

ASKS TOYS FOR NURSERY

Money and Food Also Needed at Eighteenth Street Institution

Contributions of money, food, bed clothing and old and new toys are requested from the general public to aid in brightening the Christmas holidays of the hundreds of negro children taken each day to the Women's Union Day Nursery at 707 South Nineteenth street. Miss Julia F. Jones, president of the board of managers of the nursery, has issued an appeal for these contributions. Donations of money should be sent to Miss Jones, other contributions to the nursery at which more than 5000 children were cared for during the last year.

Girl Scouts to Sing at Dawn

The Girl Scouts of Philadelphia are busy on plans for a celebration on Christmas at daybreak, when several of the scout troops with their leaders will go through the streets near the rhomes singing Christmas carols. Some of the troops that have smaller girls will go out at midnight on Christmas eve instead. Still others are planning to have a Christmas tree or a celebration of some kind for poor children.
