Right Side Up With Care, Please; An Adventure in Xmas Shopping

the seat edged a little bit aner way. If he felt that way it, of course—she opened her with a generous swoop and— was the matter with that man? ''What's your name?'' said Santa Claus. ''Dave,'' answered a very serious lit-tle voice. ''Well, Dave, have you been a good the about paper with a What was the kind of a bomb. Or at least it could be.

What was the matter with that man? The paper had hardly touched him, but if he went an inch farther he'd be out the window. The lady put down her paper and began to think. The bundle was very old looking, the gentleman was very careful. In a flurry her mind traveled a million miles a minute back through part I and a dog that is what I want for the crime stories she had read in the papers for the last three months. Christmas; another dog. He was a brown dog, and I don't want nothin the papers for the last three months. glanced surreptitiously at her mys-ous companion from the corner of that."

Would she be able to identify She slid over an inch farther to better look at the bundle. The "WE ARE going to spend Christ mas in Allentown," the bright him? She slid over an men farther to get a better look at the bundle. The nervous passenger favored her with a glance that was a cross between a glare and a panic. Suddenly the awful thought dawned. That bundle was some kind of a bomb. Or at lenst it could be.

be.
The was about to speak.
The your pardon." he said. "I suppose you think there's something queer about me, but I have to be very careful of this bundle." He leaned over confidentially and the nervous flurried look gave way to a broad beam.
Tt's Chistanas tree ornaments." he said. "Might break if I had them sent bome."
THE little boy was a bit shabby, but

THE little boy was a bit shabby, but not particularly different from any of the other little boys who had filed up

DREAMLAND

ADVENTURES

It's easy

sold in machine-filled packages

to serve Abbotts

in even portions

THE DAILY NOVELETTE Coals of Fire and Jeremy

By ELEANOR T. SPERRY

FIGHTING THE SNOW By DADDY CHAPTER I

By ELEANOR T. SPERRY "HOWEVER shall I punish him?" Holona Wright bit her lip and locked out across the sunlit square with terms that saw not, velled as they were with tears, "Jerry has never acted like that before—flirted outrageously and conspicuously with a perfectly strange girl And just to pay me back for re-fusing to announce my engagement im-mediately, throw up my career, and go back to Beacon Falls to embroider table cloths and pillow cases! Such an ab-surdry! Eve half a mind—" Toddle Pupkins Is Mad SNOW was failing—great feathery fakes that danced gently through the air like thistledown balloons defor coming softly to rest on the ground. Peggy, watching the world turn white as coming softly to the world turn white as Peggy, watching the world turn white as if painted by fairy brushes, hummed a little song to herself: "Snow, snow, beautiful snow Making earth lovely when North Winds blow." Helena's half a mind was to pay remy Matthews back rood and proper r his disgraceful behavior of the night fore at the Artists' Mardi Gras, Right are at the Artists' Mardi Gras. Right 1) did she know how to pay him cit There was his ring she could urn, a stender gold band topped with extravagant, colorful stone. There re bitter, cathing words with which stem the flood of his apologies which a did not doubt would be forthcoming ien he realized the enormity of his ense. Most fitting weapon of all. was Butter Tenney. In the studio fitting weapon of all, er Tenney, in the studio he hall, whom she could h. even na Jerry had flirred it brainless little Adele. Oh. could pay Jeremy back!

her enzy wandered from th i her gaze wandered from the steeding in the street to her dec' i with half-finished sketches the desk top, set in a modest the face of Jeremy looked forth -not a guilty positent Jerry, but happy-go-lucky, up-and-coming chap she had promised to marry of a sudden, Helena's intentions netaliation underwent helieve-yes, I think I ck in a way he doesn't de-cried aloud. Running over ried aloud. Running over she picked up the picture a little shake, exactly as do to the original. "Jerry a going to punish you by t, hot, burning coals of itterly worthless head!" later a well set-up young we been seen crossing the been seen crossing th age in his hand. Th , the package, his peac--pound box of Shaw & le was feeling ver sort of morning-after He her at her door after escortione from the mad and merry reve fuzzy, like a cat. I'm going to drive it away." away." With that Toddle began to snarl and snap at the snow, just as if it were in-deed a cat. He raised such a row that Blue Jay, who was shivering amid the sheltering branches of an evergreen tree. hopped out to see what was the matter. "Chee! Chee! You are acting crazy." Have you gone mad?" screeched Blue Jay

