

ETHEL BARRYMORE'S CHILDREN. Daughter and two sons of the celebrated actress are Ethel, Sammy and John. The girlie is of course named after mother. Sammy gets his name from his father's side of the family, as his grandfather was Samuel Colt. John is a namesake of his great-uncle John Drew.

RED CROSS MEMBERS VOTING. Election of officers was part of the fourth annual roll call of the American Red Cross. At the left are Miss Jane Elgin and Mrs. Charles S. Warner. Mrs. Alexander Brown is dropping a ballot. Mrs. J. A. Richardson is sitting. Robert B. Aterling acted as teller.

MAY BE MADE REGENT OF GREECE. Admiral P. Coundouriotis, former Greek minister of marine, is mentioned for the post.

OPENING OF FRENCH AVIATION TOURNAMENT. President Millerand of France accompanied by officials arrive at the Bleriot aerodrome, at Buc, near Paris, to open the airplane classic. The tall man is M. Flandin, French Air minister.

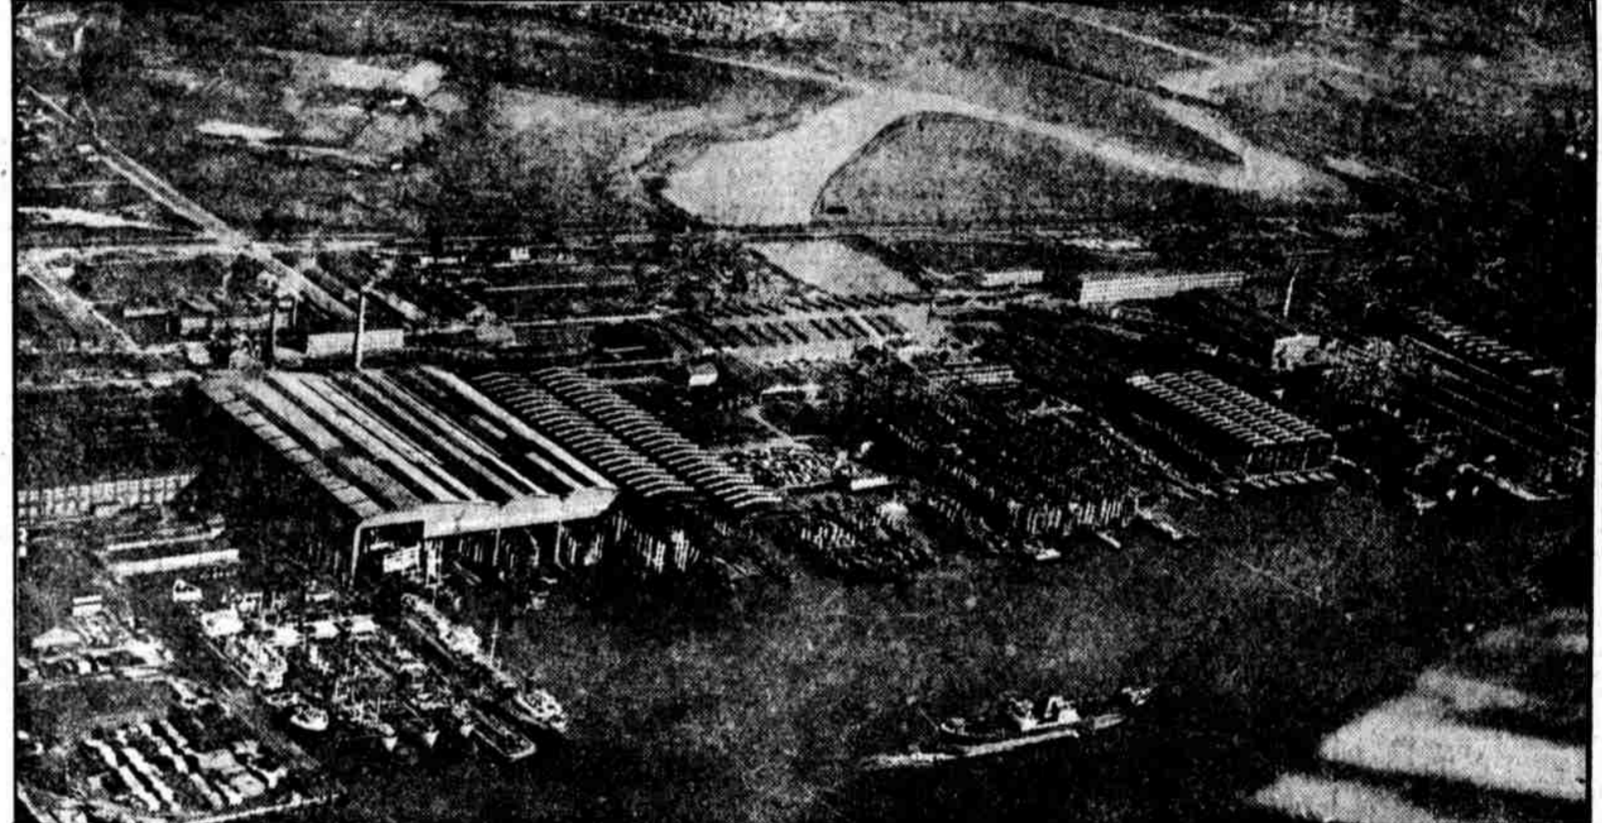

A VILLANOVA KICKER. McGrady, one of Villanova's football stars, is a punter who has shown wonderful form during the few games played by the Main Line college.

GREET'S ALASKA FLIERS. General Pershing is shaking the hand of Captain Street, one of the U. S. Army fliers, who have just returned from Alaska.

