EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER-PHILADELPHIA, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1929

SOME HALLOWEEN SPREADS SUGGESTED BY MRS. WILSON

Four Different Menus Appropriate for This Autumn Festival.

Recipe for Cream Puffs

By MRS, M. A. WILSON

(Copyright, 1920, by Mrs. M. A. Wilson, All rights reserved.)

10

THE young folks in the family are L looking forward with pleasure to Halloween-the mystic night when all true lovers put their fates to the test. Arrange a party for them. Corn stalks and autumn foliage will be splendid for decorations and have a few artificial pumpkins show among the decorations In order to make these pumpkins, cut niece of yellow crepe paper in half and then cut the piece about twelve inches long. Paste together and then gather one end and tie on the inside with a piece of string. Fill with bits of Tie the top into shape by pressing to flatten.

Many games may be played, such as obbing for apples-also ducking for them. Paring apples, so that the en-tire skin is kept in one piece; this is then thrown over the left shoulder. where it is said it will fall to the floot and form the initial of one's future life partner. This, with the singing and dancing, will provide plenty of fun. At midnight the fun folks may have supper, and then hie themselves home before the hour of one in the morning. This autumn festival usually calls are some menus from which you may a moderate oven

No. 1 Cider Cup Nut and Cheese Sandwiches Apple Cake Cream Puffs Apple Cake Raisins Nuts No. 2 Cider Punch Ham and Watercress Sandwiches Potato Salad Fruit Chocolate Cake No. 3 Celery Fruit Salad Bread and Butter Sandwiches Layer Cake Coffee No. 4 Sliced Bologna Celery and Potato Salad Cider Cookies Tarts In preparing for menu No. 1 you will need for ten couples One gallon of cider, One-half pound of nuts, put through wiches. the food chopper. One pound of cream cheese. One-half cup of finely chopped pars-One cup of mayonnaise dressing. Mix and then use for the sandwich lling. Use three loaves of bread and one-half pound of butter. To prepare the apple cake. Place in a mixing bowl: Four cups of flour, One teaspoon of salt, Three level tablespoons of baking Doucder. One cup of sugar.

Sift to mix and then rub in one-half with fruit whip.) cup of shortening. Use one and three- Three loaves of quarter cups of milk to form a stiff bat-ter. Spread one inch thick in a wellreased and floured pan and cover thick-by with thinly sliced apples. Now place in a mixing bowl: One cup of flour. One cup of brown sugar.

One and one-half teaspoons of cinnamon.

ADVENTURES

Two other prizes of $1 each are awarded for the next best menus. The winners of this week's contest will be announced on Monday. Address all menus to Mrs. Wilson's Menu Contest Evening Public Ledger

The Best Dinner

costing $1.50 for four people wins a

PRIZE MENU CONTEST

prize of $2,50 in the Independence Square Your full name must be given and correct address on the menu. Also the date of sending it. The foods used must be staples and in season. and a sales slip giving the cost of all materials must be included. Fried meats are not accepted.

One-half teaspoon of nutmeg. Five tablespoons of shortening. Rub lightly to a fine crumb and then for simple refreshments : therefore here spread over the apple cake and bake in Cream Puffs This recipe makes just twenty puffs. Place in a saucepan: One cup of water, One-half cup of shortening. Bring to a boil and add one and one quarter cups of flour. Cook until the mixture forms into a ball on the spoon and then remove and turn into a bowl and cool. Add four small eggs, one at a time. Use a tablesnoon to chop the lixture on a well-greased baking sheet. Make the puffs the size of a small egg. Bake for thirty-five minutes in a hot oven. Turn off the heat the last ten carned money, minutes. For menu No. 2: One gallon of eider. Two sliced bananas. Two sliced oranges. (For the punch.) Two bunches of watercress. One pound of boiled ham. (Put through food chopper for sand-Six pounds of cold boiled potatoes. sliced One cup of finely chapped anions, One-half cup of finely chapped parsley. Two cups of mayonnaise. (For the salad.) For the Salad

