One of the Greatest Compliments a Man Could Pay to a good woman is recorded in the life of Albert, the Prince Consort, during his last illness, when he looked up into the sympathetic face of Queen Victoria, and said:

"Good little wife"

These Christmas days and nights can be made dearer and more memorable to families and friends, if we let go the best that is in us, in messages and deeds of kindness and affectionate remembrance.

Many men and women without realizing it become so fossilized with come-day-go-day duties that they neglect to express to each other their true feelings.

Christmas times and the New Year so near are new wheels to start us again.

Many a good wife and mother will be better and happier if she hears now and then some one say:

"Good little wife" "Precious little mother") Do try it on. [Signed] JOHN Manake
