Nancy Wynne Talks of the Princeton-Yale Game Today. She Sees Several Pretty Costumes-"Talk of the Town" Next Week

DO YOU ever strike one of those days | who will be their guest over the weekwhen you haven't an iden in your head, and you don't see a living cat that might put a large idea in your head? Well, that's Nancy today, not an idea! Isn't it awful? But it seems to be in the wind this weather, I have heard! heard the same complaint in various quarters. I know what you would say, but that's too obvious and trite, and at least let us not be trite.

The Walter Wheelers will go up and est, Ill., who are visting Mr. Remington's mother, Mrs. Walter Volkmar. The Walter Wheelers will go up and the John Welsh Draytons, who with Elise du Pont will be guests of Frank Chambers. I can't begin to remember all who are going. And I hope they won't be disappointed. Perhaps no one will be—it may be a tie like Harvard and Princeton last week. My what a game that must have been!

MARIE LOUISE THOMPSON is smart-looking debutante, isn't I saw her the other day wearing a suit of tan colored tweed, the long coat very beautifully tailored. A large sapphire blue hat of soft velvet was worn with the suit and it was wastly becoming and a neckpiece of sable for gave a most attractive touch to the costume, I also saw Margaret Berwind and Margaretta Jeanes together on Walnut street the other day looking very smart. Margaret wore a tailored suit of light blue heather cloth, with a soft toque of the same material to match, while Marmretta's suit was a sports model of brown heather cloth, and her small hat vas of tan duvetyne embroidered in own.