H. J. GIDEON discusses compulsory features of education in an interview on the editorial page.

A BUSY SPOT IN CAMDEN. The plant of the New York Shipbuilding Corporation along the Delaware river was photographed from the Ledger newspaper. The buildings cover 200 acres, extending from the lumber wharf at the left to the last building shown in the photograph. Newton creek is shown in the background, as it passes under the bridges that connect the north yard and south yard of the shipbuilding company. In the distance is Fairview, better known as York Ship Vill ge. Several completed ships are at the left.

CHARLES W. CONNERY, who was in charge of American Masonic interests in Paris for more than two years, has returned.

"FLYING PARSON" AND FAMILY. Lieutenant Belvin W. Maynard, his wife and children about to take an "aerial joyride," which is no new thing in that family's life.

DEBELACROY, the Belgian premier, and the Belgian ambassador to England, leaving Downing street, London, after visiting Lloyd George.

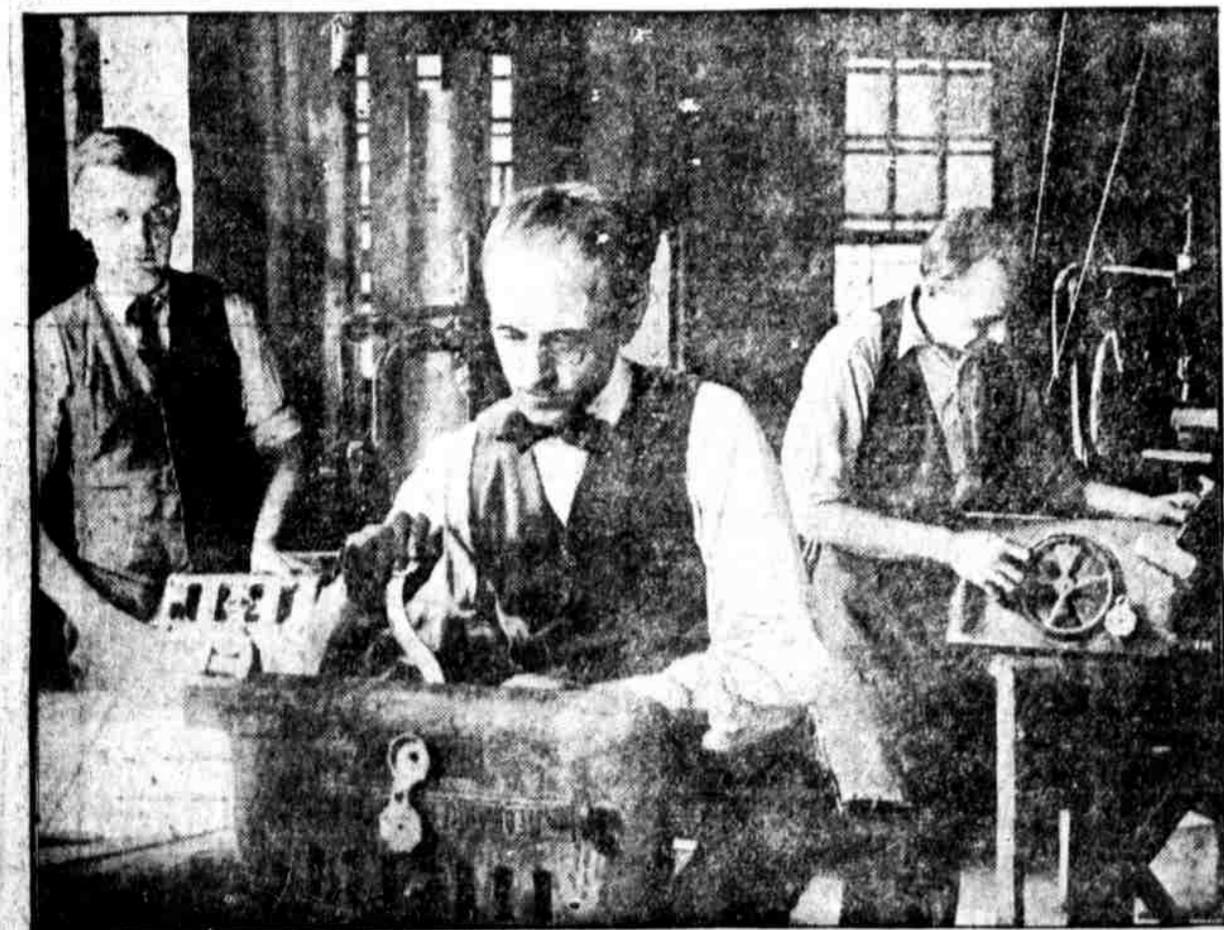

A NIFTY DOZEN. These twelve lads, who live at the Northern Home for Friendless Children, Twenty-third and Brown streets, really use this sliding board, but they wanted to pose a bit.

A BOUSING RECEPTION. Employees of the American Manganese Bronze Company, of Holmesburg, were equipped with American flags and good voices, which they used, as Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt arrived at the Holmesburg station yesterday morning to attend the dedication of Roosevelt Boulevard.

OUR CITY'S WORKERS AND WHAT THEY DO

ASSEMBLING COAL CARBURETORS on heater doors at the factory of Frederick Sabini 237 street. The workmen are Narberth Roach, 821 Belmont avenue; Edward J. Roach, Collingswood, and Barton Keys, 4324 Leiper street.

HUGO BEZDEK. He will lead the Penn State team against Penn on Saturday afternoon.

MRS. JOHN WHITE GEARY, chairman roll call committee of the Southern Pennsylvania Chapter, American Red Cross.

P. M. C. FOOTBALL HERO. Mehrer, a Philadelphia, practically unknown until he made a touchdown after catching a forward pass, in game against F. & M.

THE BEAUTY CORNER

MISS NAN GARRISON 5909 Market street Philadelphia. Photo by Globe Studio.