

The Woman's Exchange

Going into the Movies

To the Editor of Woman's Page:
Dear Madam—I am a young girl, fourteen years of age, and have applied to become a motion-picture actress. Now, I have been told that they have no opening just now and that I should send my photograph to them. I do not hear much about the studio to which I wrote, and I fear that if I do send my picture in I will not be called upon any sooner. I am very anxious to enter and I feel I can't wait long. Can you please tell me of a place where I could secure a position quicker?

I have a bright red spring coat which I do not like to wear, as it attracts so much attention. Is bright red the style now? The reason I ask is because I see so many people wearing red hats and red knitted sweaters. I do not like to wear it on account of people in the street always making remarks. I hate to throw it away. Shall I wear it? I like it, but do you think it proper?

I have a few little blackheads on my face and would like to get rid of them if possible. Can you tell me, too, how I can have rosy cheeks? Some of the girls tell me that massaging the face with cold cream will help. BLUE EYES

Don't you think it is a little soon to think about going into moving pictures? If you wait about three years, although it may seem a long time, you will undoubtedly be better able to get a position, and the education you will have received at school in the meantime will do you all kinds of good in your profession.

The bright red coat is not exactly proper for street wear, and is apt to make you conscious of your appearance. Why don't you dye the coat? If you are fond of red dye it a dark red, or a brown would be pretty. The coat would take either of these colors very well, and will have a raw and freshened appearance, which you will like, I know.

Scrub your face, using a washcloth and water as hot as you can stand it. Also use a good facial soap and massage well, so that all the pores are cleansed. Use cleansing cream in the morning. If you follow these instructions regularly, they will help you. With plenty of fresh air, exercise and simple foods you will have a good circulation, which will doubtless put color into your cheeks. The cold cream does not make them rosy, but massaging is good for them, and rubbing with ice is also stimulating to the circulation.

Symbolism of Bas-Relief
To the Editor of Woman's Page:
Dear Madam—What is represented by the bas-relief in Broad street station near the stairway?
M.H.R.A. C.
This bas-relief depicts Progress in America showing all the stages of the advance of civilization, from the pioneers on foot down to the airplanes of modern times.

Another Cat
To the Editor of Woman's Page:
Dear Madam—A while ago I saw in your column that a lady wanted a dog, and that makes me feel that perhaps you will consider my plea.

Like many others we have had to give up our home and live in apartments, and we are trying to find a home for our cat, as the owner of our house will not allow any animals in the house. He is a beautiful cat, thoroughly trained and a good "mouser." He has been a great pet and we would be eternally grateful to any one who can spare a little corner for him to live in.

H. C. C.
There must be some one who wants a cat. The name and address of "H. C. C." is on file for any one sending in a stamped envelope.

Laundrying a Luncheon Set
To the Editor of Woman's Page:
Dear Madam—I will greatly appreciate your advice as to the proper way to launder a luncheon set, hand-embroidered, so that it will have the same appearance as those exhibited in the art shops. Are they stiffened in any way that makes them have so much of a "starch" look?
H. M. G.

Wash the pieces in the regular way, taking care, however, that the water is not too hot, so that the embroidery silks do not run. Iron each piece while still damp, laying it on a Turkish towel and pressing on the wrong side. It is best not to stiffen them in any way. It is the care taken in the ironing that gives the wonderfully smooth appearance you speak of.

To Discuss Election Results
An informal discussion of election results will be held tonight at the regular monthly meeting of the Young Republicans of Philadelphia, 217 South Broad street. The meeting will start at 8:30 o'clock.

It is common knowledge that the Hupmobile does uncommonly well, exactly those things which make a motor car worth what it costs.

You pay for long life in a motor car—and get it in the Hupmobile.

You pay for low repair and operating-costs and get them in the Hupmobile.

You pay to keep going, and for freedom from constant adjustment—and get both in the Hupmobile.

You pay for satisfaction as long as you use the car, and satisfaction in the price you get when you sell it—and owners will tell you these are precisely the things you get in the Hupmobile.