For menu No. 3. Two chocolate cakes. Six apples. our oranges. Six bananas. One and one-half cups of coconut. (Dice fruit for fruit salad and serve Three loaves of bread. One-half pound of butter. (For sandwiches,) For menu No. 2. One and one-half pounds of sliced Same Pota bologua. Same as menu No. 2. Potato salad, Apple tarts, Two pounds of cookies.

mighty bear hug. Bobby was aston ished nearly out of his wits to see a football player suddenly turn into bear, and he was as scared as he was astoniched.	a

Two Minutes of Optimism By HERMAN J. STICH

Better Be Safe Than Sorry

TT SEEMS only yesterday that John Law was, promoting the Mississippi bubble, with long lines of men and women crowding and pushing all day and all night long, consumed with burning anxiety to throw away their hard-

Many were actually trampled to death while struggling desperately for whose streets, John Law said, were so evenly watered by nature that they did not have to be dusted or sprinkled—which was entirely correct, since the whole town site was located about ten miles or so out in the Gulf of Mexico, the privilege of exchanging their goldpieces for gold certificates in a city and several hundred feet under water.

It is almost unbelievable that sensible humans could have been so stupidly credulous, yet the late Ponzi episode proved that the birth rate of first-class suckers is just as great as ever; has increased, in fact.

continue to be like a rare wine that with age grows in goodness, demand and the capacity to make us contented.

THE UNWELCOME WIFE

I HE UNWELCOME WIFE By HAZEL DEXO BATCHELOR Copyright, 1920. by Public Ledger Co. Anthony Horringan marries Char-lotte Grant, a little country girl, and hims fit. Tony's mother had expected hims to matrely different type of girl, and she takes no trouble to conceal her displeasance. Charlotte mistic. "Convent hims that is "rel-lished"—to say the least. Thave often wondered why some Phil-nelished"—to say the least. Thave often wondered why some Phil-nelished"—to say the least. Thave often wondered why some Phil-nelished"—to say the least. The conducted by the Chicago Tribune, dur-ing the war, for lonesome soldlers. The prophect, however, doesn't seem very "Not Women do the him of a man I would want ing the continued criticies and lires in deadly fear list Tony tire of her.

A well-bred woman does not accept

By CYNTHIA

Please Tell Me

Which Writes First? Dear Cynthia—Is it correct for a giri to send a Christmas card first to a boy. or should the boy send first? Does the answer to that question apply to this: Is it correct for a giri to correspond first, or the boy? BETH. Yes, the answer applies to both. Let the boy send the Christmas card first and let the boy start the correspondence.

When to Give Engagement Ring Dear Cynthia-Being a daily reader of your column, I feel justified in asking a little advice.

your column, I feel justified in asking a little advice. Is it proper to give an engagement ring to a girl on Christmas or should it be given at another time and a small gift be given on Christmas? If the ring is given now should the wedding take place within a year or just how long? The idea is that while I am not just in a position to marry, I want to announce my intentions. We have been going to-gether about two years. J. F. F. It is better to give the engagement ring separately and another gift at Christmas. There is no specified time for a wedding to take place, other than the time the persons concerned pgepare for a wedding to take place, other than the time the persons concerned peepare for. Often an engagement lasts several years. It is always better to marry soon if possible, but, if not, it is no one's busi-ness but those concerned' therein, and if a man and girl have been going together for a couple of years and are engaged, it is better to announce it. it is better to announce it.

Correct or Incorrect?

