

JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Nancy Wynne Talks of the First Monday Morning
Musicale—She Tells of the Rabbit Party to Be Held Tonight—A Bit of Human Nature

THIS musical season started socially for the grown-ups with great success yesterday morning at the Monday Musicales. I never saw so many at a first concert of the season, but I cannot wonder at that, of course, for the audience was none other than the great Fritz Kreisler, who gave so many women to know, all looking very stunning in their new winter suits and wraps, and one thing struck me very forcibly: Most of the women wore small hats, in spite of the fact that I have seen any number of large models at the openings.

Of course, for morning you are never as fresh as afternoon, so, perhaps, that was why the small hats predominated; but still I cannot think that was the entire answer. It looks to me as if our women were going in for the comfortable as well as beautiful, and a small hat is more comfortable, especially on a rather windy day.

I SAW Mrs. Joe Leidy in her box with Mrs. William Carter and her daughter-in-law, Ethel Leidy, and her daughter, Cornelie Cheston. Mrs. Leidy wore a feathered cloth suit of a blue-grey shade, and her white fur-trimmed feathered hat had a small model of herself and tan, with a single feather. Mrs. Carter was in a blue-grey suit with a wide collar and cuffs of nutria. Her small hat was of blue-grey light blue and gold and was edged with a narrow band of fur. Cornelie wore a dark dress, but could not tell the color, it looked blue to me, and hat was a semiberet of black cat velvet.

Mrs. George Dallas Dixon looked very well in a two-piece of heavy dove grey, in shade, finished at the neck and cuffs with grosgrain. Her hat was a sailor shade of black velvet and tulle. Mrs. Charles Stewart Werts was in a dark grey suit with a wide collar and had a small brown hat

with wings. Mrs. John B. Townsend wore a fur coat of squirrel and a small black hat with a sailor brim.

I can't begin to tell you all the people I saw nor all the clothes, but one was brilliant, musically, sartorially

and every kind of "liss."

DR. AND MRS. WILLIAMS BIDDEAU CADWALADER will give a dinner dance tonight for their niece Jessie Da Costa. Mrs. Cadwalader was a sister of the late Mrs. Da Costa, you know. She was Mrs. Mildred Biddle, and Mrs. Da Costa was Mrs. Biddle.

The affair will be given at the Biddle Apartment Park and,

you know, those parties always are small, but also always lots of fun.

Among the other girls and debutantes who will attend the affair will be Jane Closs, Elizabeth Jones, Augusta H. Harrison, Anna Strawbridge, Lillian Penrose, Dorothy Mary D. Norris.

And the men will be Ardington G. Dunn, Sam Wagner, Jim Carter, Grauman Roberts, Frank Richmond, Arthur Heukum, Boles Penrose and several others.

DID you know that Maud Lenning Hawksley is expected home today or tomorrow, it depends on when her boat comes?

Won't it be nice to see her again?

You know she married Colonel Robert Hawksley of the British army, some years ago for the last couple years they've been staying in America. Mr. Longfellow Hawksley has resigned from the army and he and his wife and daughter Rosalie are going to spend the winter here with Mrs. Lenning, who is the oldest of the three Lenning girls. Her sister Elsa married Harold Macaulay several years ago and left the young man married. The Macaulays are living in Cambridge, Mass., now, however, having come over next week to spend Thanksgiving with Mrs. Lenning at the Adine. I understand the Hawksley do not intend here permanently, but they will make a long sojourn before finally settling down to England for life. Mrs. Hawksley has not been home for four years and her friends are delighted at the prospect of seeing her once more.

BLILY BOY is a little more than two-and-a-half years of age, but he's rather a handful already and has among other qualities, a most logical mind. He wants to know the why of everything, and is not satisfied if he doesn't see the answer. No blind obedience to his will.

Billy Boy is a little more than two-and-a-half years of age, but he's rather a handful already and has among other qualities, a most logical mind. He wants to know the why of everything, and is not satisfied if he doesn't see the answer. No blind obedience to his will.

Every day when he sits down to the table he has his wee knife and fork and spoon, and an extra spoon that used to belong to mother when she was little. But one day last week some one ordered to "fix" two extra spoons so Billy Boy could have four in all, because Billy Boy's mits began to work.

He climbed into his high chair and seated himself at the spoons; then gathering all four into his small hand he fixed them straight into the middle of the table. Mother remonstrated and brought the spoons back to their proper place, and sat down on a chair.

"Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy Boy is single."

"No, Billy Boy had too many down 'home.'

"No, Billy Boy must fit them stay there even if there are too many, Billy