MOVE TO EXPAND OVERSEAS LEGION

Philadelphia Women Who Served Abroad in War Plan to Nationalize Organization

MEETING HERE CALLED

Philadelphia women who served overseas during the war will take a prominent part in a movement to nationalize the American Women's Overseas Legion into an organization to correspond with the American Legion.

At present there are in Boston, New York, Minneapolis, New Orleans and Philadelphia American Women's Overseas Legions, or A. W. O. L., as they are called for short.

Only women who served overseas are eligible to membership in the legion, but aside from that there is no restriction governing membership.

Miss Henrietta B. Ely, who has just returned from Poland, is to speak on conditions as she found them there last summer.

At present there are in Boston, New York, Minneapolis, New Orleans and Philadelphia American Women's Overseas Legions, or A. W. O. L., as they are called for short.

HELP STARVING CHILDREN

Campaign Opens Here to Aid Europe's Unfortunates

HELP STARVING CHILDREN

The Philadelphia campaign to help the starving children of Europe opened today when checks arrived at the office of John H. Mason, treasurer, in response to appeals made by Herbert Hoover and others supporting the movement.

The office of the campaign committee is in the Commercial Trust Building.

There are three and a half million starving children in Europe. Ten dollars will save a child.

THEY do it for the same reason that the man of the house insists upon Spear heating systems.

Both represent as near to 100 per cent. efficiency and comfort as 60 years' experience in the building of heating appliances has taught us.

Is there a thief in your plant?

is there an unseen, unnoticed something stealing power from pulleys, and robbing you of a big percentage of finished product?

An incorrect size of the right belt, a belt running under improper tension, but most of all the wrong kind of belting, will rob you of precious power.

Throw out the thieves! Put real, honest leather belts to work, belts that grip with the least possible slippage, belts that transmit their rated load as easily as an eight-cylinder car goes twenty-an-hour on the level—briefly, Ladew Leather Belts.

We supply belts for all kinds of drives and conditions of service—the right belt in each particular case, as expert belting engineers see it.
