Rig Texan Will End a Great | Statistics of Penn Football Career on Franklin Field Against Cornell Tomorrow

Penn will be in shape for Cornell toperrow. That fact was impressed forcibly on the minds of the scribes who witnessed the Red and Blue run through an hour and a half practice drill on the seventh hole of the Whitemarsh Valley Country Club golf course yesterday afternoon.

Country Club golf course yesterday afternoon.

Pep aplenty, a certain dash and enthusiasm that innervated their playing brought to mind Penn teams of the past stronger but having not one whit more of the old fight than this year's eleven. Joe Straus, the big Texan, who for four years has thrilled the followers of the Red and Blue with his mighty linebucking, galayanted around the field like a colt. His injured ankle, that kept him out of nearly all of the Dartmouth contest and even out of uniform for Columbia, did not bother him at all.

After the practice Joe stated that he felt just right for this last football game for Penn. Tomorrow the Straus family will hold a reunion on Franklin Field, when Ma and Daddy Straus will see their son in gridlern togs for the first time. It should be a great day for the Texan family, for it appears as though

Texan family, for it appears as though brother Frits, who also will appear in Red and Blue livery for the last time tomorrow will see action for part of the

The enthusiasm and dash exhibited by the team yesterday inoculated Bud Hopper, who was standing around dis-Hopper, who was standing around dis-consolate ruminating on the cruel trick fate had played him—denying him the right to play in his last college game. Bud was for getting into a uniform and proving that nothing was wrong with him and that he should get an oppor-tunity to see action. The coaches ruled otherwise and Captain Bud will view the game on the bench as a spectator.

Straus Helps Backfield The return of Straus to the backfield will greatly bolster the Red and Blue. With Bullet Joe at fullback, Whitehill and Miller at the halves and Rex Wray and Miller at the halves and Rex Wray at quarter, perhaps the strongest backfield quartet Penn has had this season will be in action. As was pointed out yesterday, every one of the number can throw and receive forward passes with the best and as it is expected that the Penn attack will be built around the aerial end of the game it can be seen that the Red and Blue is strong.

The shifting of Carl Thomas to guard, which has been definitely decided on.

The shifting of Carl Thomas to guard, which has been definitely decided on, has greatly bolstered up the line. Since Thomas was sent to the backfield the coaches have been doing considerable experimenting with one of the guard posts, using Frank, Lenham and Copeland on different occasions. Thomas was a big star in 1917 as a tackle because of his brilliant defensive work and it is expected that he will give a great exhibition of defensive work tomorrow. The dusk of tomorrow evening will enshroud the career of Thomas, who, since 1916. the career of Thomus, who, since 1016, has been a star gridiron performer for the Red and Riue. Carl graduates in eighths miles long. The event was won

The other guard post will be held down by Cochran, with big Bill Ward at one tackle and George Wugner at the other. Grave is certain to start at one end, and at the present writing it is highly probable that Extressvang will start at the other. Extic's injured elbow has entirely mended and all that elbow has entirely mended and all that the coaches to give ches to give the final O. K. Happy Day will com-

The backfield substitutes are all in excellent shape, and for once Coach Heisman will have capable understudies to send into the breach should any of to send into the breach should any of the regulars suffer injuries. Herman Harrey is certain to see action before the game is very old. Many think that the Minersville lad, because of his fleetness, should start instead of Miller, Last year Harvey played a brilliant game for the Red and Blue against the Ithacana in the last half of the contest. Farrell, Caldwell, Sawyer, Fritz Straus, Watkins, Biben, Lucas, Matthews and McAnally are all capable backs who can be rushed in when needed.

All in all, the Red and Plue is wonderfully fortified, and with any kind of the old traditional punch that is exhibited by Penn teams on Thankagiving Day should give Gil Dobie's eleven a great fight.

This afternoon Coach Heisman promises virtually the same program as yes-

This afternoon Coach Heisman prom-ises virtually the same program as yes-terday, with a long signal drill and de-fensive formations to meet the Ithacans' attack. Tonight the squad will listen to a talk by the coaches and old Penn football stars. Tomorrow morning, shortly after 10, suitcases will be packed and the sound of thirty-eight and the seven coaches will return to Franklin field to ring down the curtain in the final act of the 1920 season.

Cornell Coach Says Red and Blue Will Be at Its Best

HAS FINE ENTRY Wone of the reasons why Penn has won a lot of games from Cornell, I think, is that Cornell has never been able to get any consistent practice in November. It gets dark at Ithaca early and most of the men don't get out until 5 o'clock and after. This year, for the first time, we had lights on the field, but at that it is hard to get enough Old-Time Class Cross-Country work when your men don't get out until

"Our team this year is made of men For close to forty years they have been holding a Schuylkill Navy cross-country run on Thanksgiving Day and tomorrow's event promises to uphold the annual class and interest in the the annual class and interest in the event.

The race will start at 10:39 at m. from the Malta Boat Club and will be run over a course five and three-eighths miles long. The event was won leading to the mark of the mark is simply impossible under present conditions to build up a good team in a year. It can't be done, and that is what we have been up against." last year by Frank C. Gosewisch, Un- that is what we have been up against.

Line-Up of Cornell Eleven Uncertain

St. Joe Statistics

This record is held jointly by St. Joe's CLUB TEAMS WILL Successful Season

Coach Miller's eleven has won five games and tied one this season. In the opening game St. Joe defeated the Brooklyn Prep eleven by the score of 19 to 13. Then came their victory over Villanova, in the first Catholic League game, by the score of 6 to 0. La Salle was the next game played and the Broad street institution threw a scare in the Crimson and Gray camp and held them to a scoreless tie after a hardfought game, which was marred by the fumbling of both sides.

West Catholic were the next victims, and on account of their victory on the Saturday previous, were conceded to have an even chance with the Crimson and Gray. However, Bresling scored a touchdown and kicked a field goal and the game was won, 9 to 0.

Peter, here's word from the woods!

Moose Head Lake, Maine.

Certainly slipped on not tipping you that Mr. Bacon invited me to join his shooting party up here. arrived at his Northeast Carry camp at sunset yesterday. and a riot started before we squared up to the venison steak! Listen, old bull pup-ny tales short!

Bleak Nison, chief guide, while unpacking, made the terrible Government discovery that ALL the Camel agarette supplies had been swiped in transit! Never heard such a howl as the whole outfit set-up! Nixon swore in Indian-plus-canuck! Just wouldn't be pacified! Bleak's been rooting for Camels since November 1915. Says there never was such smoothness, or refreshing flavor, or wild body in a cigarette as Camels provide! (Pete, Bleak is o.K. on that!) While the row was on what does Nijon do but hop into his Canoe and disappear into the depths of the dark, dank night!

About three this morning there was a roar such as no man Ever heard in the wild woods! It was Nijon yelling like a double-decked bull moose! That bird had crossed the lake, spicked up a trail and beat it to a little way-back store where he got the boss out of bed and made him come across with all the Camels he had! The storekeeper Kicker like a handfull of aces — but, Bleak always gets what he goes after! It's the nerve, old tooth! and, now we're all filled with the milk of human Kindness and Carrel Contentment! We'll get game!

Peter, think of digging up a bunch of Camels in the depths of Maine's densest woods! and, that's the way it is all over the U.S.A! Moure never out of luck when you smoke Carrels! Peter, old hub, I've spoke = as the camp cook puts it!

Back in new York - well, - soon!!!
