

WITH HER GRANDCHILD. Mrs. Mary Roberts Rinehart, the noted authoress, who is well known in Philadelphia, poses with Mary Roberts Rinehart, 2d.

WILL LIVE IN WASHINGTON. President and Mrs. Wilson have decided to remain in the capital city after March 4. This home, owned by Congressman Alvin T. Fuller, recently elected lieutenant governor of Massachusetts, according to reports will be purchased by Mr. Wilson.

GATHERING MISTLETOE. The lad is sawing off a limb laden with choice mistletoe, for the society folk at Pinehurst, N. C.

HE'D LIKE TO HAVE THE QUAIL. Miss Annie Oakley, the famous rifle shot, is allowing Dave to have a look at a bird that she "winged." Miss Oakley is teaching society at Pinehurst how to handle guns.

FINLAND'S FIRST MINISTER TO THE UNITED STATES. A. H. Saastamoinen and his wife arrive on the Aquitania and go at once to Washington.

SUPERINTENDENT OF POLICE William B. Mills, who discusses handling of Christmas crowds in an interview on the editorial page.

WHAT TO EAT—HOW TO EXERCISE. Some of the things that are being taught the children of Philadelphia in the children's clinic of the State Department of Health, 1724 Cherry street. After the exercises the boys and girls are weighed by Miss B. Hayes, who then decides the future procedure in the plan of building up the bodies to normal.

AMONG THE TWENTY. Mrs. Estelle Farrer Schaeffer, one of the alleged wives of Lawrence A. Schaeffer, the marrying promoter. He is under arrest in New York.

AMONG THE TWENTY. Mrs. Estelle Farrer Schaeffer, one of the alleged wives of Lawrence A. Schaeffer, the marrying promoter. He is under arrest in New York.

EASY TO CARRY A WHOLE TREE. These men are not performing any great physical feat. They are carrying balsa trees, which grow in Ecuador, South America, and weigh about seven pounds per cubic foot.

CHICAGO'S CHARITY BALL. Miss Elsie G. Beck, an Egyptian gypsy, appeared with the camel in the "Pageant of the East," which preceded the dance.

NATIONAL CHECKER CHAMPION AT WORK. Newell W. Banks played 100 matches in New York last week. He won eighty-six and tied fourteen games, many being played as he was blindfolded. He will soon leave to compete with English players.

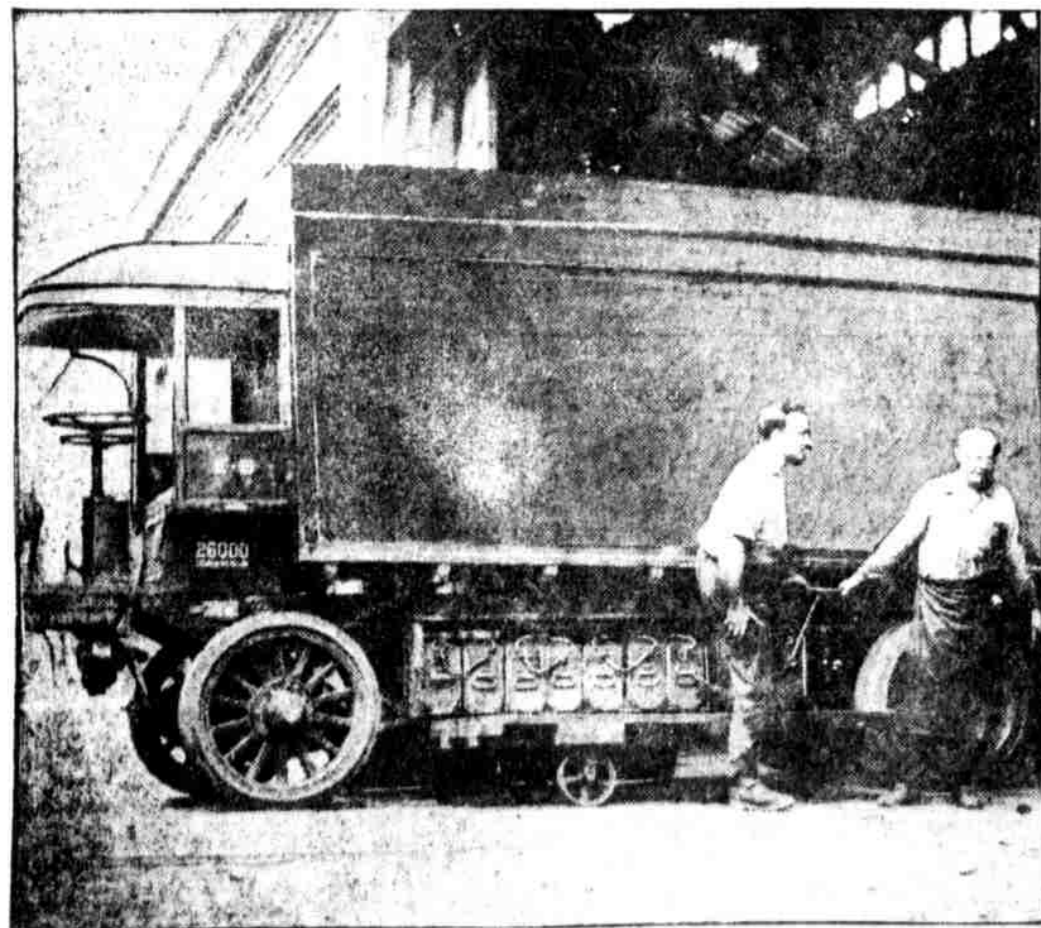

HEADS OF THE UNITED STATES ARMY NURSE CORPS. Major Julia C. Stimson, superintendent (seated), and her aides, at the headquarters in Washington. Eleven hundred nurses are now enrolled.

ON CRUTCHES BUT A BUSY MAN. Congressman Frank W. Mondell, the majority leader in the House.

OUR CITY'S WORKERS AND WHAT THEY DO

RECHARGING A TRUCK at the service station of the Commercial Truck Co., Twenty-second and Brown streets. Frank Quirol and John McKee are pulling away the small truck that carries the recharged batteries.

SEMAPHORE SENTINELS

BARONESS E. CARTER DE MARCHI-ENNE, wife of the Belgian ambassador to the United States. She was formerly Mrs. Hamilton Wilkes Cary, of New York.

SEMAPHORE SENTINELS

LOOKING AFTER THE CHILDREN at Broad and Spring Garden streets. The reserve officer is Samuel Caldwell, of 3256 Sansom street. He is forty-two years old. Fourteen years ago he joined the police force and three years later was sent to his present post.

THE BEAUTY CORNER

A NOVEL AUTOMOBILE HAT. This leather hat with removable eye pieces is now being used in Paris.

THE BEAUTY CORNER

MISS ROSE CAVELLO 827 Montrose street Philadelphia