Washington, Nov. 18. "Only the direct necessity," can justify a resert to prime for the adjustment of d'aputes in Ireland, Frederic C. Howe, chairman of the commission from the committee of one hundred investigating the Irish question, declared today at the opening of the commission's hearing. He added that the conditions in Ireland created and are creating a widening in the friendly relations of Eug hish-speaking people not only in Amer-ica, but all over the world."

"What the world needs is peace." Mr. Howe continued, "It needs an ending of late. Descussion should resume its ascendancy and reason should displace the employment of force."

The orgy of destruction which is now ravishing Ireland is sending its repercussions to every corner of the civil ized world. It cannot fail to postpone indefinitely the return of ordered tranquillity to civilization. In addition to ill of this, the political life of America.

By the Associated Press Geneva, Nov. 18 .- The report of the council of the League of Nations was again before the assembly of the league for consideration at today's session, as was the election of six vice presidents, who, with the chairmen of the assembly's six commissions, will comprise the bureau, or executive committee, of

been made, but the character of the subject under discussion opened the way for any one with something to say to take the floor and say it, thus holdng out the possibility of an extended debate ranging over the entire scope of VENIZELOS LEAVES ATHENS the lengue's activities.

Notwithstanding thrusts directed at them yesterday by Delegate Millen, of Australia, for their lack of promptness, delegates again were tardy in as sembling today, less than half of their number being present at the opening These were collected in groups about the hall, commenting animatedly on yesterday's committee elections, which the Latin countries captured nine ut of the total of twelve chairmen and dee chairmen

Early in the session today, on motion Tomasso Tittoni, of Italy, Gluseppe Motta, president of the Swiss confeder-ation, was elected honorary president of the first assembly of the league, Voting for six vice presidents of the assembly then began. Baron Hayashi asked the delegates to vote for Viscount Ishli, Japanese ambassador to France, with this question of the world court. A few days ago Republicans here. skeptical over the coming meeting of the assembly, said: "Let us see whether any of the big fellows go to Geneva. Then we shall know whether they take it seriously or not."

The answer is that the assembly has developed so much energy in its first meeting and received so much publicity that Lloyd George is p'anning to go over to Switzerland and take a hand personally in the proceedings. sonally in the proceedings.

Assembly Shows Strength

The surprising part of what is happening at Geneva is that those who created the league at Paris did not take tenary celebration. the assembly seriously. The council was to be the whole league. The assembly was to be a debating society for the small nations, bearing about the same relation to the international organization as the full sessions of the Pcace conference at Paris did to the meetings of the Big Three. Things settled in advance by the council would come out into the open in the assembly, in some cases for approval.

In reality the council has languished. Nobody has paid much attention to it. Its meetings have attained little pub-licity. The work it was meant to do roughs an enthusiastic reception. has been performed largely by the Supreme Council of the Allies and now the assembly turns out to be a vigorous international gathering, which may be the basis of the conference of nations of which Mr. Harding has spoken and the world court of which the Peace Con-ference thought so little that they left it to be created, subsequently, and may become, if the Republicans have their way, the chief feature of the league.

The Geneva meeting has almost settled the question whether the league is to be the basis of the international or ganization of the future and settled it in the affirmative. An essembly in which forty-one nations are taking part energictally cannot be easily swept