Dear Cynthin Will yog kindly advise me through your paper if the following

Dear Cynthing-Will yod kindly advise me through your paper if the following is correct or incorrect: "A certain couple are engaged, and the man is of the opinion that it is per-fectly correct to sit in another room by themselves, even though the family is around, while the girl maintains it is in-correct to go into another room and stay there when the family is still around." Does the fact that they are engaged make any difference? I thank you in advance for your courtesy in ginswering this question. To incorrect for an engaged make any difference? I thank you in advance for your courtesy in ginswering this question. To incorrect for an engaged than that in which the family always congregate. It is polite to stay with the members of the family a part of the eve-ning or afternoon, but it is perfectly un-derstandable that engaged persons have their own affairs about which they wish to converse and which only interest them and there is no reason why they should sudden death of her brother, himself a lawyer, made it essential that she alter her plans. So she took a position as a social secretary. While she enjoyed the work, Miss Mathot did not feel that it presented a sufficiently alluring future. She therefore made up her mind to become a sort of "social secretary trust," a secretary to many people instead of one. An office was secured, assistants trained to take care of the routipe end of the work and advertisements inserted stating that Miss Mathot was now in a position to attend to all the arrange-ments for luncheons, dinners, card par-ties and other social functions. In spite of the fact that this appeared o converse and which only interest them and there is no reason why they should

Another Lonely One

Dear Cynthia—Would you mind a few vords to "Avis From the West"? Thank If it helps out for you to know there suckers is just as great as ever; has increased, in fact. But Ponzi is only one of a multitude of "Become-a-Crocesus-Quick" artists. The other day an expert in investments, arguing before the Senate com-mittee on reconstruction, said that the losses in the United States through wildcat and other 'audulent financial schemes average from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 a month—and that is an extremely conservative estimate. The H. C. L. seems to have developed a bountiful crop of luscious lemons, all of them greedy to be harvested, and bulging to be relieved of their precious puice to supply obliging Wallingfords with lemonade and cake. Eventually, in the course of our journey to the millennium, we may arrive at the stage where education and publicits—not to mention relentless prose-cution of offenders—will make unworthwhile the attempts of some of us to trim the rest of us. But by present indications, that time is 1.000,000 or so years off, and meanwhile, the practice of the old adage. "better be safe than sorry." will contine to be like a rare wine that with age grows in goodness, demand and on nomesickness. Cynthia, perhaps, would suggest get-ting in touch with one's pastor at church, or a Y. M. C. A., or similar or-ganization, but meeting people in that way is not the sort of thing that is "rei-ished"—to say the least.

HALLOWEEN COMES BACK WITH SAME OLD APPEAL

Grown-Ups Talk About Having Peace and Quiet While the Youngsters Play That Night, but They Enjoy the Fun Just as Much as the Children

WHAT makes Ha loween come back year after year with the same ap-peal that it has had ever since we were young enough to be scared at a mask? We've grown up now, and we look at the windows all decorated in orange and black, with pumpkin faces and

and black, with pumpkin faces and witch figures, hissing black cats and solemn owls with the knowledge that they are made out of paper. There is no secret shiver, as there used to be, as we gaze nonchalantly at a frowning witch or a beckoning ghost. We can see a clown costume without feeling more than a passing pity for the poor soul who will try to be funny enough to live up to it on Halloween. And that gistening white skirt that some fairs will wear tonight doesn' A well-bred woman does not accept favors from any but relatives or inti-mate friends. Even so small a matter as carfare is not to be paid for her by a casual acquaintance who happens to be entering the car at the same time. Unless the woman finds momentary difficulty in getting at her change, he should not of-fer to pay, and even then only after asking permission to lend her the need-ful côin. When she repays him later he should accept with a simple "Thank you." and without protest. A common exposition of unfamiliarity And that glistening white skirt that some fairy will wear tonight doesn't make a fine-looking Swiss guide. Junior thought so, soo, secretly, of course, but just a bit obviously. It was Anne's older exister, she told the family, as she stepped in on the way to the party to show how she looked, who thought up the clever gipsy cos-tume, and lent her gorgeous dark red scarf to make it so striking. And Daddy himself put aside his cigar and messed up his cuffs straightening out the war paint on Sonny's round, pink face-wondering as he did so whether Indians ever wore deep dimples and turned-up noses. you." and without protest. A common exposition of unfamiliarity with social ethics is the untaught girl's attitude on this point, her expecta-tion that every man with whom she has the slightest acquaintance must pay her carfare whenever opportunity offers, and her verdict that he is what she terms a "tightwad" if he does not avail himself of the privilege which, in more cultivated society, would be accounted an 'mperti-nence. some tarry will wear tonight doesn't give us a thrill. No, we're grown up now, and those things are for the children. Let them dress themselves up if they will, paint their faces, tangle their hair with confetti, and frighten themselves to death walking downstairs backward in the death in the dark. Not for us—give us the apples, the cider, the doughnuts and the pumpkin pie, and let us go on our sedate way in peace.

