

1 KILLED, 2 INJURED BY AUTOS IN STORM

Driver of Death Car Fails to Stop After Striking Man. Police Have Number

BOY, 8, IS BADLY HURT

Three automobile accidents, one of which resulted fatally, happened in different parts of the city during the storm last night.

William Dixie, fifty years old, of Broad street near Girard avenue, was struck by an automobile at Thirteenth and Thompson streets, and died a short time later in St. Joseph's Hospital.

The driver of the car did not stop, according to pedestrians who saw the accident, and who attributed it to Dixie falling to notice approach of the car as he crossed the street, head bowed in the storm. Numbers on the license tags of the car which struck Dixie and which were given to the police by eyewitnesses correspond to those issued to W. W. Hattenbacher, of Adelphi, Pa. At Broad and Oxford streets, Charles Hersey, thirty-eight years old, of 1707 Race street, was struck by a machine driven by John Rex, 2711 North American street. Hersey is in the Children's Hospital, with a fractured leg and hip, cuts and possible internal injuries. Rex will have a hearing today at City Hall.

Elwood Watson, eight years old, 2018 Granite street, slipped and fell in front of an automobile while crossing Frankford avenue. The machine, driven by A. H. Coals, 1108 Fillmore street, struck the boy and dragged him some distance. At the Frankford Hospital, the boy's condition was found to be serious. He has a fractured skull. Coals surrendered to the police of the Frankford station and will have a hearing today.

Holiday for Shipyard Workers

The New York shipyard of Camden will close down at noon tomorrow until Monday so that the 18,000 employes will have an opportunity to enjoy the Christmas holidays. They will receive their weekly wages at noon. The shipyard employes have had a successful year because there was plenty of work and high wages.

DAY OFF; $1000 TO SPEND

Magistrate Harris Unable to Find a Prisoner in West Philadelphia

Magistrate William J. Harris, who for sixteen years has conducted hearings in West Philadelphia, had a vacation today because of a dearth of prisoners. Magistrate Harris' court is at the Thirty-second street and Woodland avenue police station, and in his sixteen years of service as a police magistrate the "judge" has never had occasion to miss his regular morning hearings except through lack of cases. Today there were no further hearings to be settled and the Sixty-fifth and Pine streets stations reported an uneventful night and no prisoners.

"It's nice to have these rare occasions come at Christmas time," Magistrate Harris remarked as he tucked away $1000 into his pocket preparatory to making good use of his day off on a shopping tour.

Phila. Man Killed in New York

"Jack" Leaver, twenty-five years old, of this city, was killed in front of 17 Bowers, New York, late last night, when he was struck by an automobile driven by Angelo Sorelli. The car was owned by T. D. Steppin. "Jack" Leaver is not listed in the Philadelphia directory.

MARRIED FIFTY YEARS

Couple Celebrate by Entertaining 100 Relatives and Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Cornog, 3232 Woodland avenue, entertained 100 relatives and friends last night in celebration of their golden wedding anniversary. The couple have the unique distinction of having been born on the same day. The birth date is August 2, 1844. The couple have spent most of their married life in Philadelphia at their present address. Their children are Mrs. Warren Smith, of Tullytown, Pa.; Mrs. Edward Shevers, Miss Mary E. Cornog, Miss Elizabeth Cornog and William Cornog, all of Philadelphia. The grandchildren are Miss Eleanor Heckroth, George C. Heckroth and George W. Cornog.
