

CITY CONGRESSMEN RETAIN THEIR SEATS

Four Republican Delegates at Large Also Overwhelmingly Elected

WARE SWAMPS RIVAL

The four Republican nominees for Congress-at-large and the six congressional district nominees from this city were swept to victory in the overwhelming Republican landslide.

William J. Burns, of Pittsburgh, polled 295,232 votes here for Congress-at-large, and was followed by his three Republican associates on the ticket in the following manner: Anderson H. Walters, Johnstown, 269,032.

Joseph McLaughlin, Philadelphia, 250,486; Mahlon M. Garland, Pittsburgh, 253,475.

Congressman William S. Vare received nearly four times as many votes for re-election in the First Congressional district as did his Democratic opponent, Lawrence E. McCrossin.

Congressman George S. Graham was returned to his seat in Washington from the Second district, with a total of 33,534 votes, to 750 for Herman Becker, the Democratic nominee.

In the Third district former Sheriff Harry C. Ransley was elected over Joseph Hagerty, Democrat, to both the unexpired and full terms. This is the district which Mayor Moore represents in Congress, the unexpired term resulting from his resignation to assume the duties of Mayor. Ransley received 22,602 votes for the full term, as against 7008 for Hagerty, and 28,006 for the unexpired term, as against 7006 for his Democratic opponent.

Congressman George W. Edmonds was winner in the Fourth district over Harry J. Ruescampf, Democrat. The vote was: Edmonds, 40,607; Ruescampf, 11,587.

James J. Connelly, in the Fifth district, also won. The former barber polled more than three times as many votes as Henry J. Burns, Democrat, who was expected to make a comeback in the Connelly's total vote was 48,764, while Burns received 15,082.

VOTE FOR CITY'S CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATES

Table with 2 columns: Wards and Candidates. Lists votes for various wards in the First, Second, Third, and Fourth districts.

Table with 2 columns: Wards and Candidates. Lists votes for various wards in the Second district.

Table with 2 columns: Wards and Candidates. Lists votes for various wards in the Third district.

Table with 2 columns: Wards and Candidates. Lists votes for various wards in the Fourth district.

Table with 2 columns: Wards and Candidates. Lists votes for various wards in the Fifth district.

Table with 2 columns: Wards and Candidates. Lists votes for various wards in the Sixth district.

Table with 2 columns: Wards and Candidates. Lists votes for various wards in the Sixth district.

Table with 2 columns: Wards and Candidates. Lists votes for various wards in the Sixth district.

Table with 2 columns: Wards and Candidates. Lists votes for various wards in the Sixth district.

Table with 2 columns: Wards and Candidates. Lists votes for various wards in the Sixth district.

Table with 2 columns: Wards and Candidates. Lists votes for various wards in the Sixth district.

Table with 2 columns: Wards and Candidates. Lists votes for various wards in the Sixth district.

Table with 2 columns: Wards and Candidates. Lists votes for various wards in the Sixth district.

Table with 2 columns: Wards and Candidates. Lists votes for various wards in the Sixth district.

Table with 2 columns: Wards and Candidates. Lists votes for various wards in the Sixth district.

Table with 2 columns: Wards and Candidates. Lists votes for various wards in the Sixth district.

Table with 2 columns: Wards and Candidates. Lists votes for various wards in the Sixth district.

Table with 2 columns: Wards and Candidates. Lists votes for various wards in the Sixth district.

Table with 2 columns: Wards and Candidates. Lists votes for various wards in the Sixth district.

Table with 2 columns: Wards and Candidates. Lists votes for various wards in the Sixth district.

Table with 2 columns: Wards and Candidates. Lists votes for various wards in the Sixth district.

Table with 2 columns: Wards and Candidates. Lists votes for various wards in the Sixth district.

Table with 2 columns: Wards and Candidates. Lists votes for various wards in the Sixth district.

Table with 2 columns: Wards and Candidates. Lists votes for various wards in the Sixth district.

SENATOR LAGS BEHIND HEAD TICKET, BUT STILL HAS HUGE MAJORITY

Boies Penrose, Republican nominee for re-election as United States senator, ran behind his ticket yesterday, but had a commanding majority over his Democratic opponent, Major John A. Farrell, of West Chester.

The votes lost by Penrose were about evenly divided between Farrell and a woman candidate for senator, Mrs. Leah Cobb Marion, nominee of the Prohibition party.

