Day and Night Classes on Again adelphia. Forty eighth, and Walnut streets; William Penn, Fifteenth and Walnut Wallace streets; Girls Trade, Quince After Ten Days of Vacation

Public school pupils rose bright and carly this morning to attend their by o'clock classes, after ten glorious days of vacation, of parties and dances, late hours and the rest of holiday joys. Evening schools open tonight, as well as the day classes, to commence the second term of the school year. Sindents will be admitted at this time to any of the courses in either the high or elementary grades and new classes for beginners will be formed in all subjects. Special emphasis in the elementary schools is placed on English for foroffners, Americanization and citizenship courses. In the high schools more at-tention is paid to technical work and general academic subjects. The work comprises courses in architectural, freehand and mechanical advertisement instruction, shop practice, pattern making woodwork, carpentry, cabinet making, plumbing, sheet-metal work, electrical construction, auto mechanics, etc.
