

STAND BY PENROSE ON NAVY WELCOMED

Friends' Sect Here Pleased at Reduced Armament Attitude of Senator

DELEGATION RETURNS HOME

Satisfaction was expressed today by members of the delegation of Friends from this city who visited Senator Penrose in Washington yesterday, and were assured by him of his desire for substantial reductions in armaments. Members of the delegation were A. F. Huston, Coatesville; J. Henry Seattergood, Esther Morton Smith and William H. Harvey, of Philadelphia. "We saw a great many friends," said Senator Penrose. "Mr. Harvey, including Senators Stinson and Borah, and nearly every one connected prominently with the foreign relations or naval affairs committees. "We found a great deal of sympathy with our wishes for decreased armament, for practical, financial reasons if no other, and we are hopeful that some sort of disarmament and reduction in naval construction will become a reality. "The Senator's decided stand which threw a bombshell into the ranks of the big navy people at the capital, came after a considerable period of doubt as to just how far he intended to go. Penrose said he would make a more radical cut than is proposed even by Senator Borah. To the delegation he expressed himself as willing to "go the limit." He deprecated the expenditure of enormous sums in enlarging a navy that may be rendered useless in four years by new inventions or the use of airplanes. In this putting himself on record as going even farther than Borah's 50 per cent cut, Senator Penrose proved the erroneous nature of the belief that he advocated a substantial increase in the navy as being a material advantage to his friends in the steel industry.

January Fur Sale ENTIRE FUR STOCKS WITHOUT RESERVE

At Cost and Below Cost!

We have previously announced that Furs have reached their lowest levels. About six months ago Fur merchants had enormous stocks on hand. Then the break came. The banks demanded immediate payment of all money due. Added to the severity of this condition, all manufacturing of Furs stopped suddenly on May 29th last, due to the strike. Skins could not be manufactured, consequently there was no demand. Merchants needed money to meet their obligations.

Then Prices Dropped!!!

Right there we saw our opportunity and bought heavily for cash. On account of these cash purchases our prices for months past have been extremely low—and it is from these already low prices that we make the wonderful reductions announced here.

The keynote of the present situation is that Fur merchants have met their obligations, and, furthermore, the strike ended December 21st. Skins are being manufactured—production is reaching normal—the market is firm and prices are rising. With this demand for skins, the wholesale Fur merchant will not sacrifice further—indeed, he cannot, to remain in business.

Our progressive policy demands that we clear our stocks at once. Our prices have been reduced to bedrock. The manufacturer's loss and our loss is your gain. Delay your purchase no longer. Buy here—tomorrow!

A Small Deposit Will Reserve Your Purchase in Our Storage Vaults Until Next Fall. Payments to be Continued Monthly Through the Spring and Summer