The total vote here for United States senator was Penrose, 200,551; Farrell, 86,229; Marion, 1,381.

Major Farrell carried one ward, the Sixth, in recent years the sole Democratic balliwick among the forty-eight in this city. Mrs. Marion's vote dropped as low as six in some wards while in big independent wards, where the so-called "church vote" is strong, she polled fairly well.

In the Twenty-second ward she received 1122 votes.

The sweeping Republican victory that places Harding in the White House and assures Republican control of the Senate, places Senator Penrose in the most commanding position he has occupied in nearly ten years.

The eight years of Democratic rule here have been for federal patronage in Pennsylvania Senator Penrose, elected for a fifth term, no doubt will continue as chairman of the powerful finance committee of the Senate and probably will be dispenser of federal patronage in this state.

The election slacker's usually average from 15 to 20 per cent of the total of registered voters.

The battlefields of the Vare organization are today on top of the South Philadelphia citadel largely because of the tremendous straight Republican vote polled. James Gallagher, administration candidate for Council from the Eleventh district, made a gallant fight to humble the Vares in their home ward.

Charles J. Pommer, the Vares candidate for Council, polled 473 votes compared with 17,830 cast for Gallagher. Pommer's majority was 7263.

The Vares nominee carried all five wards of the Fifth district, but nearly lost the Forty-first.

The councilman-elect is a court tipstaff and former magistrate. He is Vares leader of the First ward and is city committee member from the Eleventh ward. He served one term in Select Council.

Womans "Cut" Penrose

Direct proof that Senator Penrose, candidate for re-election, was "cut" in many wards, presumably by women voters, was shown in his total for the city, which fell 20,000 behind the head of the ticket.

Mr. Penrose received 286,351 votes, while 87,653 votes were given his Democratic opponent, John A. Farrell, of West Chester. Mrs. Leah Cobb Marion, of Emmorlin, first woman candidate for United States senator in this state, received 11,819 local votes.

City Loan Approved

The $33,000,000 municipal loan was endorsed emphatically by the voters of Philadelphia on Monday night, when 506 expressed approval of the big proposed bond issue, while 54,983 opposed it. The totals show that many thousands of voters neglected to vote on the loan.

The two proposed amendments to the state constitution also were approved here. Amendment No. 1, abolishing banks and trust companies, was approved by 178,103 voters, while 25,448 opposed it.

Amendment No. 2, covering the acquisition of public improvements by the city, was given a favorable vote of 108,777 and a negative vote of 42,569.

Have Assembly Majority

Elections to the State Senate and the State House of Representatives went through for the Republican candidates with the precision of a military drill. The city constitution is assured a majority favorable to it in the local delegation to Harrisburg.

An expected battle in the Nineteenth legislative district, covering the Twenty-eighth and Thirty-seventh wards, completely fizzled out, with a Vares man at the losing end of the contest.

Arthur R. Fox, a Vares supporter, ran for the seat against the American party ticket, opposing J. J. Miller and Edward Hays, Republican nominees, who are Moore supporters.

Three state senators were re-elected, all nominees on the Republican ticket. They were Senator Edwin S. Vore, William J. McNichol and Augustus F. Dalk, Jr., while the Fifth senatorial district chose Max Aron as state senator. Only seven scoring divisions were missing this afternoon.

White Wins Hammond

Hammond voters rallied to the support of Edward H. White, father of Charles S. White, accused of complicity in the Billy Daney case, and returned him to Congress with 1049 more votes than any of his Democratic opponents and 200 more than any Republican.

In a referendum vote, Hammond defeated by 457 to 309 the proposition to increase the salaries of the mayor and other officers. It voted in favor of the proposed soldiers' bonus, 746 to 162, and in favor of the Delaware river bridge loan by vote of 796 to 109.

Congratulations—Moore

Mayor Moore sent the following telegram to Senator Harding: "Philadelphia friends are enthusiastic. The country is to be congratulated."

J. HAMPTON MOORE, Mayor of Philadelphia.

Philadelphia's Vote for President and Vice President

Table showing Philadelphia's vote for President and Vice President across various wards. Columns include Republican, Democrat, Socialist, Labor, and Single Tax candidates.

Philadelphia Vote for Congress-at-Large

Table showing Philadelphia's vote for Congress-at-Large across various wards. Lists candidates and their respective votes.

