

CAMDEN CAMPAIGN WILL END TONIGHT

D. O. P. Nominees for County
Offices to Address Several Meetings

Republicans of Camden will close their campaign tonight with meetings in the Eighth ward, another in Pennsauken township, one at Lawnside and a meeting for Hebrews at Wilday Hall, Fifth and Pine streets. The meetings will be addressed by County Clerk Patterson, candidate for Congress; City Clerk Brown, candidate for county clerk; State Senator Haines, candidate for register of deeds; Isaiah Hatch, candidate for sheriff; Assemblyman Wallworth, candidate for state senator, and others.

Since the beginning of the campaign the Republican candidates have been on the jump covering all of the districts within Camden county. Special attention also has been given to the women who are to vote for the first time. Club meetings for the women have been held and entertainments given. A woman's Republican executive committee has been holding forth at Broadway and Benson street, where meetings have been held with women as the speakers.

Democrats of Camden close their campaign with noon meetings in different parts of the city and the county today. The nominees also have been moving from one end of the county to the other, but it has been admitted that the meetings have not been as largely attended as the meetings held by the Republicans. About the only hope the Democrats have is to elect several of their candidates for city Council. As to the other part of the ticket they have been in the habit of being swamped by the Republicans.

Some of the active party men are predicting a majority of about 18,000 for the Republican nominees.

The candidates are as follows: Republicans—Congress, F. Patterson, Jr.; state senator, Joseph F. Wallworth; Assembly, J. Heulings Coles, Willard T. Gibbs and T. Harry Rowland; sheriff, Isaiah Hatch; county clerk, William D. Brown; register of deeds, Joshua Haines; coroner, Dr. C. A. Hardley.

Democratic—Congress, William P. Kramer; state senator, Samuel Shay; Assembly, Edward Barrett, Alvin B. Pitman and Hertha Shippen Irving; sheriff, Victor King; county clerk, John Miller; register of deeds, John T. Cleary; coroner, Neal M. Alcott.

Wills Probated Today

Four wills, aggregating sums amounting to more than $34,000, were probated today in the office of the register of wills. The wills probated were as follows: Charles S. Gardiner, Pennsylvania Hospital, $5050; John Falloon, 1730 Norris street, $2300; Clarence K. Hall, 6110 Media street, $1000, and John W. Nobray, 1007 North Sixty-first street, $15,845.

Open in the Chestnut Street

If you have a product to sell that is better than others of its kind, it is your duty to bring it to the attention of your fellow-citizens. In this respect, proprietors of the Chestnut Street Shops join in telling you through this column of the merits of their wares.

Deborah Seaman

SOME men are finding those knitted wool sweater coats just what they need for the winter. They take the place of a coat and give a greater amount of freedom. I saw some at the store of MacDonald & Campbell, 1334-36 Chestnut Street, which I thought particularly good-looking. Those attractive heater shades look so well with the tweed knickers. There is a wonderful variety of colors at MacDonald & Campbell's, and it goes without saying, of course, that they are of excellent quality. Many women—college girls particularly—like these sweater coats for outdoor wear. They are fine for golf wear at this time of year and they're just the things to slip into after a basketball game, or while you are waiting your turn to join in the game.

ONCE you have used an electric iron you wonder how you ever worried along without one. And you will find that it pays to buy the best. An iron like the American Beauty, in which only the best materials are used, will outlast one of poorer construction, and then, too, there are points of design to be considered. The American Beauty has an extra-large ironing surface; it is well balanced, so that it does not tire the arm or wrist; it has a comfortable wood handle that never gets hot, and its cutaway nose gives a better view of the work and makes the ironing quite so attractive as easier. Even these are but a few of its merits. To appreciate fully its superiority, you should examine the iron for yourself at the store of J. Franklin Miller, 1612 Chestnut St.

HOW fortunate it is that I am able to tell you today of a wonderful opportunity to secure a good-looking winter coat. It is of soft bolivia in navy, tan or taupe, beautifully tailored and most effectively trimmed with stitching, and its price is but $75. It is lined with silk of excellent quality and warmly interlined. At Miller's, 1337 Chestnut Street and 127 South Thirteenth Street, where I saw the coat, I saw also some very good-looking woolen plaid skirts. An unusual one that I thought particularly attractive was of blue and henna plaid. A smart-looking tailored shirt of pongee of a striped crepe de chine blouse with white collar and cuffs edged with a tiny plaited frill would look decidedly chic with the skirt.

IT'S not too early, really, to be zipping out your Christmas list; particularly if you are including jewelry in it, and, of course, you are. It is much wiser to secure Bailey, Banks & Biddle Company's gift book, and check off your selections, than to wait until those busy days just before Christmas, when you may not be able to find exactly what you want. The stocks in all departments are most complete at present, but it is only fair to tell you that duplication in many lines, especially of imported articles, will be well-nigh impossible. The 1921 Gift Book will be issued early in November and will be mailed upon request. Illustrating as it does the newest and most unusual things in jewelry, silver, etc., it is replete with suggestions.

CHAIRMAN URGES FULL G. O. P. VOTE

W. E. Crow, of State Committee, Makes Last Appeal to People

William E. Crow, chairman of the Republican state committee, has issued a final appeal to the voters to support the whole Republican ticket.

Addressed "To all Pennsylvanians," Mr. Crow's appeal follows: "Steadfastly declining to consent to a surrender of the sovereignty and independence of the United States to an alien super-state in Europe, or to grant it authority to nullify the constitutional rights and prerogatives of Congress, or to permit our wealth of blood and treasure to be employed at will in the protection of imperialism in Europe and Asia, the voters of Pennsylvania realize as never before the sacred and binding character of their obligations to the state and nation.

"No less do they appreciate the timeliness of the opportunity and the imperative duty to put a stop to prodigal expenditure and wanton waste in the administration of national affairs; to take steps to liquidate the appalling war debt; to release the people from a burdensome, vicious, costly, penalizing and sectional system of direct taxation and support of a professedly income tax of billions of imports; to make a peace that will be lasting; to cut America loose from foreign entanglements and complications; to restore domestic happiness and tranquility to our people; to insure security of life, property, government and the privileges of citizenship; to safeguard the just rights of labor, capital, business, agriculture and the manifold forms of industry; to secure fair treatment for the men who in periods of dire emergency, donned the uniform of soldiers and sailors, and offered themselves a willing sacrifice to sustain our country's honor, and to direct the nation of autocracy in government and return it to the people from whom all authority comes."