HE nervous looking gentle-with the odd-looking bun-dle edged a little bit farther over on the seat of the Market street car, Route 31. The lady who shared the seat edged a little bit watch the children go up one by one the seat edged a little bit topped to isten. "What's your name?" said Santa "Woof! Woof! I haven't gone mad." "What's your name?" said Santa "Chee! Chee! It's getting my feathers all wet, too, so I'll help you drive it away." And Blue Jay screamed and shricked and darted back and forth just as if he were trying to scare the snow into fits

But, of course, Blue Jay and Toddle Pupking couldn't scare the snow away. The big flakes danced just as gont y as before, paying not the slighted head to and the puppy.

"Woof! Woof! I'll bite you!" barked while Pupkins, snapping at a big snow ke. The snow fight dropped right are of it, for his warm breath instantly telted it.

nelted it. Toddie Pupk'ns was surprised at this ind he sat down to think it over, hold-ng his mouth open end his tongue cut is he did so. More flakes dinned upon is tongue, and then they danced no tongue, and then they day re, for they at once vanished.

"Woof! Woof! Now I know what I'll b to get rid of the snow. I'll melt it a my mouth before it can fall on the ground and then we will have no more onew this winter. Woof! Woof!" Say-ang this Toddle Fupkins set about mapping up the flakes at a great rate. "Chee! Chee! That's a fine idea! We

If show this snow it can't spoil ou inter," acceled Blue day, and he o, began to snatch at the falling flake by begin to set it very stip of Toddle upkins and Blue Juy to think they ould stop the snow from falling by eat-ing up the flakes.

is up the flakes. "Don't he foolish! You never can at all those flakes." she cried through he window. Toddle Punkins and Blue ay stepped their snatching and snaj-ing and looked up at her.

"Woof! Woof! She is right! There ro too many flakes for us to eat them It" barked Toddin Funkins. Blue Jay cocked his head on one side s think the matter over, then he got an less

The Cheel Yes they are too much or us, but we can not help. In Bird and are scores of animals and winte pids whe don't like the snow. We will et them together and make war to prethe snow from covering the ant the show then cover arth." "No, no. We want the snow to cover he earth." cried Porgy, har Toddle 'upkins and Rule Jay were already on heir way to Birdland. Pooggy heard a whistle, and there stood Eilly Bel-

"Helto, Peggy I" called out Billy, "What is that you said about the snow?" Peggy told him what Toddie Pupkins and Blue Jay were trying to do, them."

"Jiminety, we will have to stop them." ried Billy. "What will we do for const cried Billy, "What will we do for const-ing and scient-riding and building forts, pad snowballing without snow. Let's hurry to Eirdland." How the scheme of Toddie Furthins and Blue Jay worked will be told to-But a loud barking broke in on her song. In the yard was Toddie Pupkins frisking about and making a fussy noise

"Hey, Toddle Pupkins, why are you making such a racket?" cried Peggy through the window. Toddle Pupkin-answered with a song like her own: "Snew, snow, nasty old snow You make my fur wet wherever I go." "I don't think much of that song," and Recov merrow. State Dental Tests Here This Week

Harrisburg, Dec. 6 .- The winter examinations of the State Board of Dental Examiners will begin this week in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, starting said Persey. "And I don't think much of this snow." promptly barked Toddle. "It's soft and to practical work. December 8. Saturday will be devoted THROUGH A WOMAN'S EYES By JEAN NEWTON

Gilding the Pill

The most absolute dictator 1 know to leave out the word "must." And the apparently the most modest and un-suming mother and wife. She never in when it is made clear that he is the ys "Do thus and so." But what she boos. Gradually we are getting to the day or But avs "Do thus and so, ants done is invariably done.