Phila. Vote for State Officers

Table showing Philadelphia's vote for State Officers across various wards. Lists candidates for State Treasurer, Auditor General, and Supreme Court Justices.

COOLIDGE "STAYS ON JOB"

Vice President-elect Gives His Successor a Vacation

COOLIDGE WIRE HARDING

COOLIDGE WIRE HARDING

COOLIDGE WIRE HARDING

PLENARY MEETING FOR NEW CABINET

Lodge, Root, Knox and Hughes Mentioned for State Portfolio

POST FOR DAUGHTERY

By the Associated Press

Marion D., Nov. 3.—Although nothing authoritative has come from President-elect Harding or any of his close advisers as to the probable cabinet selections of the new administration, campaign gossip, as it has been related by callers at Harding headquarters and by local leaders entertained aboard the Harding campaign train, has included repeated mention of several prominent Republicans for cabinet posts.

In this current of unofficial and purely speculative talk two names were mentioned with great frequency as those of Massachusetts.

Harry M. Daugherty, of Ohio, a campaign manager, and John W. Weeks, of Massachusetts.

Daugherty has been more closely associated with Mr. Harding than any other party manager, making many trips here and taking a large part in the formulation of the Harding campaign strategy.

This close contact, together with the senator's oft-repeated praise of Mr. Daugherty's services, has led to rumors in many quarters that the latter can sit in the new President's official family if he so desires. He is a lawyer, and has been mentioned most frequently as a possible choice for attorney general.

Weeks an Annapolis Graduate

A former senator, Mr. Weeks, also has been mentioned as a possible cabinet executive committee during the campaign just closed. He is a graduate of the Naval Academy and a former member of the Republican national committee; a circumstance which has linked his name in the undercurrent of political speculation with the secretaryship of the navy.

Among those whispered by the self-constituted cabinet-makers in connection with the post of secretary of state are those of Henry Cabot Lodge, Edward Phillips, and Charles Evans Hughes. Senator Lodge, as chairman of the foreign relations committee, has led the fight against unreserved ratification of the Treaty of Versailles.

Mr. Lodge has expressed high regard for his knowledge and judgment in international affairs.

Mr. Root and Mr. Knox both are former heads of the State Department, and Mr. Hughes, who was the Republican presidential nominee four years ago, has been a close student of the League fight.

Hays May Land in Cabinet

Among the political figures who repeat their faith in the selection of Will Hays, chairman of the Republican National Committee, as postmaster general, is another question with which the governor has been connected in the past.

Mr. Hays, who has been connected with the place in the same speculative way.

However, the former food administrator, has been talked about in many quarters for many posts, but the gossip has assigned him most frequently to the post of secretary of the Interior.

There also has been a theory circulated that Senator Harding might prefer to put the reorganization of the war department in the hands of an army man instead of a civilian and might ask Major General Leonard Wood or General John J. Pershing to take that portfolio.

Another name mentioned frequently in connection with the secretaryship is that of former Senator George Sutherland, of Utah, who was attached to Senator Harding's headquarters here during the campaign.

There also has been a theory circulated that Senator Harding might prefer to put the reorganization of the war department in the hands of an army man instead of a civilian and might ask Major General Leonard Wood or General John J. Pershing to take that portfolio.

Another name mentioned frequently in connection with the secretaryship is that of former Senator George Sutherland, of Utah, who was attached to Senator Harding's headquarters here during the campaign.

There also has been a theory circulated that Senator Harding might prefer to put the reorganization of the war department in the hands of an army man instead of a civilian and might ask Major General Leonard Wood or General John J. Pershing to take that portfolio.

Another name mentioned frequently in connection with the secretaryship is that of former Senator George Sutherland, of Utah, who was attached to Senator Harding's headquarters here during the campaign.

There also has been a theory circulated that Senator Harding might prefer to put the reorganization of the war department in the hands of an army man instead of a civilian and might ask Major General Leonard Wood or General John J. Pershing to take that portfolio.

Another name mentioned frequently in connection with the secretaryship is that of former Senator George Sutherland, of Utah, who was attached to Senator Harding's headquarters here during the campaign.

There also has been a theory circulated that Senator Harding might prefer to put the reorganization of the war department in the hands of an army man instead of a civilian and might ask Major General Leonard Wood or General John J. Pershing to take that portfolio.

Another name mentioned frequently in connection with the secretaryship is that of former Senator George Sutherland, of Utah, who was attached to Senator Harding's headquarters here during the campaign.

