William G. Murdock, state adjutant, has forwarded to all post adjutants, forms on which the posts are requested to register officially their vote as to the reorganization of the Philadelphia county committee, in accordance with the new constitution. As soon as the requisite number of favorable returns have been received the committee will be called together by Department Commander Davis.

REZONING ORDERED

Public Service Body Also Tells Tacony Line to Repair Tracks

The Frankford, Tacony and Holmes burg Street Railway Co. has been ordered to readjust its zoning system in order to have all the built-up sections of Holmesburg included in one zone. This order was made public by the Public Service Commission yesterday. The commission also ordered the railway company to repair its tracks immediately.

The action on the zoning system was made as a result of complaints rewho declared that some of the persons living in that section could ride for one fare while others were forced to pay twice, due to the zoning point reated by the transit company. The repairing of the tracks was or-dered due to complaints made by the Holmesburg Improvement Association. that cars passing over certain points where the dangerous manner and im-writed lives due to uneven and old city's busy machinery district, at Seventh and Arch Streets, stands the Philadelphia home of the "Fairbanks O. K." In this store and working out of it are a group of men who know not only machinery and tools, but how to put them at your service. Some of them specialize in the more technical lines; others can quote you on anything from a drag scraper to a big oil engine.

How "FAIRBANKS O. K." Serves Philadelphia

Though these men are as different as the things they sell, yet an idea shared by all has welded them you well.

OWN in the heart of this into an organization with a definite personality of its own. If you use mechanical equipment or supplies, you will be interested in knowing something about these men, their organization and the idea back of it all.

> Every Monday, and Thursday morning we will tell you about some one person whose work helps to make our service to you worthy of the "Fairbanks O. K." We want you to feel that this is a human organization made up of men who take a real interest in your needs and a real pleasure in serving
