One of the biggest suburban football games of the season will be played this afternoon when Radnor High School invades the Cheltenham High School camp at Elkins Park.

The tilt should prove an interesting affair, as much rivalry exists between the two schools. Last year Radnor romped away with the Park boys by the score of 48 to 0.

Cheltenham practiced for over an hour yesterday afternoon and every man on the team appeared in fine physical condition with the exception of Mac Cann, the big tackle, who is nursing a hole on his neck, and Kollenback, one of the halfbacks, who received a broken wrist last Friday in the Camden High School game, which will keep him on the side lines for the rest of the season.

The material at Cheltenham has not been up to the standard this year in comparison with other years, but Coach Bowman has welded together a fast and fighting machine, considering that the majority of the team is all green timber and rather under weight.

The one lone star is Captain "Bud" Lowrey, fullback, around whom the attack is built. Lowrey is an all-around player and excels in hearing forward passes and line plunging. His forward tosses average 40 to 45 yards, are well timed and pierce the air straight as an arrow. His line plunging also comes in for much favorable comment and he is easily one of the best backs that ever donned a blue and gold uniform.

In the first game this year the Harrisburg Tech eleven said that "Bud" was the fastest performer seen on the field since Carl Beck, the former Harrisburg Tech all-around athlete, was graduated. This is Lowrey's last year at Cheltenham.

Blessing the blonde-haired quarterback is also a good man. He runs the team well and can also run himself. He handles forward passes well and is the life of the team.

In the line Randolph, Heist and Manager Ayres possess the most football ability and fighting spirit of the forwards.

Coach Hunt's warriors will also present a line-up of no mean ability.

In Captain Ferry, the star fullback, Radnor will present an individual that will bear watching. Ferry calls the signals and is rated as a wicked line plunger. Whetstone, the quarterback, does the punting and is a first-class open-field runner.

Radnor has the best record so far having won five out of six games, while Cheltenham has dropped four out of the last seven starts.

The game will start promptly at 2:30 o'clock.

Knabe to Manage Kansas City
Kansas City, Nov. 12.—Cute Knabe, who managed the Kansas City team of the American Association the greater part of last season, has signed a contract to manage the local organization during the 1921 season. President Muehlbach, of the Kansas City club, purchased Dutch Zwilling, outfielder, from Indianapolis and traded Alexander McCarthy, captain and second baseman of the Kansas City team, for Artie Butler, Milwaukee second baseman.

Prince-Fordes Post Wins
In a game that was very exciting throughout, Prince-Fordes Post No. 7, beat the Kinrossing Recreation Center, Fifth street and Chester avenue. The host team took the lead in the first half and was not overtaken.

BASEBALL MOGULS IN SESSION TODAY

Effort to Stave Off War in Majors by Combined Meeting in Chicago

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Club owners of the National and American Leagues were here today for a joint meeting to make a final effort to avoid a baseball war.

The meeting was agreed upon when the warring factions met in Kansas City to present their sides of the controversy before the minors. It was announced that at the session here today John A. Heydler and B. B. Johnson, presidents of the National and American League, respectively, lawyers, stenographers and all others are barred and that only men financially interested in the two leagues are to be present.

Club owners today were expected to express their individual opinion as to the best means for the reorganization of the game so as to bring peace. The magnates were scheduled to convene at noon.

Evening Meeting
After the joint meeting adjournment will be taken while each league deliberates on the proceedings for a final report. In the evening, another joint meeting will be held and it was expected that some decisive action will be taken to make peace.

The eleven club owners who favor the Lasker plan for the reorganization of the game, the National League club owners and Chicago, Boston, New York clubs of the American League, who favored the proposition, have definitely decided upon Federal Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, of Chicago, as chairman of the new governing board of baseball, if he accepts the offer.

The five members of the American League, Detroit, Cleveland, St. Louis, Philadelphia and Washington, who have aligned themselves with Johnson, have signified their willingness to accept the Lasker as chairman.

New York Officials
Three New York baseball officials, Colonel Jacob Ruppert, of the American League, and Charles A. Stoneham and John McGraw, of the Nationals, were expected in Chicago to attend today's session. H. H. France, of the Boston Red Sox, was also expected in company with the trio.

The minors will not come into the joint session until the major league owners have ironed out their difficulties. The minors are maintaining their attitude of strict neutrality.

On the program today was the reorganization of the National Commission and abolition of the new twelve-club National League, formed here last Monday when the American and National Leagues split.

The new National League will insist that the old commission, composed of Ben Johnson, president of the American League, and John Heydler, president of the National, with one vacancy, be abolished in favor of the civilian commission, it was said in baseball circles.