There also has been a theory circulated that Senator Harding might prefer to put the reorganization of the war department in the hands of an army man instead of a civilian and might ask Major General Leonard Wood or General John J. Pershing to take that portfolio.

Another name mentioned frequently in connection with the secretaryship is that of former Senator George Sutherland, of Utah, who was attached to Senator Harding's headquarters here during the campaign.

There also has been a theory circulated that Senator Harding might prefer to put the reorganization of the war department in the hands of an army man instead of a civilian and might ask Major General Leonard Wood or General John J. Pershing to take that portfolio.

Another name mentioned frequently in connection with the secretaryship is that of former Senator George Sutherland, of Utah, who was attached to Senator Harding's headquarters here during the campaign.

There also has been a theory circulated that Senator Harding might prefer to put the reorganization of the war department in the hands of an army man instead of a civilian and might ask Major General Leonard Wood or General John J. Pershing to take that portfolio.

Another name mentioned frequently in connection with the secretaryship is that of former Senator George Sutherland, of Utah, who was attached to Senator Harding's headquarters here during the campaign.

There also has been a theory circulated that Senator Harding might prefer to put the reorganization of the war department in the hands of an army man instead of a civilian and might ask Major General Leonard Wood or General John J. Pershing to take that portfolio.

Another name mentioned frequently in connection with the secretaryship is that of former Senator George Sutherland, of Utah, who was attached to Senator Harding's headquarters here during the campaign.

There also has been a theory circulated that Senator Harding might prefer to put the reorganization of the war department in the hands of an army man instead of a civilian and might ask Major General Leonard Wood or General John J. Pershing to take that portfolio.

Another name mentioned frequently in connection with the secretaryship is that of former Senator George Sutherland, of Utah, who was attached to Senator Harding's headquarters here during the campaign.

There also has been a theory circulated that Senator Harding might prefer to put the reorganization of the war department in the hands of an army man instead of a civilian and might ask Major General Leonard Wood or General John J. Pershing to take that portfolio.

HOW CITY VOTED ON AMENDMENTS AND LOAN BILL

Table showing how the city voted on amendments and the loan bill. Columns include Yes/No for various amendments and the loan bill.

COX FELICITATES SENATOR HARDING

Governor Pledges Support in 'Whatever Emergency Might Arise' in Message

LOSES HIS HOME COUNTY

By the Associated Press

Dayton, O., Nov. 3.—Governor Cox, the defeated presidential candidate, today wired his congratulations to Senator Harding on his election.

"I am very glad to hear of your success," the message read. "In the spirit of America, I accept the decision of the majority, tender as the defeated candidate my congratulations, and pledge my support in whatever emergency might arise."

The stinging of defeat, borne without emotion by the governor, was expressed by the local candidate's return. For the first time in the governor's political career, it appeared that his home county had been carried by an opponent.

The unofficial commending support of the executive authority in whatever emergency might arise.

Mr. Harding's headquarters here during the campaign.

There also has been a theory circulated that Senator Harding might prefer to put the reorganization of the war department in the hands of an army man instead of a civilian and might ask Major General Leonard Wood or General John J. Pershing to take that portfolio.

Another name mentioned frequently in connection with the secretaryship is that of former Senator George Sutherland, of Utah, who was attached to Senator Harding's headquarters here during the campaign.

There also has been a theory circulated that Senator Harding might prefer to put the reorganization of the war department in the hands of an army man instead of a civilian and might ask Major General Leonard Wood or General John J. Pershing to take that portfolio.

Another name mentioned frequently in connection with the secretaryship is that of former Senator George Sutherland, of Utah, who was attached to Senator Harding's headquarters here during the campaign.

There also has been a theory circulated that Senator Harding might prefer to put the reorganization of the war department in the hands of an army man instead of a civilian and might ask Major General Leonard Wood or General John J. Pershing to take that portfolio.

Another name mentioned frequently in connection with the secretaryship is that of former Senator George Sutherland, of Utah, who was attached to Senator Harding's headquarters here during the campaign.

There also has been a theory circulated that Senator Harding might prefer to put the reorganization of the war department in the hands of an army man instead of a civilian and might ask Major General Leonard Wood or General John J. Pershing to take that portfolio.

Another name mentioned frequently in connection with the secretaryship is that of former Senator George Sutherland, of Utah, who was attached to Senator Harding's headquarters here during the campaign.

