Sheeters Lambast Pretzels When Giant Center Must Keep to Side Lines. Ernie Reich to Leave

THE playing of two game by Trenton will pretty near solve the first half problem of the Eastern Basketball League. The Pretzels are due to mingle with the Camden Sheeters in the Trenton game tomorrow evening, and on Saturday they will be the guests of Will Myers at his cage court on Locust street, otherwise known as Musical Fund Hall.

Trenton will finish in first place, if successful in both games, and the Pretzels will have a chance for first if they beat Camden on Friday and lose to Phila. on Saturday, providing German-ton can knock off the Reading Bears on Saturday night. If Trenton loses both games, Camden again gets the first half honors.

This does not seem impossible, judging by the article of ball the Pretzels played at Camden last evening, when they were handed a severe trouncing by the score of 41-22. Completely unable to make a single basket, the Trenton team was completely out of control in the home team played in which the visitors, Ernie Reich right around the chisort. Ernie Reich was given his first shutout of the season by Neil Douglas, and played listless in the Trenton game. Reich is through at Reading and the Eastern League, as he has received a more or less permanent position on the east, and he will be unable to play the cage game here any longer.

Haggerty on Side Lines There have been occasions when important games were to be played and a star falls to put in an appearance. Last night was not one of these occasions. A star was missing from the line-up in George "Horse" Haggerty, but the big fellow was in excellent health and will be all right for some time. At Trenton last week it was all he could do to play. Since then he has been in the care of a physician, who up until yesterday morning ordered that he stay indoors or be threatened with pneumonia. Despite such orders he insisted on coming from Camden and putting in an appearance. Reading and Trenton, and with Reich can be back into action, and with Reich out of the line-up, the chances of the Bears at the start of the second half are poor.

Nothing to Grieve The game itself warrants little comment. The home club played brilliant ball. Its team work was perfect, and not on a single occasion did a player take a long stab at the net. This is to be expected with a club having a lead of a score of points. Had the Sheeters been lagging behind, it is more than likely they would have attempted all sorts of desperate chances.

They managed to amass a total of eighteen field goals, and from the shots taken they should have scored twice as many more. By actual count, Eddie Dehn missed twenty-two attempts to count from the field, and every time he missed the ball he was also known as a "father of swimming." He was conversant with every phase of the sport. Not only in his younger days had he been a great swimmer, but latterly he had been connected with the Philadelphia Sports Writers' Association, secretary-treasurer of the Veterans Athletic Association of Philadelphia, member of the Philadelphia Piramids and the Central Y. M. C. A., where he was one of the leaders in coaching his swimming team.

ST. JOSEPH'S WINS LEAGUE OPENER

Noses Out Catholic High When Breslin Stars With Two Field Goals at Finish

St. Joseph's Prep School, winners of both the basketball and football titles in the Catholic Schools' League, started off in the direction of another pennant last evening by taking the Catholic High five into camp at St. Joseph's gymnasium. Seventeenth and Stiles streets, by the narrow margin of two points, for the totals at the finish being 18-16. The first half was a nip and tuck affair. The guarding of the rival teams was well nigh impregnable and the scoring from the field in the first twenty minutes was limited to two goals, one by McNally, for Catholic High, and the other by Duan, for St. Joseph's. At half time, St. Joseph's was ahead 3 to 0.

Play in the second period was open and field goals more frequent. The battle waxed warm, first one side coming through with a two pointer and then the other. Catholic High was ahead until within a few minutes of the finish when Breslin, star football player for St. Joseph's, slipped down the floor and scored twice, turning the tide in favor of St. Joseph's.

In the preliminary clash St. Joseph's Prep Reserve, nosed out Catholic High Reserves, 13-12, and in a St. Joseph's interscholastic game, 4-A beat 3-A 22 to 7.

Amateur Sports

The Archbishop Ryan Catholic Club, having completed the majority of the games on its schedule and having met and held its own with such Catholic clubs as St. Rita's, St. Columba's, Westminster and other first-class five, is now ready to fill the rest of its schedule for 1921.

The A. R. C. C. has two lives representing the organization. One is a first-class quintet and is composed of the best well-known players in the city. The other is a second-class team and plays in the preliminary contests to the first five's games.

As the majority of the Catholic clubs are very strong this year and large crowds are turning out to see the teams perform, the management of the Archbishop Ryan has left no tables unturned in obtaining the best talent in the city to play with its teams. Therefore, the acquisition of new players has strengthened the Archbishop Ryan and will enable them to meet all the first-class clubs.

The management of the Archbishop Ryan would especially like to hear from Kayoula C. C., Aquinas, Annunciation C. C., St. Ludwigs, St. John and other teams of its class, having balls and open dates for a first and second class team attraction. For games address E. Farrell, 1914 South Redfield street, or phone Woodland 1505 M.

Unit Five desires games with second-class home clubs either at home or away with first or second class teams. Home games played at Philadelphia, offering reasonable guarantees. Simon Shewick, 630 Morris street, Camden, N. J.

POS MILLER TO PLAY FORWARD

Lebanon Youth Lands Regular Berth on Penn Varsity Basketball Team

Pos Miller, the Lebanon youth, will start for Pennsylvania against Syracuse in Weighman Hall Saturday night when the two quintets clash in their first basketball meeting.

Pos, who called signals on Heisman's football team for a while last fall and afterward played a halfback post, went out in the fight for the post over Mouradian, Rudine and Hutzinger. Since practice started this week the fleet upstate youth has played a great game getting many baskets and playing the kind of a floor game that delights followers of the Red and Blue. His agility in turning and twisting makes him a difficult man to guard on the court. He is more than anxious to get back into action, but it is hardly likely that he will star Saturday night.

The hand hurts me a little," said the Red and Blue captain, "respecting when I catch a hard pass. Two fingers seem to be useless, but the doctors tell me that in a few days the weakness in my fingers will play away and I will be in shape to go. Shortly after Captain Danny gave out his little statement of encouragement to Penn followers, who have been waiting to see Roseman get back into action, he was busy shaking hands and explaining to veterans and prospectives what he planned to do this year.

Wright, who, with Coach Lawson Robertson, of the track team, bears the sobriquet of "Penn's Beau Brummel," looks better than in several years. After telling of the twelve inches of snow he left to find summer weather, he relieved himself of the following about his plans: "Believe me if the weather is as nice during the rest of the week as it has been here from what I am told I am going to rig up a boat and send a crew out on the river. It will be the first time, I think, in the history of rowing at Penn that an eight has taken the river in January, but I think it can be done. Remember in 1918 we went out on the Schuylkill in the middle of February and did not again return to the gymnasium."

"I expect to get started tomorrow afternoon, working as many men on the machines as report for practice. We can accommodate 350 here this year from 2 until 4 without any crowding and with every man getting twelve minutes' work out on the machines.

"BIG TEN" BREAK BECOMES ACUTE

Wisconsin Coach Would Resign if Ohio State Is Ever Scheduled

Madison, Wis., Jan. 6.—The break in Big Ten football relations between Wisconsin and Ohio State universities became more acute today with a statement from Coach John R. Richards, of Wisconsin, intimating that he would resign if Ohio State is ever again put on the Wisconsin football schedule. Richards' statement expresses his "personal disappointment" over failure to arrange a game with Ohio State for 1921, declaring "other Wisconsin men agree with me that we did not get fair dealing." Other Big Ten universities rearranged their schedules to secure games with Wisconsin, Richards' statement says.