"Indirection, my dear," she says in the perfect marital partnership. But splanation. "I don't command the every time a woman commands her husxidanation. explanation. "I dealt command the every time a woman commands her nus-children; I confer with them. And with barel in so many words, she is putting John—oh. I let him think he is the barel in so many words, she is putting John—oh. I let him think he is the barel in so many words, she is putting John—oh. I let him think he is the barel in so many words, she is putting John—oh. I let him think he is the barel in so many words, she is putting base—and then proceed to run things." It is too much." The out-could every mother knows that her power over her children, once they have grown beyond the fear of a thrashing, but will she we when it aurears that lies not in her authority, but is the in-fluence that she has gained over them, What is true of children is true, usually, of husbands. But the power of influence rather than autority holds. On the other hand, the woman who good, particularly with husbands. For does not insist too loudly on the terms children, while they may not always re-spect it, do not resent authority; hus- rules, is putting us ahead a few cenputting us ahead a few bands

0 broadminded of them will yeto something that he will forget all about being the he would prefer to inderse if you forget here !

Announces

A Sacrifice Sale of Reliable Furs

immediate sale and for CASH our exclusive line of

Reliable Furs

A

ŏ

Every garment in our stock is plainly marked with the original price ticket—simply deduct one-half. We invite comparison with any reliable fur house that handles merchandise equivalent to ours in quality. This is a sale that thrifty women will immediately recognize as the greatest event in history.

Manufacturing Furrier

No C. O. D.'s

11

0

AS

'õ

C

õ

SC

0

ASCO

SCO

0

AS

C

0

C

0

S

0

C

SC

0

of share freeld. The price of

The Same Good, G

A Mighty Merchandising Achievement!

Just three weeks ago today we "took the bull by the horns" our record-breaking Eight Million Five Hund; d Thousand Dollars' Sale. We did this in an effort to both save our customers money and to encourage the various packers, canners, manufacturers, etc., throughout the country to come to a decision anent getting back to normal conditions,

Many items were shahed in price repurchess of cost. Some of the bargains we offered were unusual, to say the least. That the public appreciated our efforts in its behalf has been more than proved by the tremendous volume of business done in our Stores since this constituent Fale was opened. We wish to assure our customers that we shall at all times strive slaversly to merit the confidence in us they have thus displayed, giving you every opportunity to save money made possible by our vantage point on the business horizon.

NOTICE TO PRODUCERS

Why not read the handwriting on the wall and be guided by it? We are all doing our share to bring about normal conditions and the first thing to be done is to avoid stagnation. Why not move your goods and then make a fresh start on a new basis? We'll work with you. Our cultamers will buy your merchandise, provided it is up to our high standard of quality, and you are willing to meet the conditions

Remember: Our Stores are a direct channel between you and the consumer crowd she elected to consort

one of them had mentio Great heavens, what a bore it en, carrying on with that shal-ined, fluffy-ruffles Adele 1 Yet sefully, had he danced and and romped with her, sus-y an end in view which, re-the broad light of day, seemed and quite unbecoming a rising arradist such as in uplifted mo-e fancied himself to be.

purpose and been to arouse in a donon of jealousy which would ber of a certain disposition to her wishes before his, her Art-ceptal-A before her destiny as a nan and his wife.

to a faol for my pains," he told him-as the elevator shot him upwards was no way to treat a girl. I'm i lucky if Helena doesn't throw me

Stepping from the car he flung back is shoulders, squared his chin, and role down the corridor to Helena's loc. Heaven send she hadn't departed iddenty leaving no address, or-perish is awful thought!-eloped on the spur the nonent with Butler Tenney!

But Helena was there, a sweetly do-best Helena was there, a sweetly do-mestic Helena over by the window in time sort of a clinging grops de chine fair instead of the fameifally colored muchs she affected at times. You're hate, Jerry dear." She smilled weetly up at him, motioning to the hair opposite.

opposite. Ty dear?" It was going to be a, whole hot better—or else, in-y worse—than he had feared. w been thinking, went on Helena, n that sweetly serious tone. "that rally getting on in years. I'll be really getting on in years. I'll be uy-two my next birthday, And I'n haking much of a success at my not enough at any rate, to justify iffcing everything else to continue " paused, but Jerry was too busy a tight hold on himself to utter He had an awful feeling with-that in a moment something He had an awful feeling with-that in a moment something pring at him. Also, he was no-adly how very beautiful Helena over there, with the cretonned her chair forming a bright frame