whether indians ever wore deep dimples and turned-up noses. The got so enthusiastic about his work that when Junior strolled in with the jaunty indifference of his age and his self-consciousness he stood him up beside the paint box and installed a A ND yet it's rather amusing to see how much older Babs looks in the pretty little old-fashioned dress with the powder in her puffed hair and the tiny mits over her babyish wrists. mustache upon his upper lip.

And Sonny got up that Indian cos-tume himself-not bad at all, even if VES, these grown-ups talk in large mother's big feather duster did suffer for the headdress.

Y terms about their cider and their apples and their peace and quiet on Johnny Jones across the street has Halloween. But it comes around each year with a false mustache that makes him look exactly like his father-it's ridiculous. really, and he can walk just like him, its same old appeal to the foolish, child too, with that pompous strut that John, ish, grinning side of everybody. really, and he can walk just like him,

"You Shouldn't Wear That"

Have you met the dissector? Doesn't she leave you all cut up? You greet her -- "Lovely day ! Sky-She refuses poetry-prose for her. "My dear! Such an unbecoming hat!" She straightens it, also your veil Picks imaginary threads from you. ooks you over critically. Her eye is like a microscope ou squirm under it like a worm Feebly you try to avert dissection : "Did you see that wonderful play?" Can't be done! "No!" she says. "My dear! Why do you wear that? Such a color for your complexion! Neutral tones are best for you. Black would be just right!" You try to say how you love color. Life's so vivid—black is funereal. It snuffs out the light o' life. "Gown's too young!" she interrupts. "You shouldn't wear one piece ones. Tailor suits are more chie You resign yourself to the probe. Or you make for a mental hole. Crawl into a protecting thought She grabs you, hauls you back, "Listen! It's for your good!"

But even human worms will turn. I got the Thimble Club together. We had all suffered from her. She was a nuisance to be abated. So we abated her—thusly: Thursdays she goes to market. We all went, too, in relays. The first gave a surprised start. "My dear! How pale you are! And in gray! Takes all your color. Next came Mrs. Brown. She picked threads off the critic. Been sewing?" she laughed. 'You forgot to brush, didn't you?" What a funny hat!" Next one said. "Styles are so queer, aren't they?" Another told where to buy shoes. "Such a tailor!" exclaimed another. "He makes you look so dumpy! Now mine is____" but the critic fied. Now mine is "' but the critic fied. I was last. I pawed her all over. (Hate that! Makes my flesh crawl.) I did all she had done to me. I did all she had done to me. She was fighting mad. "How do YOU like it?" I said. "Remember the Golden Rule. Here's a motto I made for you." It was a card: "Kwitcherknockin." She quit, teo. We like her now. Isn't it odd? Critics love to nick flaws. Critics love to pick flaws. They hate to be picked themselves.

ASCO A

ASCO

ASCO

Making More Money

coming election. New Jersey has two women candidates for the election. State Assembly in the coming Topeka has five women taxi drivers.

Philadelphia's first hotel exclusively for women has recently been opened. And the queer part is this: Usually she's a dowdy herself! She sees flaws only in others.