There also has been a theory circulated that Senator Harding might prefer to put the reorganization of the war department in the hands of an army man instead of a civilian and might ask Major General Leonard Wood or General John J. Pershing to take that portfolio.

Another name mentioned frequently in connection with the secretaryship is that of former Senator George Sutherland, of Utah, who was attached to Senator Harding's headquarters here during the campaign.

There also has been a theory circulated that Senator Harding might prefer to put the reorganization of the war department in the hands of an army man instead of a civilian and might ask Major General Leonard Wood or General John J. Pershing to take that portfolio.

Another name mentioned frequently in connection with the secretaryship is that of former Senator George Sutherland, of Utah, who was attached to Senator Harding's headquarters here during the campaign.

There also has been a theory circulated that Senator Harding might prefer to put the reorganization of the war department in the hands of an army man instead of a civilian and might ask Major General Leonard Wood or General John J. Pershing to take that portfolio.

Another name mentioned frequently in connection with the secretaryship is that of former Senator George Sutherland, of Utah, who was attached to Senator Harding's headquarters here during the campaign.

There also has been a theory circulated that Senator Harding might prefer to put the reorganization of the war department in the hands of an army man instead of a civilian and might ask Major General Leonard Wood or General John J. Pershing to take that portfolio.

Another name mentioned frequently in connection with the secretaryship is that of former Senator George Sutherland, of Utah, who was attached to Senator Harding's headquarters here during the campaign.

There also has been a theory circulated that Senator Harding might prefer to put the reorganization of the war department in the hands of an army man instead of a civilian and might ask Major General Leonard Wood or General John J. Pershing to take that portfolio.

Another name mentioned frequently in connection with the secretaryship is that of former Senator George Sutherland, of Utah, who was attached to Senator Harding's headquarters here during the campaign.

There also has been a theory circulated that Senator Harding might prefer to put the reorganization of the war department in the hands of an army man instead of a civilian and might ask Major General Leonard Wood or General John J. Pershing to take that portfolio.

Another name mentioned frequently in connection with the secretaryship is that of former Senator George Sutherland, of Utah, who was attached to Senator Harding's headquarters here during the campaign.

VOTERS APPROVE $33,000,000 LOAN

Will Provide Money for Frankford "L" Street Paving and Other Improvements

AMENDMENTS ALSO PASSED

Philadelphia will be able to obtain many necessary improvements as a result of approval of the $33,000,000 loan and two amendments to the state constitution. The loan was approved by 182,506 voters, while 54,983 voters opposed it.

Passage of the loan assures speedy completion of the Frankford elevated line, better paved streets, extension of the Roosevelt boulevard, purchase of a street cleaning and garbage collection plant, improvements to the water supply and river front and construction of the Art Museum and Free Library. A new building for the Municipal Court also is provided.

It was the last-mentioned item that caused most of the opposition to the loan. Thousands of voters were of the opinion that a $5,000,000 "palace of justice" was out of all consideration in view of the necessity for economy and could not be induced to vote for such an elaborate project.

A very large majority of those who voted for the loan also expressed their disapproval of the proposed palatial court, for which extravagant Judge Brown is said to be largely responsible, but rather than imperil the passage of the loan, they voted "yes" in order that the city could make necessary headway with the other projects.

The amendments classified as No. 1 and No. 2 also passed with very substantial majorities.

Amendment No. 1 provides that the General Assembly shall have power by law to provide for the incorporation of banks and trust companies and prescribe their powers. This amendment received 178,103 votes. The affirmative was opposed by 25,448 voters.

Amendment No. 2 is designed to limit the borrowing capacity of cities, boroughs and townships with the exception of Philadelphia to 7 per cent of their assessed valuation. In Philadelphia the limit is to be placed at 10 per cent. This amendment received 163,777 votes in the affirmative and 42,569 were recorded against it.

Accused Freeholder Re-elected

Cape May, N. J., Nov. 3.—Joseph McKissic, freeholder from Lower town, this county, who is under an indictment alleging graft, won out in the bitter election fight over his opponent, George Walters, by a majority of thirty-three votes. This is in the way of a vindication for McKissic, as his trial in the Cape May county courts, was put off until after election.

Cape May county folk asked the county prosecutor, Eugene Cole, for an investigation of the county board of freeholders on the charge of spending the county money recklessly, saying that if the county desired the investigation he would immediately start proceedings.