There chair forming a bright frame is her delivately poised head with its alth of crinkly, nun-gold hair. And then, the something he seemed have here expecting came. "If you say the word, Jerry dear, Fill afty you fomorrow?" "Helena". But there could be no its about this. Helena was too wom-by to make a joke of a matter so ten-fly school. rious.

instant, he was beside her, his around her. "If I say the word! by darling! But first of all, let me do weight off my soul. Yes, I must Act this weight off my soul. Yes, I must tell you that this very thing was in my mind last eight. Walt while I explain. I carried on—and all—just to make you realize that you really did care for ne and that our love was more important than a million careers and——" But suddenly Jerry drew back and Helema aw an expression of more around saw an expression of awe creet har ey a. bar ey a. y lingo, Helena !" he all but shouted. "It worked at hat?" he all but shout-det. "It worked at hat?" It worked?" A flood of protest rose to Helena's lips, a volley of explanations as to her platted costs of fice. But they re-mained in joken, as a wave of light en-guided her.

You're right, I'm afraid," she said slowiy. You're right, Jerry. It did ?

Next Complete Novelette-"Questions of Cousins"

Masters to Fight Vulgar Dancing

War on vulgar dameing has been de-lared by the Philadelphia Dancing clared by Masters' Masters' Association. At a meeting resterday at 210 South Broad street a committee of seven was appointed to confer with Mayor Moore for the elimi-nation of values. nation of vulgar steps in many halls. Steps were taken to have the present law amended by the next state Legisture, so that such dancing may be NO LONCER do youngsters complain, "You gave Johnny more'n you gave me, mother!" For mother now buys Abbotts Ice Cream in the new machine-filled packages-a trim carton of ice cream that can be sliced evenly, three portions to a pint, six to a quart.

The machine-filled package is more convenient to carry home from the store.

And note this: Abbotts is the only packaged ice cream that is untouched by hand from freezer to you. Made clean and kept clean.

All these exclusive features make Abbotts the right ice cream-to buy, to serve and to eat. And, of course, the rich flavor and "smoothness" of Abbotts have already made it Philadelphia's most popular dessert!

ppotts

lce cream

ABBOTTS ALDERNEY DAIRIES, Inc.

Dig Loaf. 71010 Victor Viennal oal Hearth Sc Victor Raisin Bread that 12c SCO CO Cooling Apples Wash Day and Cooling Necessities Canned, Dried Fruits · A Jams and Jellies 3 100 1 150 . S S Fancy Sliced Peaches, can 25c C C aptha Soap, cake 712c California Apricols, can 25. 0 Sweet Florida ORANGES doz 280-400-500-000 .0 Extra Fancy Cherries, can Fancy Calif. Peaches, 37chay Powder, pkg Snap Chips, pkg 10c up Flakes plag 10c Hawaiian Pincapple. 19c-29. Sunsweet Praces, b 17-22-25 Fancy Evap, Peaches, b 29c Calif. Evap, Apricots, b 28c B rux Soap, calo big cake 5c A Thin-skin Juley SC lb 4e C Gravefruit r Suap ... associate 0 10 Can 51 s "Asco" Silved Dried 150 - 80,100,12 -0 ster II-17 220 A DADUALS IN CASSIN 12 AS SCO can 10° Choice Peas out to 12150 con Stand TUR 10 Nery fine quality. They have farmer, stork up your parents in Sweet Sugar Carn. c. - 11-A SCO You Save the Difference! C .0 "Asco" 'A S C C C 10 10 15 These Prices in All Our 176 Sanitary Meat Markets 18 cents to Reduction on Breakfeet Becon Lean Boneless Breakfast Bacon . Zo Co All Rump or Round 1b 32° All Sirlain 1b 4.0° All is 25° Lean Soup 1b 12% c City-City-Bressed Pork Chops or Roasts 10 30cl Best Cuts lb 35c Neck End Ib 30° half smoked is 25° Salt ib 25° houlders Neck Danc liali 1621c Large Heads of Cabbage Ib ic Deheious Sour Krout Stores conveniently located all over Philadelphia and in the principal cities and towns 0 of Penna., New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland 0 ASCO ASCO ASCO ASCO ASCO ASCO ASCO ASCO ASCO ASCO