be allowed to testify until he had signed an immunity waiver, and that he had agreed to do this.

Late in the evening Gedeon told reporters he was not guilty of any wrongdoing in connection with the 1919 world series.

"I bet $500 on Cincinnati because I had heard rumors that they would win because I thought they had the best team," said Gedeon, "but I was not mixed up in the bribery and did not act as a 'go-between' to arrange the deal between the ball players and the gamblers, as some people say. I sent West with 'Swede' Lisberg and 'Chick' Gandil after the series, but they never told me anything about 'throwing' the series. The state's attorneys here seem to think I know a lot, judging from the questions they have asked me, but I don't."

Gedeon was questioned by Judge Charles A. McDonald and Assistant State's Attorney Harley Repploger for nearly three hours. Judge McDonald said he would confer with Gedeon again before he went on the stand.

The state's attorney's office announced that it had possibly information that Rothstein would reach here early this morning and that he also would sign an immunity waiver before going before the jurors.

Ben Johnson and several local men also probably will testify, the Chicago men being called in connection with the investigation into baseball pools in Cook county.

Rothstein has been mentioned in various connections by men who already have testified, it was said. Evidence was said to have been given by the jury that he was approached by Hal Chase, Abe Attell and others for money with which to finance the game selling. He is said to have been asked for $100,000 to bribe Chicago players, but some witnesses have told the jury Rothstein refused to take part in the deal.

Indoor Metropolitan Meet Off New York, Oct. 26.—The annual indoor athletic championship meet of the Metropolitan Association of the Amateur Athletic Union will be abandoned this winter. It was announced today, and the twenty-four events which were held last season in the board of stewards voting to stage the meet in 1921 on the Harlem river, with Columbia acting as the host.

Leonard to Meet Winner New York, Oct. 26.—When Willie Jackson and Eddie Fitzsimmons clash at Madison Square Garden tonight, they will be struggling for the opportunity of engaging Jimmy Leonard, light champion, in a title bout. It was announced yesterday that Leonard had agreed to meet the winner of the contest in a bout at the Garden in December.

Mrs. Gaut Wins Qualifying Round New Orleans, Oct. 26.—Mrs. David Gaut, of Memphis, carried off low medalist honors in the qualifying round of the ninth annual tournament of the Southern Women's Golf Association, which opened on the country club course here yesterday.

There'll Be No War; "Loyal Five" to Relent

Chicago, Oct. 26.—President Ben Johnson, of the American League, and his five "loyal" club owners will meet in Cleveland this week. They will agree to meet with the National League owners and the Comiskey-Ruppert-Frazer faction of the American League when the joint meeting is held here November 8.

The dark clouds have rolled by and indications point to a full house when the gathering assembles here to reorganize the controlling body of the national game.

The true bills were voted against the Chicago players. His whereabouts was kept a secret, but state officials here said they had arranged through his attorney for Rothstein to testify today.

It is believed that this session may conclude the jury's work. Officials said more true bills probably would be voted provided Gedeon and Rothstein gave the information they are believed to possess—and that at the most not more than one additional session would be necessary to complete the investigation.

HARVARD AGAINST NUMBERS Crimison Will Hardly Follow Tiger Policy in Annual Clash

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 26.—There doesn't seem to be the remotest chance that Harvard will follow the lead of Princeton and have its players wear numbers in the stadium a week from Saturday. The Tigers have taken up the numbering of players in the interest of those who see their team play.

Harvard's objection to numbers, which was especially outspoken when Percy Haughton was in charge, is that it makes the task of the scouts easy. However, in the Yale game in the bowl the chances are that the Harvard players will be numbered, as this is the Crimison's last contest of the season.

FIVE CITIES FORM HOCKEY LEAGUE

Officers Are Elected and Joseph Dexter Chosen to Lead This City

At a meeting of representatives of the hockey centers of the United States, held at the Ice Palace yesterday afternoon, it was decided that in order to have a closer supervision over the sport for the best interest of the game there should be a separate governing body in the United States devoted to hockey only.

A temporary organization was formed for the purpose of taking up the matter with the International Skating Union, which now has control of hockey in the United States. It will be asked to approve the plan outlined at the meeting and recommend to the A. A. U. that the new organization be recognized as the governing body for hockey in this country.

David H. Slayback, vice president of the International Skating Union, representative of the I. S. U. and A. A. U. board, met with the hockey representatives and expressed his approval at the action taken.

The following cities were represented: Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and St. Paul. Assurances were received Cleveland will come in, which will give the new organization a five-city circuit with which to start.

A temporary organization to be known as the United States Amateur Hockey Association was formed, and Sheriff William S. Haddock, of Pittsburgh, was elected president, and George V. Brown, of Boston, secretary and treasurer.

Pending the adoption of a permanent constitution and by-laws and approval from the International Skating Union, it was decided that the officers of the temporary organization, in addition to the president and the secretary, would be composed of an executive committee of one to represent each city to be appointed by the chairman.

The Sentimental Side to a Philadelphia Mortgage

There's a business side to a Philadelphia mortgage—and a sentimental side. Odd, isn't it, to think of a hard-headed, uncompromising, pay-when-it's-due mortgage having a sentimental side?

But its sentiment lies in its help-your-neighbor spirit in the big things you, personally, can do for the other fellow—and without a particle of risk to yourself or your money—either principal or interest.

For the mortgage you buy will help some worried-to-death chap buy or build a home. You loan him the money—on gilt edge security—and he gets a roof over his head.

Now here's what happens with that mortgage investment of yours: You help to house a family—you've lessened a growing condition of unrest—you've helped the community—and you've helped yourself by investing in a security that is gilt edged, high grade, sure and absolutely safe.

Every man and woman who invests in a Philadelphia mortgage not only shows keen business judgment but real citizenship. Keen business ability is shown because the money they loan is not only working for them, but for the other fellow.
