tea from 4 until 7 o'clock.

I hear Evelyn is to wear a perfectly duck of a frock of valenciennes lace, an heirloom which belonged to her grandmother and which has just turned a bit mother and which has just thried a fit creamy from age. The frock is to be worn over a foundation of pink silk trimmed with net footing. The bodice of the dress will be made with a round of the dress will be made with a round neck and there will be tiny little short sleeves. I did not hear just what flowers she would hold, but judging from the number I saw being delivered at the Acorn as I passed there this morning, I'll say she'll have enough to change off all afternoon and then some. The debutantes who will receive with Evelyn are Betty Frazier, Elise du Pont, Alice Gibson, Eleanor Gummey, Marianne Harris, who came out yester-Marianne Harris, wo camember; Jane day afternoon you remember; Jane Hepburn, Hary Howland, Elizabeth Jeanes, Anne Ashton, Russell Tucker, Mary Bartow, Sydney Biddle, Lysbeth Boyd.