York are registered to vote in the

DREAMLAND

<section-header><section-header><section-header><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text>

SHORT-THUMB SATURNIAN The weak will of the short thumb does not allow the outstanding qualities of the Natornian to put forth their best effort

XLIV

YILY With a short thumb, the Saturnian's oped. He is api to surrender himself to be superstitious leaning, and also to his superstitious leaning, and also to his superstitious leaning, and also to his superstitious leaning, and also the superstitious leaning, and also the superstitious leaning, and also the superstitious leaning in the superstition of a goal or in the use of the right means toward attaining this goal after he has chosen it, he is api to he after he has chosen it, he is api to he on the would like to do and, unless spured on by well-intentioned friends, his whole and the nay be long drama of discontent may be long drama of disconten

(To be continued)

Billy Goat butted a Fat Warrior who had purposely banged into him, and Johnny Bull got his jaws fastened in the

To R. E. K. Make a ballet dancer's costume out of tarlatan, sewing a number of short, full skirts on one walstband so that they will stand out stiffly. Wear bloomers of white sain, with ruffles down the sides to give additional beuffancy to the skirts. The waist should be a wrinkled basque or a pointed bodie, with low neck and short sleeves. A trimming of artificial flowers, crossing one shoulder ind continuing down the skirt, would be

The

To Dress as "Mickey"

To the Editor of Woman's Poue' To the Editor of Woman's Poue' Teah Madam—I att, invited to a Hal-loween party Saturday night, and was at a loss as to what kind of get-up i should wear one of my girl friends suggested "Mickey." as she thinks it would suit me because I have long brown bair that curis easily. Can you suggest what kind of clothes to wear to live up to "Mickey." F.R. There are two ketoms for "Mickey."

There are two get-ups for "Mickey." There are two get-ups for "Mickey." The of them corrists of a man's flannel hit, id shabby transers frayed at the nkies and a man's ocat with the beyes and collar cut off, so that it books ike a sleeveless sweater, and either asins or high black shoes, costume is a checked skirt, other costume is a checked skirt, with the flannel shirt and a long gingham oron over it. The moccasins are worn

Halloween

Ghosts and witches, clowns and fun

And pumpkins lit up resembling the

-Marian D. Brill, & twelve-year-old

Autumn comes with Halloween. And all around the town are seen vir this.

sun

reader.

French Dog Collar

10-30

Isn't this dog collar smart and Frenchy? Yes, and most of the new winter frocks have high collars, with Frenchy? Yes, and most of the new winter frocks have high collars, with withch this dog collar would be most fetching. The band pictured was made by joining two strips '5 yard long and 1's inches wide; one of black sath, the other of tomato red embroidered in all-ver. The edges were then picoted. A small jet or pearl buckle finishes one end, several eyclets the other. That this collar may be reversible, use two thy smap fasteners to secure the buckle in-stead of stitching. Of course, you can combine any two colors to match you favorite frocks, but you must have all peast one of these fascinating dog col-

one of these fascinating

P.L. Kablan

FLORA

tation. He spends money like water and drinks a great deal. I've never seen him thoroughly under the influence of liquor manages to maintain a good He spends money like water and

3. How can a last-minute costume for Halloween be made out of a full organdic dress? When varnished woodwork is badly worn, what will improve its appearance?

what easy way can decorated invitations be made for a Jap-anese, Autumn, Silver, Rose, etc. function? 6. Which is correct, "he don't," or

"he doesn't"?

Yesterday's Answers Miss Dorothy E. Holloway, of Williamsport, Pa., is the first woman to win the scholarship established by the Pennsylvania Railroad to commemorate the work done during the world war by its women employees in making surgical dressings. Eyclet embroidery worked in silk is used to triin many of the cloth dresses this season. A dainty gift for the child who likes to sew is a little basket lined with silk, and fitted with scissors, thimble, pincushion, etc. A new silk sweater is made with a collar, cuffs and band around the bottom of the new loop trim-ming, or hairpin crochet of silk. A dark spot of grease on un-finished wood can be removed by the application of a paste made of fuller's earth and water overnight. Woolen stockings and sport shoes are not correct with an afternoon dress. Silk stockings, dress shoes and spats should be worn,

-children thrive on it.

ASCO

ASCO

SCO

ASCO

"Asco" Stores are conveniently located all over Philadelphia and in the principal cities and towns of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland.

ASCO

ASCO

Big

Loaf

ASCO

ASCO