

Evening Public Ledger
PUBLISHED DAILY AT PUBLIC LEADER BUILDING
EDITORIAL BOARD: CURTIS H. K. CURTIS, Chairman; JOHN H. HARRISON, Editor; JOHN C. MARTIN, General Business Manager

Some of the most dangerous and sinister political machines in eastern cities depend chiefly for support on the votes of low-class voters...

EVERY MAN FOR HIMSELF: WHO CARES FOR OTHERS?

A Working Philosophy Which Breaks Down in War, but Seems to Be the Gospel of Certain Philadelphians
WAR differs from all other activities of governments in that it forces concentration of energies on the accomplishment of definite results...

CUTTING THE TAX RATE

TOUCHING upon the only aspect of the taxation problem for which the public entertains the least enthusiasm, several members of the Council have recently intimated that in the year 1922 the rate at which Philadelphians pay for their municipal government may be appreciably lowered.

BRIDGE TOLLS IN DISFAVOR

IT IS unlikely that any measure passed by Congress authorizing the construction of the Delaware bridge will be mandatory on the subject of tolls.

BLISS' CLEAR-HEADEDNESS

GENERAL BLISS' frankness on the issue of disarmament is of a type which his fellow citizens might profitably emulate. Politics has lamentably confused an issue which basically the great majority of Americans are heartily united.

CABINET-MAKING

SUCH difficulties as Mr. Harding has experienced in choosing members for his cabinet are caused for the most part by functioning for their own rather than for the national good...

WHEELS WITHIN WHEELS

"LABOR unions," said Arthur W. Jackson, speaking before the Manufacturers Association last night, "are the children of the Epoch of Centralization."

THE SENATE STANDS PAT

AT LAST there have been found some men who can see a danger in an unrestricted flood of desperate, uneducated and physically inferior immigrants to the United States.

FOR OUR BIG SHOW
Pittsburgh People Getting Ready for the Sesquicentennial—Burd Patterson at Work—About Our Civil Service—Emil Albrecht's Views

By GEORGE NOX McCAIN
BURD L. PATTERSON was in Philadelphia last week for the purpose of boosting our sesquicentennial in 1926.

MR. PATTERSON is president of the Pennsylvania Historical and Geological Society, with office in Pittsburgh. He is likewise the secretary of the Historical Society of Western Pennsylvania.

LAST week he met a number of prominent citizens of Millin county at Lewistown. He consulted with parties interested in Juniata, Clinton and adjacent counties.

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSIONER CHARLES W. NEEDLE is standing by his guns on the subject of removals of employees which have been ordered.

DR. SPENCER TROTTER
ON Migrations of Animals
VEGETATION rather than climatic conditions has governed the migrations of animals, according to Dr. Spencer Trotter.

CLIMATE MILD at That Time
"AT that time, too, the climate was mild and there was a luxuriant vegetation, and consequently an abundant food supply."

EMIL P. ALBRECHT, president of the Board, has been named as chairman of the Pennsylvania delegation to the national rivers and harbors congress.

What Do You Know?
1. How long was Ferdinand a republic, and what was the Holy Alliance?
2. What is the middle name of Gilbert K. Chesterton?

Answers to Yesterday's Quiz
1. Articles of virtue are those interesting because of their workmanship, antiquity or rarity.

NOW MY IDEA IS THIS

Daily Talks With Thinking Philadelphians on Subjects They Know Best

Officially we are not concerned in what will be met January 19 for the discussion of German disarmament and reparations.

The Law of Adventure
In the manner, if not the spirit, of Robert W. Service
NOW this is the law of adventure and life which is down to the bone.

Strange Mammalian Fauna
"Prior to the Pleistocene time, during the several long periods of the Tertiary, a strange mammalian fauna inhabited North America."

Secretary Daniels' report to the Naval affairs committee suggests the probability that the world will continue to fight up until the last moment before concluding a peace pact.

The average man is still haunted by the activities of women. Though he has shown more willingness to deny her a right than to deny her a privilege, he is usually not either very long, but his mental attitude comes vocal in the statement, "The woman should never have been published."

THE STRENUOUS LIFE

SHORT CUTS

'D'Annunzio Has Chill.'—Headlines!
Mayor Moore is not idling in Florida. He is digging bait.
Secretary Daniels may now assure himself that he gave the army good advice.
Tammany's intent to investigate its shows symptoms of becoming half-hearted.