

ASK LEGION POSTS TO RECORD VIEWS

Philadelphia Units Requested to State Attitudes as to New Committee

OLD BODY DIES DECEMBER 1

State headquarters of the American Legion has asked all county posts immediately to notify the department office, Tenth and Chestnut streets, what action they have taken on the question of continuing the Philadelphia county committee as provided under the new constitution.

More than the requisite number of posts required under the constitution have voted for a new county committee, but official notice has not been given.

State Adjutant William G. Murdock has asked information regarding the date on which each post voted for a county committee and the number of paid-up members.

The present committee will cease to function December 1. An adjourned meeting will take place in the Chamber of Commerce assembly room November 20, when routine business will be transacted. A number of the posts have elected representatives to the new committee on the basis of one for the post and one for each 100 paid-up members.

Elm Tree Post, in the Kensington district, announces meetings the second and fourth Thursday of each month.

Yoeman (F.) Post No. 50, comprised of some of the Legion's most enthusiastic workers, will hold its annual ball in the Bellevue-Stratford tomorrow evening. It will be attended by prominent legionaries, including state and county officers. Fred W. Galbraith, of Cincinnati, the new national commander, has been invited. The committee in charge is under the leadership of Miss May McCormick.

A movement has been started in the northern section for a more aggressive participation in Legion affairs and for a more closely knitted organization among the posts.