Complete returns from Cape May county are: Harding and Coolidge, 777; Cox and Roosevelt, 321. For county officers: Haerbach, 428; Jomb, 233. For Assembly—Boswell, 602; Miss Frances Baker, 514. For coroner—Frank R. Hughes, 314; Benjamin C. Ingersoll, 519. For county freeholders—William S. Shaw, Republican, 637; Irving Eldredge, Republican, 531; Charles York, Democrat, 513; William C. Gilbert, Democrat, 394.

Complete returns from Cape May county are: Harding and Coolidge, 777; Cox and Roosevelt, 321. For county officers: Haerbach, 428; Jomb, 233. For Assembly—Boswell, 602; Miss Frances Baker, 514. For coroner—Frank R. Hughes, 314; Benjamin C. Ingersoll, 519. For county freeholders—William S. Shaw, Republican, 637; Irving Eldredge, Republican, 531; Charles York, Democrat, 513; William C. Gilbert, Democrat, 394.

Complete returns from Cape May county are: Harding and Coolidge, 777; Cox and Roosevelt, 321. For county officers: Haerbach, 428; Jomb, 233. For Assembly—Boswell, 602; Miss Frances Baker, 514. For coroner—Frank R. Hughes, 314; Benjamin C. Ingersoll, 519. For county freeholders—William S. Shaw, Republican, 637; Irving Eldredge, Republican, 531; Charles York, Democrat, 513; William C. Gilbert, Democrat, 394.

Complete returns from Cape May county are: Harding and Coolidge, 777; Cox and Roosevelt, 321. For county officers: Haerbach, 428; Jomb, 233. For Assembly—Boswell, 602; Miss Frances Baker, 514. For coroner—Frank R. Hughes, 314; Benjamin C. Ingersoll, 519. For county freeholders—William S. Shaw, Republican, 637; Irving Eldredge, Republican, 531; Charles York, Democrat, 513; William C. Gilbert, Democrat, 394.

Complete returns from Cape May county are: Harding and Coolidge, 777; Cox and Roosevelt, 321. For county officers: Haerbach, 428; Jomb, 233. For Assembly—Boswell, 602; Miss Frances Baker, 514. For coroner—Frank R. Hughes, 314; Benjamin C. Ingersoll, 519. For county freeholders—William S. Shaw, Republican, 637; Irving Eldredge, Republican, 531; Charles York, Democrat, 513; William C. Gilbert, Democrat, 394.

Complete returns from Cape May county are: Harding and Coolidge, 777; Cox and Roosevelt, 321. For county officers: Haerbach, 428; Jomb, 233. For Assembly—Boswell, 602; Miss Frances Baker, 514. For coroner—Frank R. Hughes, 314; Benjamin C. Ingersoll, 519. For county freeholders—William S. Shaw, Republican, 637; Irving Eldredge, Republican, 531; Charles York, Democrat, 513; William C. Gilbert, Democrat, 394.

Complete returns from Cape May county are: Harding and Coolidge, 777; Cox and Roosevelt, 321. For county officers: Haerbach, 428; Jomb, 233. For Assembly—Boswell, 602; Miss Frances Baker, 514. For coroner—Frank R. Hughes, 314; Benjamin C. Ingersoll, 519. For county freeholders—William S. Shaw, Republican, 637; Irving Eldredge, Republican, 531; Charles York, Democrat, 513; William C. Gilbert, Democrat, 394.

Complete returns from Cape May county are: Harding and Coolidge, 777; Cox and Roosevelt, 321. For county officers: Haerbach, 428; Jomb, 233. For Assembly—Boswell, 602; Miss Frances Baker, 514. For coroner—Frank R. Hughes, 314; Benjamin C. Ingersoll, 519. For county freeholders—William S. Shaw, Republican, 637; Irving Eldredge, Republican, 531; Charles York, Democrat, 513; William C. Gilbert, Democrat, 394.

Complete returns from Cape May county are: Harding and Coolidge, 777; Cox and Roosevelt, 321. For county officers: Haerbach, 428; Jomb, 233. For Assembly—Boswell, 602; Miss Frances Baker, 514. For coroner—Frank R. Hughes, 314; Benjamin C. Ingersoll, 519. For county freeholders—William S. Shaw, Republican, 637; Irving Eldredge, Republican, 531; Charles York, Democrat, 513; William C. Gilbert, Democrat, 394.

Complete returns from